LONDON, Odeber 30.

Translation of a Letter from a Gentleman at Hanover to bis Friend at London, dated Hanover, Off. 12.

F ever the French Troops, in contempt of the Laws of War, gave the Lie to their Nation's Boaft of furpaffing all Europe in Humanity, it was on occasion of the Retreat or Flight which they were forced to make after the memorable Battle of Minden or Tonhausen.

was on occasion of the Retreat or Flight which they were forced to make after the memorable Battle of Minden or Tonhausen.

The greatest Part of the Principalities of Calenberg, Gottengen, and Grubenhagen, will bear, for many Years, the melancholy Marks of the Violences committed by the French Troops; which shew too plainly what the King's other German Dominiens would have suffered, had not Providence employed the unparalelled Valour and Mighty Arm of the worthy Prince Ferdinand of Brunswick, and the Troops under his Command, to hinder the Execution of Instructions given by a Minister Respectable for his Rank and for his Years; but highly to be Blamed for his Sentiments of Inhumanity; Proofs of which have fallen into the Hands of those, whose Country, according to him, was to be made a Desert. But let us come to the Fact, or rather to the Facts, the recital of which makes my Hair stand an End; I should be inclined to question the Truth of them, if I had not made the strictest Enquiry into it.

To constrain the Inhabitants, on their Rout, to surnish all the Provisions they had in their Houses without leaving any for the substitute of themselves and their cattle, would have been, in some measure, excusable in an Army, which after Iosing a Battle and a great Part of it's Baggage, was retiring precipitately, having at it's heels the brave Hereditary Prince of Brunswick, the quardian Angel of the poor People whose Lives and Effects were heavily threatned.

To burn what was not used, and to search, for that end, the Vaults, Graineries, and Fields, is but little in comparison of the Cruelty of those Runaways, in forcing the Inhabitants, without regard to Age, by Beating them with Sticks, by Blows with Swords, Bayonets, and Muskets, and even by such Tortures as are employed only to condemned Malefactors put to the question, to declare whether they had any Money, and where it was hid.

To pillage and take away all they could carry; to destroy the rest; to set Fire to Towns as well as Villages, and to drive away, wound, and Entreaties, from the Brutality of a fugitive Enemy witheut discipline.

These, Sir, are exploits of which I could give you a melancholy detail; mentioning the Place and Persons who have been thus Treated: But the length of my Letter would fatigue you, and the Subject would be too much for your Humanity. We must do the justice to some Officers, in whose presence the like violences were attempted, to acknowledge, that they were at great pains to curb the licentiousness of the Men under their Command; but those Gentlemen were very sew in Number: Many others discovered great indifference at the fight of these abominable Scenes, or shewed by their Looks and Behaviour that they did not disapprove them.

Don't imagine, Sir, that this mal-treatment was confined so the common People: No, Persons of Distinction were not spared.

Don't imagine, Sir, that this mal-treatment was confined to the common People: No, Persons of Distinction were not spared.

At Hastenbeck, a Lady of Quality received many Blows with a Stick after she had herself opened all her Bureaus, which they pillaged, as well as her whole House; and she would certainly have been lest Dead on the spot, with all her Family, had not an Officer interposed.—The Magistrates of some Towas being unable to procure the enormous Quantity of Provisions and Forage which was demanded, were bound with Ropes and carried to the Market Place, and there thrownon Straw, and beat so unmercisfully that some of them will be Lame as long as they live.

The first Magistrates of Gottingen (in which Town an Advocate, a Burgher, and a Woman with Child, were killed wout of mere wantonness, in the public Street, without having given any Offence) suffered the grossest Assertion of the Apattments where the Magistrates hold their Assembless. What they made Colonel Landsberg and Major General Hugo Inster, would put even the most brutal Troops to the Blush. Both are Veterans, who have lived many Years retired in the Country, with a Pension from the King. But this did not hinder the first from being treated in a most shocking Manner; to personal Insults they added the Barbarity of Robbing him of all his Money. Furniture, Linen, and Cloaths; insumer; to personal Insults they added the Barbarity of Robbing him of all his Money. The personal himsunesses have a personal h

Could you imagine, Sir, that with all this, the Troops who had rendered themselves odious by so many Acts of cruelty, should carry their Gallanty so far as to employ the Protection of the fair Sex. What happen'd at Hachmuler in the Bailiwic of Springe, will prove and explain what I mean. A Body of the King's Hunters having come up with a Body of French Troops near a Village, and being on the Point of charging them, the latter carried off from the Village a Reinforcement of Women and Maids, whom they placed in their first Rank, whether is was to excite the Humanity and Complaisance of the Hunters, or to give a Turn to the Action of which they feared the lifue.

The Ready Moncy extorted by the Runaways, and the value of the other Things which they carried off and destroyed, amount to Immense Sums.—But I will not enlarge on this Head; and shall end this faithful Narrative, supported by incontestable Proofs, without adding any of those Restections which your good Sense and Probity will easily suggest.

Amids the unseigned Grief with which I am overwhelmed for the sufferings of a multitude of my Countrymen, I ever remain, your, &c."

From a late BOSTON Paper. SIR,

THE Gentlemen who had proposed to amuse themselves, and their Friends, by the Representation of a PLAY, wish the wise Men of Boston to understand, that the Piece they had made Choice of for that Purpose, was, Mr. Addison's CATO; and that they are very forry they should have been suspected to be promoters of Vice, Impiety, Immorality, &c. And as it was intended to have been introduced by the Original Prologue, a little alter'd, to adapt it to the Times, I fend you a Copy thereof to insert in your next Paper.

PROLOGUE to CATO, intended to be spoke in the Character of an Officer of the Army.
