H. CALLISTER, Agent for FOSTER CUNLIFFE and SONS, Esqrs. desires all Debtors to their Concern at Oxford, to make Payment in Cash or Tobacco, or in Wheat so long as he is willing to take it; and those who are not able to make immediate Payment, are desired to come and settle.

As he is conscious of having hitherto treated his Debtors with exemplary Lenity, notwithstanding the malicious Aspersions on his Character by a Set of abandon'd and ungrateful Wretches, whose desperate Circumstances constrain'd him to take the Steps necessary to secure the Interest he has Charge of, and such Aspersions have been with more Ill-Nature somented by others: As it must be evident to all dispassionate and discerning honest Men, that he has hitherto adhered to the strictest Rules of Humanity in collecting the Debts due to his Constituents, and given their Debtors the fairest and happiest Alternative in the Method of Payments that the Heart of an honest Man can desire, and which they cannot with Justice claim, having constantly given higher Prices to his Debtors than he could purchase for of others, and taking a losing Commodity; he is still Consistent, and will have all the Patience a reasonable Man can wish, on taking Bonds, or good Surety, where the Circumstances of the Debtor appear to him precarious. This he is induced to from the Consideration of the present Times bearing hard on many, and purely for their own Sakes, for he has had his Patience already tried and abused, and does not think himself obliged to suspend the Rigour of Justice. This, it is hoped, People will reflect upon, and alter their Conduct with regard to him.

He has still on Hand, a considerable Quantity of European and West-India GOODS, both old and fresh, which he will sell cheap for ready Tobacco, Cash, or Wheat.

By a private Mail from the Northward on Monday last, we have an Account of the Arrival at New York, on Friday the 15th Instant, of the Hal Packet Boat, in 53 Days from Falmouth, which has brought a great deal of Good and Impartial News, which we present our Readers, heartily congratulate them on the Occasion; hope shortly we shall be able to give them more of the same Sort, something nigher Home.

From the LONDON GAZETTE Extraordinary, dated Friday, May 30, 1757.

WHITE HALL, May 20, 1757.

LAST Night an Express arrived from General York, his Majesty's Minister Plenipotentiary at the Hague; with the following Account of the Victory obtained by the King of Prussia, the Austrian Army, on the 6th Instant, as received from Berlin, by M. de Hellen, his Prussian Majesty's Minister at the Hague.

B E R L I N, May 10, 1757.

YOU have been already apprized of the rapid Progress of the King's Arms in Bohemia, and I have now the Pleasure to inform you of the glorious event, with which it has pleased Heaven to crown those first Successes, in a complete Victory obtained by his Majesty, near Prague, the 6th Instant, over the whole combined Forces of the House of Austria.

The King having been informed, that Marshal Brown had been reinforced by the Army of Moravia, by the Remains of the Corps, which had been beat by the Prince of Bevern, and by several giments of the Garrison of Prague; and determined to maintain the Post he had taken on the other Side of the Moldau; his Majesty passed the River with a small Part of his own Army, and being joined by that under the Command of Marshal Schwerin, determined to attack the Enemy, much superior in Number of Troops, and posted besides, in a Camp almost inaccessible, from every Advantage of Situation. All these Obstacles could not check the Ardour of the Prussian Officers and Men, who vied with each other in passing the River in crossing Marshes, seizing the rising Ground, and clearing Ditches, till at length, after a long and obstinate Engagement, and many fine Examples of Valour, the Enemy was forced to abandon the Field of Battle, leaving behind the greatest Part of their Artillery, all their Troops, all their Baggage, and, in a Word, their whole Camp. We have indeed had a very affecting instance in the Person of Marshal Schwerin, who was fortunately killed in the Beginning of the Action, and in the Death of several others, who have shed their Blood on this Occasion, in the Service of their Country. But on the other Hand, the Loss of the Austrians has been so much the greater, not only in the Number of their Dead and Wounded, but also in the prodigious Number of Prisoners which we have taken; inasmuch that this may be reckoned decisive in every Sense, and in all Respects. The Enemy retired in the greatest Confusion, and a Part of their Left Wing fled the utmost Precipitation into Prague. The Prussian Troops are still in Pursuit of the Remains of the Army; and we have Reason to hope, that the Action will be no less glorious in its Consequence than it was in itself.

Such are the first Circumstances of this memorable Day, which the House of Austria will long remember, and which will ever be a signal Monument of the Intrepidity of the Prussian Troops, and above all, of the Protection with which Heaven continues to bless the Justice of his Majesty's Cause. Of the same Date. We this Moment have learnt, that the Number of Cannon taken from the Enemy, amounts already to 250 Pieces: A
