From THE GENTLEMAN'S MAGAZINE for

IT has been said of Creeds in Religion they have produced many Evils; but following political one, it agreed to by Englishmen, would be certainly produce much Good. Those who dissent from not worthy the Name of Englishmen; yet they of this Kingdom do, is but too well proved by such Means being pursued which only destroy that Harmony, without which our situation is nothing but Anarchy and Confusion should chuse to entitle it THE ENGLISH CREED; and, I hope, it will be no Offence does begin like that of St. Athanasius, who only to give it a greater Resemblance to Christian general.

WHOSOEVER will be reckoned a true Englishman, and a worthy Subject, must all Things stand up for the Constitution of England, which Constitution, except a Man pure whole and uncorrupted, without Doubt his will perish among his Children. AND the Constitution is Two-Fold, Church and State.

THE Church is the established hierarchy, government of our Ancestors, such as was established in our Land in the Days of Old.

HOWEVER we attribute not unto our Pastors divine Right and apostolical Succession, Forefathers did in the Days of Error; they to set themselves up as Lords over us.

THEY are the Ministers of the Gospel, and whilst they preach it to us in holy Meets, and in the Spirit of Peace, we ought to them, and follow their Instructions.

BUT farther their Power reacheth not so far for all their Power cometh from the Consent of the Nation, of which they are a Part.

AND they cannot compel any Man by force to believe as they believe, or to say as they say. Guidance of our Consciences is in God alone.

THEY may exhort to Salvation, but not to Violence may they use.

This is Christian Liberty, and the Liberty of Englishmen.

Now the State of this Realm consisteth of Lords, and Commons.

In the King resideth the executive Power, maketh no Laws; but he has a Fullness of Power to cause all Laws to be put in Force.

HE is the natural Judge of all Differences between Man and Man, and the Justice are his Courts.

HE is also the natural Defender of the Kingdoms committed to his Charge; therefore, if he alone he may declare War, and agree Peace with the Enemies of this Land; and Government of the Armies by Sea and Land, also vested in him.

WE are all bound to assist him, in the Execution of his high Commands, tending to the Benefit of the Nation. He is our common Father, our Father, and our Preserver.

AND the Power he has is good and necessary, without it we should be striving for Power ourselves.

BUT our Obedience unto him is to be voluntary. We must not disobey the natural Laws of the Realm to execute his Commands, or the Commands of his Officers.

OUR King is not a King of Slaves, but a King of FREEMEN.

ALL Power is granted him for the Protection of his Realms, and of his Subjects: But the Liberties of his own Will are not as the Liberties of a Slave.

AMONG the Nations there are who acknowledge not a Right in our King, to dispose of the Fortunes and Lives of his Subjects, at his Pleasure.
