Little or notifing was done between the Conclusion of the Price, and the breaking out of the prefent War, towards carrying into Execution this fresh Promise. On the contrary, the enlarging of the Fortifications of Burling, is mentioned in his M. left's Declaration of War, three Years ago, as one of the freh Heads or Injury offered to England. And who ever reflects upon the Francetons, tince that Period, will tree that During to reflored to its original Importance. BRUSSELS, April 3. IGHTEEN Battalions and Twenty-two E Squadrons of French Troops are foon expected to pass through this City, on their March to the Army of the most Christian King in Ger-

Ne orderg, April 4. On the first of this Month the e passed by this Town a Train of Artillery, confilling of 24 Pieces of large Cannon, with 20 Waggons, laden with Ammunition, going to the A:my of the Empire.

Pateriorn, April 8. The Army is greatly increated within this Week past: the Regiments are complete; the Artillery is in fine Order; and the Magazines are all formed. By the present Dispofition of our Forces, we are perfectly secure from any Attempts of the French; who gave out, some Days ago, that their Intention was to give us Bat-tle before the Arrival of the British Troops. We had some Apprehensions of their Design, by the different Parties sent out by Marihal Broglio to reconnoitre our Chain, and this occasioned Prince Ferdinand to alter our Situation; but we have neither teen nor heard any thing further of them for these eight Days past. The Army will doubtless take the Field the Beginning of next Month.

i courses, April 10. Since the Marshal Duke de Proglio has brought back the Troops into their Quarters, we no longer doubt of the Superiority of the King's Armies for the approaching Campaign. This General would not have given Campaign. this Demonstration of being secure, had he not been certain that the Enemy could not surprise him offensively. The Castle of Marpourg, we are asserted, will be the Object of the first Operation.

Hagar. April 12. We do not hear that France and her Allies have as yet made any Overtures whereen to found a Suspension of Arms, and much bels a Treaty, as is usual in Cases of this Nature,

LONDON, April 21.

Some Letters which came by the Spanish Mail advise, that the Count de Feuentes, the Ambassador appointed by his Catholic Majesty to the Court of Great-Britain, was ready to fet out for London the 16th of last Month.

By a Gentleman lately arrived from Leipsic we are informed, that the King of Prussia's Armies are actually -0,000 Men stronger than when the War broke out; that the King had personally reviewed every Regiment in the Army in Saxony; and finding ieveral Lads too young to bear Arms, he ordered them to be discharged for two Years longer: The faid Gentleman farther adds, that the People of Silen have declared their unanimous Resolution of adhering to his Majesty's Interest, and their utter Abhorrence of the Austrian Government.

April 23. There not being any Prospect of Employment for a formidable Fleet in Quiberon Bay, some of the Ships of that Command have received Orders to cruize in the Ocean; and Sir John Bentley, in the Waripite, with a dying Squadron, is directed to look into the Road of Bafque. Remainder of the Ships spread such a Distance, that very little coasting Trade can be carried on. The very Soldiers have been taken, going from the Main to the Islands, to relieve those who were fick.

We hear that the Minerva, one of our Frigates, cruizing to the Westward, having chaced a French Privateer, in a fresh Gale, the Frenchman overset, and went to the Bottom.

Yesterday a Petition was, by the Honourable Captain Shirley, and the Honourable and Reverend which this Nation may fuller from its Re-establishment. | before the Meeting of a Congress: In all Likeli | Mr. Shirley, presented to his Majesty in favour of nument for the late General Wolfe, which will foon be put up in Westminster Abbey.

April 25. We hear that the late Sentence of the Court-Martial, has been confirmed by his Majesty, when he was pleased to fignify, that it was his Pleasure, that the said Sentence should be given out in public Orders; " That no Officer, of ever fo high Birth or Employment, can be screened from Punishment for such Offences; which, to " a Man that has any Sense of Honour, must be worse than Death, that all Officers in his Ma-jesty's Service may avoid Punishment arising from Disobedience of Orders."

We hear that ten more Regiments of Foot are ordered to be in Readiness to march at a front Notice, in order to embark for Germany, besides those before appointed to go; and that some more Horse will likewise be sent.

The Cloathing for the Irish Carabineers will be delivered to them in three or four Days, after which they will be reviewed by General Ligonier, and then embark for Germany.

Orders are given for eight Regiments, and four Battalions of the Foot-Guards to be in Readiness at an Hour's Notice, to embark for the Isle of Wight, and form a Camp there, that they may embark from thence in a Body, Transports for receiving them being already provided.

A Bargeman of Beskow, tix or seven Leagues from Francfort on the Oder, who was a Spy for the Russians, has been taken up and sent to Goal Three more Spies have been taken up in France, two at Breft, and one at Port l'Orient.

Several cruizing Vessels of War are fitting out to be stationed in the West-Indies, to protest the Trade of our Colonies in those Parts.
