THE MARYLAND GAZETTE,

[Numb. 748.]

Containing the freshest Advices foreign and domestic.

THURSDAY, September 6, 1759.

NEW-YORK, August 27.
Yesterday Evening the Earl of Leicester Packet-Boat, Captain BOULDERSON, arrived here in five Weeks from Falmouth; from the Papers brought by him, we have collected the following Paragraphs, viz.
FROM THE LONDON GAZETTE.
Extract of a Letter from Admiral RODNEY, to Mr. CLEVEL-LAND, dated on board his Majesty's Ship Achilles, of HAVRE DE GRACE, July 6, 1759.

HIS Majesty's Ships and Bombs under my Command sailed from St. Helens in the Morning of the 2d Instant, and with a favourable Wind and moderate Weather anchored the following Day in the great Road of HAVRE, where having made a Disposition to put their Lordship's Orders in Execution, the Bombs proceeded to place themselves in the narrow Channel of the River leading to Harfleur, it being the most proper and only Place to do Execution from. About seven in the Evening two of the Bombs were stationed, as were all the rest early next Morning, and continued to bombard Fifty-two Hours without Intermission, with such Success, that the Town was several Times in Flames, and their Magazine of Stores for the flat-bottom'd Boats burnt with great Fury for upwards of Six Hours, notwithstanding the continual Efforts of several Hundred Men to extinguish it. Many of the Boats were overturn'd and damaged by the Explosion of the Shells.
During the Attack the Enemy's Troops appeared very numerous, were continually erecting new Batteries, and throwing up Entrenchments: Their Conformation was so great, that all the Inhabitants foresook the Town.
Notwithstanding this smart Bombardment, I have the Pleasure to acquaint you, that the Damage done us by the Enemy is very inconsiderable, though great Numbers of their Shot and Shells fell and burst among the Bombs and Boats.

Paris, June 5. The Naval Armament carrying on at Brest is near ready, as it is likewise that at Havre de Grace; and it is said that the intended Expedition will be ready to be put in Execution by the 20th of next Month. We are informed, from good Hands, that the young Pretender is actually in this Kingdom.
Hamburg, June 25. They write from Bohemia, that Marshal Daun is upon the Point of changing his Situation, the Prussian Camp at Landshut being impregnable and surrounded by 500 Pieces of Cannon; that he is therefore going to penetrate thro' Lusatia in Saxony, and only waits the return of General Springer, who went to the Russian Army to consult with the Generals, that they may all act in Concert.

Hamburg, June 26. We hear that a French Detachment has entered Gortingham; and that the Archives of the Electorate of Hanover are removing from the City of that Name to Stade.
Ratisbon, June 28. The French Minister to the Diet has declared, by Order of his Court, that his Most Christian Majesty's Troops will treat the Country of Hesse in the same Manner as the Prussians have treated the Dutchesa of Saxony and Mecklenbourg, and that Hanover must not expect better Usage.
Berlin, June 26. According to the last Accounts from the King's Army, the Motions made for some Days in that of M. Daun, gave Ground to think, that finding it impossible to penetrate into Silesia by the Country of Glatz, he would endeavour to open a Passage to it by the Upper Lusatia, towards which he hath already caused a Body of Troops to file off.

Hamburg, June 26. It is reported that the Prussian Major-General Malschowsky having, with his Regiment of Hussars, attacked a Body of 1000 Cossacks, near Crampow, put many of them to the sword, and made the rest Prisoners, but was himself dangerously wounded.
Paris, June 29. M. de Conflans set out Yesterday to take the Command of the Fleet.

The present Armament is certainly very formidable. They are near 50,000 Land Forces, who are to be transported in 200 flat-bottom'd Boats, escorted and defended by 29 Ships of the Line, besides 150 other Boats laden with warlike Stores and Provisions for 4 Months; 6 Bomb Vessels and 4 Fireships; and it is thought that by the 20th of next Month at farthest, M. de Chevert will be in a Condition to execute the Designs of our Court against England. Notwithstanding all the Reasonings of the Public, it is still uncertain whether the Thing will End in a Defeat on England, or in some Operation of a different Nature.

Paris, July 2. The Household Troops, together with 60 Men out of every Company of the several other Regiments, are ordered to repair to Brest, and to embark on board the Fleet getting ready there.
From the Oder, June 27. In Consequence of Count Dohna's Manifestoes, the Poles have brought to the Prussian Camp Quantities of Provisions; but at the same Time they signify'd, that both Forage and Grain were scarce. Our Army however can be supplied elsewhere; but if the Russians bring not Provisions with them they cannot long subsist at Pofania. The main Body of General Dohna's Army arrived Yesterday in the Neighbourhood of Schwierin.

