BRUSSELS, June 10.

THE Preamble of the Treaty concluded between the Courts of London and Versailles on the 1st of October 1763, is as follows.

In the Name of the most Christian King, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. Be it known to all whom it doth concern, That his most Christian Majesty and her Majesty the Empress Queen of Hungary and Bohemia having concluded a Convention or Act of Neutrality, which has this Day signed by their respective Ministers Plenipotentiary with a View to hinder the Flames of War to be kindled by the Differences between France and England about the Limits of their respective Possessions in America from spreading, and to the Harmony and good Understanding which happily subsists between their Majesties.

His most Christian Majesty and her Majesty the Empress Queen persisting in so salutary and desiring to strengthen more and more perpetuate the Bands of the most sincere Friendship and perfect Union, have thought it necessary to add to the above Neutrality a Treaty of Friendship and Union, purely defensive, and no Waying to the Prejudice of any other Power, the sole View of establishing Peace on a firm Foundation in their respective Kingdoms, states, and of contributing as much as lies in Power, to the maintaining of the general tranquillity. To this End his most Christian Majesty has named and authorized the most illustrious Lords Anthony Lewis Rouille, &c.

The first Article imports, that there shall be sincere and constant Friendship and Union between his most Christian Majesty and the Emperor of Hungary and Bohemia, their Heirs and Successors, Kingdoms, Estates, Provinces, Cities, Subjects and Vassals, without Exception.

By the second, the Treaty of Westphalia 1648, and all subsequent Treaties, particularly the aforesaid Convention of Neutrality and Treaty are renewed and confirmed.

By the third, the Empress Queen guarantees the French King's Dominions in Europe, and all Powers whatsoever, and for ever, the present War between France and England excepted.

By the fourth, the French King guarantees the Queen's Dominions without any Exception according to the Order of the Pragmatic Sanction.

By the fifth Article, the contracting Powers to employ in Concert their good Offices to prevent a threatened Invasion of the Dominions of either.

By the sixth, if either be attacked they shall to furnish a Succour of 24000 Men, the present War between France and England only excepted.

According to the seventh Article, this Army is to consist of 18000 Foot and 5000 Horse, to march in six Weeks after Request made by the Party attacked, or threatened, to an Invasion. These Forces are to be paid by the Party that furnishes them, and the other to furnish them Winter Quarters. But the Party to make the Requisition may make a Demand of Money as an Equivalent for the Troop which shall be paid Monthly after the Rate of 8000 rials of the Empire for each 1000 of Cavalry, and 24000 for each 1000 of Cavalry.

By the eighth Article, their Majesties themselves a Power of inviting in Concert Powers to take Part in the present Treaty, is purely defensive.

According to the ninth and last Article, Ratifications of this Treaty are to be made in six Weeks from the Time of its being signed. This Treaty was preceded by the
