PHILADELPHIA, November 16. The last Account we have of General Forbes is, that on the 30th ult. he was at Stony Creek, on his Way to Loyal Hanning. A Letter from Loyal Hanning, dated the 25th of October, mentions more of their Artillery being safe arrived there from Ray's Town, and that they expected to march for Fort Duquesne in a few Days.

CONFERENCE were carried on with great solemnity. The Indians solemnly promised to release the English Prisoners. A Message was sent to the Ohio Indians, accompanied by two Officers, a Chief of the Confederates, and other Indians, informing them what had passed at this Treaty, and inviting them to attend. And Peace was solemnly ratified by a large Peace Belt, which was delivered by the two Governors to the Confederate Chiefs, and by them handed round to all the Indians present. In the Course of this Treaty, his Excellency our Governor insisted all Indians that had pretended to have any Claim of Lands in the Province of New-Jersey, except English or private Rights, and Release thereof were executed and acknowledged in the Presence of several of the Chiefs of the Confederate Nations, who attended the same, and were afterwards published in open Council: And his Excellency Governor Bernard gave a large Belt to the Confederate Chiefs, to be a perpetual Memorial, that the Province of New-Jersey was now wholly discharged from all Indian Claims.

Tuesday last Capt. Gibbon arrived here. He was Passenger in the Ship Kingston, Capt. Bendall, from Jamaica for this Port, and informs us, that said Vessel was taken the third Instant, by the French Frigate off the Capes, ransomed for Two Thousand Pounds Sterling, and soon after lost on Chinkoteague Shoals, but Part of the Cargo saved: That a Snow was lost near the same Place, believed to be Capt. Condy, from Boston for this Port: That Captain Bendall made the 17th Prize the Frenchman had taken on this Coast; and when he left the Frigate, a Sail hove in Sight, which, in all Probability, would soon be brought to, as the Ship sails very fast; and it was thought she would cruise on our Capes, till she got one or two Flour Vessels.

From Jamaica there is Advice, that Captain Falkner, in a 20 Gun Ship, has taken and carried in there, the Frigate that had the bloody Engagement with the Britannia Privateer, Capt. M'Pherson, of this Place; two other French Ships, and a Dutchman, all richly laden from the Cape: That many other Prizes had also been sent in, among which several Dutchmen, and all condemned: That the Captains Daille and Gardner, from hence, were arrived at that Island: That Captain Daille, on his Passage, on the 7th of July, in Latitude 22. 52 took a Sugar Vessel, but for want of Hands to man her, was obliged to let her go: That on the 13th, in the Night, between Hispaniola and Henesga, he fell in with a very large French Ship, brought her to, and ordered the Captain on board, threatening to sink him, if he did not; which the dastardly Frenchman complied with, tho' he mounted 24 Guns, and had above 50 Hands; but Capt. Daille, after knowing his strength, very prudently sent the French Captain, with 12 of his Hands he had brought with him, back to his Vessel again, and made all the Sail he could from her. And that off the East End of Jamaica he was chased by a French Privateer, but in his making ready to receive her, she sheered off. Captain Daille had but 13 Hands on board, and mounted only six small Guns.

From Providence we learn, that the Recovery Privateer, of that Port, has taken, and carried in there, a French Privateer, of eight Guns; also a French Polacco, from Old France for the West-Indies, with a valuable Cargo on board. We have Advice from New-York, that on the second Instant two Families were attacked in Ulster County by the Indians, about twelve or fourteen Miles from Hudson's River, and in a thick settled Part of the Country, when they murdered them, excepting one Person, who escaped.