Hanover, July 6. By all Prince Ferdinand's Motions, it is judged he designs to dispute his Ground with the French all the King of Prussia has effected the Diversion in his Favor, which 'tis said, his Majesty hath promised. Our Army is at present encamped between Mariensfeld and the Village of Harfswinkel; and that under Marshal de Contades occupies the Country of Rittberg. The Duke de Broglie is marching with the Reserve to Hamelen; into which Place two Regiments of Foot and one of Dragoons have been thrown; the Streets are likewise unpar'd, the Sluices broke up, by which Means all round it is laid under Water, and to prevent the French from bringing up their Artillery, the Bridges and Causeways are destroyed.

Hague, July 10. They write from Silesia that the King of Prussia is at last in Motion; and that on the first Advice of his March, Marshal Daun thought proper to retire Berlin, July 3. While the Russians were advancing towards Silesia and Brandenburg, it was thought here the Austrians would have taken that Opportunity to penetrate into the former of those Provinces; but we hear they are gone a different Rout, a Body of their Troops marching towards Aicha, and their main Army towards Jung Buntelau.
According to the same Advices, General Laudohn, with the Troops under his Command, was posted in the Neighbourhood of Profnitz, and General Harsch continued at Jaromitz, but the Corps under the Marquis de Ville had turned off towards Weydenau.

We are informed that our Troops took the Post of Schatzlar in Bohemia the 29th of last Month, and made Prisoners 200 Pandours and Hussars, and that the advanced Guard of our Army was advanced the 30th Instant as far as Trantenau.
The Army commanded by General Dohna decamp'd from Schwertin the 26th ult. and directing it's March along the Wartzb, arrived the 29th at Wroneke. Upon the Approach of our Army, the Russian Generals called in the several Detachments they had sent towards our Frontiers, and are entrenching themselves more and more in their Camp under Pofen, which is by it's Situation extremely strong, having both the City and the River Warta at the Back of it.

Paris, July 2. Marshal Conflans did not set out for Brest till the 28th of last Month. The Men of War equipped in that Port have been in the Road this Fortnight past, excepting the Royal Sun, on board of which the Marshal is to hoist his Flag. His Fleet is to be reinforced by the Palmier and the Enterprenant of 64 Guns each, fitted out at Rochfort.

Verfailles, July 2. The Toulon Squadron consists of 14 Ships of the Line, and is to be commanded by M. de la Clue.
It is to sail about the 15th Instant, and venture every Thing to get thro' the Streights. The Junction of our Fleets from the several Ports is the most difficult Part of our Plan; nevertheless we are in no doubt of effecting it.

Vienna, June 30. The Court has received Advice that Marshal Daun has at length broke up his Camp at Schurtz, and is marching towards Upper Lusatia. It was always a Matter of Doubt whether he would begin his Operations on the Side of Lower Silesia, because it was hardly possible for him to penetrate into that Province thro' the Principality of Schweidnitz, while the King of Prussia was Master of all the Passes there. The King was sensible of the Advantage of this Situation, but the Marshal was not less so, and therefore remained quiet till the Russians arrived upon the Frontiers of Silesia. Our Inactivity is now at an End, and a very short Space of Time will probably produce great Events.

Amsterdam, July 12. As the French advance the Allies continue to retire. The Troops under General Wangelheim, which, after quitting their advantageous Camp at Dulmen, marched to Munster, soon quitted their Position under the Cannon of that Place, to join Prince Ferdinand, who is retired with all his Troops to Osnaburg.

The Troops under M. de Armentieres arrived before Munster the 8th. The Place was inventer'd in Form the Day following. The Garrison consists of about 300 Men, under General Zaffrow. The French have already made themselves Masters of a Redoubt, and made Prisoners those who defended it. The Duke de Broglie with the Reserve is at Hervorden.

The Allies have left 4000 Men in Lipstadt.
Paris, July 6. The 47 Ships armed at Bourdeaux for the King's Service, have received a List of the Troops they are to take on board; the smallest of them will carry 200 Men and about 20 Officers.

Paris, June 30. Our Advices from the East-Indies are very favourable; and indeed we have Need of some good News, to take off a little of the Bitterness of such as we have received from the West-Indies. We have lost Guada-loupe as unfortunately as the Royal Isle. Our Disgraces are brought upon us by Fatalities which have physical Causes, and which it behoves the Government to probe to the Bottom.

Toulon, June 23. The English have no Reason to be pleas'd with their Attack on our Batteries on the 6th. It is said that the Captain of the Jersey was killed. Several dead Bodies have been thrown ashore, among whom we can distinguish some Officers. We have recovered three Anchors and three Cables which they were oblig'd to cut away that Day. Two of them weigh 68 Cwt. and the other 64 Cwt.
They have on them the Names of Jersey and the Guernsey of 70 Guns, and the Conqueror of 60. They have been carried to our Arsenal. The English Fleet, to the Number of 21 Sail, has appear'd again.

