I HAVE now the Pleasure that I have received the Most Gracious King, your Majesty's Welfare and lasting Prosperity, relative to the approaching Campaign, by Letter of the 9th of December, from the Right Secretary PITT; signifying that having nothing so much at Heart, as the great and important Advantage of the Campaign, as well as to repair the Ruins of Ticonderoga, and by the most vigorous Efforts, to avert, by the British Arms, all Dangers which may threaten America, from any future Interruption. And that the King, not doubt, faithful and brave Subjects here, co-operate with, and second, the large Expence and extraordinary Services by Great Britain for their Protection; and his Majesty's consideration of the Provinces in particular, from the necessity of Situation, more adjacent to the main Interruptions of the Trade, are of themselves well able to furnish Twenty Thousand Men, to join the British Forces, for invading Canada, War into the Heart of the Empire, and his Majesty not judging it the Zeal and Ardour of any of the Colonies, to make a Reparation of the Force each respectively, for this most important Service, it is his Majesty's Pleasure, that with use my utmost Endeavours to support, to raise, with all possible Assistance from the Government, as large a Body of Men, as the last Year, and even as many as the Number of its Inhabitants may be able to furnish, and to hold them in readiness, as early as may be, to march wherever his Majesty's Command in North-America shall appoint. And from thence, in Conjunction with the King's British Forces, and under the Command of his Majesty's Commander in Chief, to be in a Situation to execute the Operations of the Campaign, as far as may be necessary, without attempting to make an Interruption of the Trade, and according to such Instructions as his Majesty's Commander in Chief shall direct. And the better to facilitate the Service, the King is pleased to issue Commissions to such Gentlemen, as I shall judge, from their Situation with the People, and their Zeal and Service, may be best disposed to be under a due Subordination, to his Majesty's Commander in Chief, and high as Colonels, inclusive, for the present, are to have Rank according to their respective Commissions, agreeable to the Contents in his Majesty's Warrant of the 20th of December, 1757.
