Lisbon. About Five the next Morning, the whole Army assembled, and formed on the Heights near Corbeke. The Hereditary Prince was, at this Time, marching in two Columns, in order to turn the Enemy's left Flank; which he did, by marching to Donhelbourg, leaving Klein-Eder on his Left, and forming in two Lines, with his Left towards Doffel, and his Right near Grimbeck, opposite to the left Flank of the Enemy, whose Position was, with the Left to the high Hill near Ollendorff, and their Right to Warbourg, into which Place they had rung Fischer's Corps. The Hereditary Prince immediately attacked the Enemy's Flank; and, after a very sharp Dispute, obliged them to give way; and, by a continual Fire, kept forcing them to fall back upon Warbourg. The Army was, at this Time, marching with the greatest Diligence to attack the Enemy in Front; but the Infantry could not get up in Time; General Waldegrave, at the Head of the British, pressed their March as much as possible; no Troops could shew more Eagerness to get up, than they showed. Many of the Men, from the Heat of the Weather, and over-straining themselves to get on, through morassy and very difficult Ground, suddenly dropped down on their March.

General Moulton, who was at the British Cavalry that was formed on the Right of our Infantry, on the other Side of a large Wood, upon receiving the Duke's Orders to come up with the Cavalry as fast as possible, made so much Expedition, bringing them up at a full Trot, though the Distance was near five Miles, that the British Cavalry had the Happiness to arrive in Time, to share the Glory of the Day, having successfully charged, several Times, both the Enemy's Cavalry and Infantry.

I should do Injustice to the General Officers, to every Officer and private Man, of the Cavalry, if I did not beg your Lordship would assure his Majesty, that nothing could exceed their gallant Behaviour on that Occasion.

Captain Phillips made so much Expedition with his Cannon, as to have an Opportunity, by a severe Cannonade, to oblige those who had passed the Dymel, and were formed on the other Side, to retire with the utmost Precipitation.

I received his Serene Highness's Orders Yesterday in the Evening, to pass the River after them, with the 12 British Battalions, and 10 Squadrons; and am now encamped upon the Heights of Wilda, about four Miles from Warbourg, on the Heights of which their grand Army is encamped.

M. de Mui is now retiring from the Heights of Volkmeissen, where he lay under Arms last Night, towards Wollshagen. I cannot give your Lordship an Account of the Lots on either Side. Captain Faucitt, whom I send off with this, shall get all the Intelligence he can upon this Head before he sets off. I am, &c. GRANBY.

P. S. Saturday Morning Six o'Clock. As I had not an Opportunity of sending off Captain Faucitt so soon as I intended, I opened my Letter to acquaint your Lordship, that I have just joined the grand Army with my Detachment.

Rome, July 5. The Minister of Portugal having demanded an Audience of the Pope, the 2d Instant, it was refused him, because a Courier arrived a few Hours before from Cardinal Acciaoli, with Advice, that he had been obliged to leave Lisbon. Soon after another Courier arrived at the House of the Portuguese Minister, who immediately ordered all the Portuguese to quit Rome. It is computed there are 2000 of them in this City.

Cardinal Corsini having undertaken to compromise Matters, the Minister, and all that are dependent on the Crown of Portugal, are not yet set out; and Yesterday Morning a Courier was sent away to Lisbon with a Plan of Accommodation. In the mean Time it is agreed that the Portuguese shall suspend their Departure from hence for three Months. The Neapolitan Troops still encamp on the Confines of the Ecclesiastical State, and the King of Sardinia's Army is encamped on the Banks of the Po.

Hamburg, July 11. All our Vessels which were detained in the Ports of France have been released.

Constantinople, June 18. The Plague has not been at Aleppo for 12 Years; at present it carries off every third Person. This is not the only Calamity which that City labours under. Numerous Gangs of Villains infest its Neighbourhood, who rob and murder all that come in their Way. The Bassa's Lieutenant being sent in Pursuit of them with his Troops, they defeated him, and took him Prisoner, and after cutting off his Ears and Nose, sent him back to Aleppo. According to Letters from Smyrna of the 10th of June, the Plague makes equal Havock in that City. All the Europeans of Fortune have fled to the Country.

Stuttgart, the Capital of Wirtemberg, July 23. Our Troops began to be in Motion this Day. A Body of 12,000 Foot and Horse, with a Train of 40 Pieces of Cannon, will march through the Countries of Hohenlohe, Anspach, and Wurtemberg, into Saxony. They are to act as a separate Corps, under the Command of the Duke our Sovereign, who heads them himself, in Support of the common Cause, at his own private Expence.

Hannover, August 14. The Garrison of Osnabrug being composed only of Invalids, was ordered to evacuate that Place, and the French have accordingly taken Possession of it. A Detachment of the Garrison of Wesel has also taken Possession of the County of Bentheim, after seizing the Cattle, where they took 70 Prisoners.

Things have been pretty quiet upon our Frontiers since General Luckner obliged the French to retire from Eimbeck. The Enemy's Troops and ours alternately occupy Nordheim. Our Hunters Yesterday attacked a Detachment of the Enemy near Nordheim, dispersed them, and took 300 Prisoners, with 10 Officers. The Corps de Reserve under the Command of Prince Xavierus of Saxony, retreated the 6th Instant, as far as Addelespen, near Munden.