Hanover, June 26. Fifteen Hundred Men are employ'd in fortifying Hamelen on the Model of the best Fortification in Europe. We are assur'd that the heavy Artillery, and the Hospital of our Troops, are removing from Munster to Osnaburg; that the Generals of the Allied Army were of Opinion, that all the different Corps, wheresoever dispersed, should be re-united, that they might be able to present a Front with the Enemy in the open Field. This Re-union, which perhaps is more desirable than practicable, would at least stop the Progress of the French, since the Army of Prince Ferdinand is reckon'd at 75,000 fighting Men, of which 35,000 are Hanoverians, 20,000 Hessians, 7,000 Brunswickers, 8,000 English, 2,000 Prussians, and 2,400 of the Troops of Buckeburg and Saxe-Gotha.

LONDON.
July 7. When Admiral Rodney came before Havre-de-Grace, it is said he very civilly desired the Governor to deliver up the flat-bottom'd Boats, and upon this Consideration he would spare the Town; but the Governor not daring to comply with this reasonable Request (as Orders could not be immediately had from Versailles) the Bombardment began forthwith.

In a private Letter from Havre, dated June 14, we have the following Description of the French flat-bottom'd Boats, which are all alike:
A twelve Pounder, Bow-chafe; an 18 Ditto, Sternchafe; 90 to 100 Feet Keel; 22 to 24 Ditto Beam; one Mast; a large square Main-sail; a jibb-sail; they are rowed by 18 or 20 Oars, and are each to carry 400 Men. The Gun takes up one Bow, and a Bridge the other, over which the Troops are to march. Those that carry Horfes have the fore Parts of the Boats made to open, when they are to mount, and ride over the Bridge.

Yesterday Nathaniel Jones, of the Middle Temple, Esq; Barriester at Law, kiss'd his Majesty's Hand, on his being appointed Chief Justice of New-Jersey, in America.
July 10. On Sunday Morning Admiral Rodney, with the Fleet under his Command, arriv'd at Spithead from Havre de Grace. We hear that he has reduced the greatest Part of the Town of Havre de Grace to Ashes, and destroyed most of the flat-bottom'd Boats, except those that were dragged out of the Reach of the Bombs; that he has burnt a large Magazine of Wood, and done other considerable Damage; and that during the Bombardment they expended 1900 Shells, and 1150 Carcases. His Ships are very much dan-ger'd, having received a continual Fire from the Batteries and Forts, but happily he lost very few of his Men.

The Duke and Montague Men of War are sail'd from Plymouth to join Sir Edward Hawke in the Bay.
Captain Pollard, of the Two Sisters, arriv'd Yesterday Se'nnight at Liverpool from Harfleur, where he landed his Cargo of Tobacco, design'd for Havre de Grace, the French Court not permitting any English Vessels to go into that Port.
When he left Harfleur, the Pilot brought him close in with Havre, where he could see from the Mast-head, two Men of War on the Stocks, and between 30 and 140 flat-bottom'd Boats uncovered, which must require a long Time before they could be compleated. He was 9 Days on his Passage, and left an English 60 Gun Ship, two Frigates, and two Cutters, cruising off the Harbour of Havre.

July 12. By the last Advices from Prince Ferdinand's Army, it was encamp'd betwix Rittberg and Horn, and his Highness, it was said, was determin'd to bring on an Action with the French, before they got Possession of Hanover; for which Purpose he had call'd in all his Detachments, and his Army consist'd of upwards of 50,000 Men.
The same Advices inform us, that Marshal Contades seemed determin'd to press forward; and that while he was endeavouring to force his Passage to Hanover by the Way of Paderbourn, Marshal Broglie was attempting the same by the Way of Grubenhagen.

Admiral Rodney is certainly going out again on the French Coast as soon as possible, and with him the chief Engineer of the Train of Artillery, and an additional Number of Bombs.

A private Letter, by the Flanders Mail, says, that the advanced Guard of Count Dohna's Army has had an Engagement with a large Party of the Russians near Pofna, and that the latter were entirely defeated.

We hear that the Forces and the Militia are so stationed, in the Counties contiguous to the Sea, that upwards of 50,000 can be got together in a few Days.

It is reported, that in case of any Disturbance from the Enemy, his Majesty in Person will command the Grand Army, which is going to be encamp'd in several Corps.

Letters from Pofen, of the 16th past, import, that the Prussians, under the Generals Dohna and Hulsen, join'd the 24th past at Meseritz, in Poland, and were advancing towards the Russians, who were entrench'd not far from that Place. A Number of Poles has join'd the Prussians.

We hear that the Army of the Allies is to be augmented to 80,000 Men, from Prussia and Brandenburg, and that they are to act against the French in separate Bodies, but to be at band to join occasionally, should a general Engagement ensue; this System having, it is said, been approv'd of by his Prussian Majesty.

The Number of flat-bottom'd Boats said to be destroyed at Havre-de-Grace, is as follows: Six quite finish'd, 42 half built, and 83 rbb'd.
Several flat-bottom'd Boats are building in the private Yards round Portsmouth.
Thursday Admiral Rodney waited on his Majesty at Kennington, and was most graciously received.
Some Letters from Portsmouth say, that an extraordinary
