WHEREAS Anne, the Wife of the Subscriber, of Cecil County, hath eloped from him: This is, therefore, to forewarn all Persons from trussing her, as he will pay no Debts of her contracting from the Date hereof. JOSEPH BASS.

THE following BOOKS being Lent to my Friends, some a longer and some a shorter Time, those who think it Time are requested to return them, the Proprietor being deprived of the Satisfaction of looking into them on Occasion, as well as of the Pleasure of obliging Others with their Perusal. Also he will be obliged to any Persons, who, finding any Book in their Possession, not here listed, with his Name prefix'd, shall send it home, and he will not murmur at the Expence of this Advertisement: Even though any of them should be much abused, according to Custom, they will yet be acceptable. To shew the Reasonableness of this Remark; I had not long ago return'd me the ART OF COOKERY, in such a Pickle, that one would imagine it had been several Times in the Pot to make Soup, as they use the Gulling-Bone in Galway. A LETTER from a Colonel, OFFICER who had just got a Commission in the ARMY.

My very dear Friend,

TAKE this first Opportunity my Promise, by laying before my Age and Experience judgment for your well-doing.

You are a Man of Property, list'd to fight the Cause of Freedom, MONARCH who has ever supported it a Soldier. You are one of those who God, the Life and Liberty of this Nation. Consider the Dignity of your Office. Consider the mighty Trust reposed in your Person, and it is scarcely possible for you to err in your Conduct.

I am positive as to your personal your Soul is humane and tender, and is not a Braggard; but as your Behaviour new Scene of Life is what I am proud of, your Good-nature will excuse a little, and attribute my Trite Maxims, Warmth of my Friendship, than to you may have for them.

To be an Officer, there is no Need inspired with supernatural Talents. and the Department of a Gentleman, The Knowledge of your Duty, and Art, will come with Time and Experience. Application to the Study, is the Love of the Soldiers is the Honour of an Officer; and to gain that Love, the Officer must be just, and easy. Pay and punish where necessary. Be free with your Men, not to be too free with you. An Officer bearing Temper, may indeed inspire Fear, but never with Affection.

Men, and they will respect you as a Father at the same Time, be careful of the Honour of Officers act in the family support their proper Authority, on which the Submission depends. Endeavour, as much as possible, to be Men clean and decent; it gives Spite, vents Drunkenness and Debauchery. their Meals, taste their Victuals, and to keep good Messes, and Improve them Remiss.

Be assiduous to learn the Exercise, and keep your Men diligent at it, to fatigue them unnecessarily. See that they obey your Commands, but be generous in trivial Matters. Believe me, never find out the Genius of their Officers never impose or play Tricks, when cannot do it with Impunity.

Make it a constant Rule to Observe and Chearfulness, every Order of such a Conduct will add to your Honour, confirm your Character. Slander and Scandal sometimes selves into Camps, and too frequently most Deserving. Let me beg of you, deaf Ear to evil Report, and not to be misled against any Man, much less Officers.

If an Officer need not have all Privy-Counsellor, he ought, at least Part that enjoins Secrecy: The Soldier's good: In a close Mouth, never Execute your Orders in Silence, most distant Hint, of the Conduct, escape from your Lips or your Tongue, know nothing particular, your mere Conjecture, and, in all wrong. Should a material Circumstance, your Knowledge, what Infamy disclosing it!