Prince Ferdinand's Head Quarters at Warbourg, August 12. After the Defeat of the Corps commanded by M. de Mui the 31st of July near Warbourg, the Remains of which fled to Corbach, Marshal Broglio came and encamped with the main Army opposite Warbourg, with his Head Quarters at Oberlilling. M. de St. Victor, with 2000 Volunteers, was posted in the Wood of Sallabourg, which fills up the Corner formed by the Dymel and the Weser. Prince Ferdinand gave Orders to drive them from thence, on which Account M. de Donop marched there the Day before Yesterday in the Evening, and attacked them Yesterday at Seven in the Morning, with so much Success, that after about an Hour's Engagement, he defeated and dispersed the whole Corps, took three Pieces of Cannon, and above 200 Prisoners; and the Number of the Slain was very considerable.

The Count de Lusace, after having occupied the Town of Cassel, which we had evacuated, afterwards passed the Defile of Munden, and encamped with 20 Battalions, and 30 Squadrons, at Dransfeld, half Way on the Road to Gottingen. General Luckner is at Eimbeck. On the 9th he killed the Enemy upwards of 50 Men, and took 37 Prisoners, and among them five Officers. The 10th he attacked a Detachment near Salzerhalden, 64 of whom he left dead upon the Spot, and took 80 Prisoners, among whom were seven Officers. Yesterday near Nordheim he forced a Detachment of 332 Horse, under the Command of M. Vander Meer, to lay down their Arms, and surrender Prisoners of War. These Successes are, we hope, the Preludes to some decisive Stroke.

The March of the Wirtemberg Troops has met with some Obstacles. The Duke refused to march unless he was allowed to share in the Contributions which were to be raised in the Territories of the House of Brunfwick, &c. which it was not thought proper to consent to; but he has Leave to plunder the flat Country, and to appropriate to himself whatever he can get by that Means; which seems to satisfy his Serene Highness. His Troops were to arrive the 19th at Meinungen, where they are to begin their Exploits.

L O N D O N, July 29.

Friday Afternoon fresh Orders were issued for eight Men more of each Company of the three Regiments of Foot Guards, to get immediately ready to follow those who went off in the Morning for Gravesend, in order to embark for Germany.

The whole Reinforcement intended to be sent will amount, it is said, to 10,000 effective Men, exclusive of Commission and Non-commission Officers, and Drums.

The Rope-houses and Store-houses, that were consumed by the late dreadful Fire at Portsmouth, are to be forthwith rebuilt on a new Plan, drawn up by an experienced Engineer, for their greater Security.

The Utrecht Gazette tells us, in an Article from Naples, "That on the 16th of June, about Four in the Afternoon, under the Sea of Portici, within Sight of Naples, there was a most terrible Earthquake: The Waters divided, and the People saw the Bottom dry, during the Space of two Minutes."

Letters by Yesterday's Mails advise, that they work Night and Day at Dunkirk in fitting out, at the Expence of the Government, a small Squadron of Frigates, to cruise in Concert.

August 5. We hear that General Elliot, who trained, by indistinguishable Industry, the brave Fellows that have just done him and their Country so much Honour, at Emsdoff, will have the late Sir John Cope's Regiment of Dragoons; that Lord Pembroke will get Elliott's Light Horse; and that Major Eskine will succeed Lord Pembroke, as their Lieutenant-Colonel.

August 7. A Swedish Man of War of 36 Guns, coming from Seville, was accidentally burnt and blown up, in the Bay of Cadiz.

August 9. By Accounts from all Parts of the Kingdom, there never was a greater Plenty of all Kinds of Grain.

From May 1, 1756, to July 25, 1760, 122 Vessels, belonging or consigned to the Port of Liverpool, have been taken by the French; 24 of which have been retaken, seven ransomed, three restored, two sunk, and one stranded.

The Behaviour of Elliott's new raised Regiment of Light Horse, the very first Time they were called upon, pleads more forcibly in Favour of a National Militia, than any Thing that has been, or that could be said in the Senate.—It is certain that the highest Commendations are due to the Commanding Officer, who, by the most admirable Discipline, has in so short a Time rendered those Heroes an Over-match for French Veterans; but as it would be doing them the utmost Injustice to impute their Intrepidity entirely to Discipline, so it should follow (notwithstanding the Insinuations and Sneers of many Gentlemen of the Army and others, whose Interest it is to oppose it) that as our Countrymen in general already possess the most essential Constituents in the Character of a true Soldier, the Militia of these Kingdoms, properly disciplined, will prove as able, as they have shewn themselves willing, to repel any foreign Invasion; and we make no Doubt, had it had the same Opportunities, it would ever now have rivalled in Reputation the Swiss Militia, which few regular Forces have attacked with Impunity.

It is rumored in Holland, that in Consequence of a secret Convention between the Courts of Vienna and Versailles, the Empress Queen is to cede to France, at the End of the War, in Consequence of the Assistance received from that Crown, not Ostend, and Nieport, but the Duchy of Luxembourg.

August 12. Advices from the Allied Army say, that within the Compass of six Weeks, some Thousands of French Deserters have gone over to the Allies.

August 19. Orders are sent to all the Officers appointed for the Custody of the French Prisoners of War in England, to keep a strict Watch over them.

August 23. There does not remain above Six Hundred Thousand Pounds unpaid of the Eight Millions subscribed to the last public Loan to the Government; and between Two or Three Millions of this Subscription were paid in many Months before the Payments became due, and this at a Time when our Enemies gave out that we were quite destitute of Money.

Extract of a Letter from Lisbon, August 12, 1760.

"Last Friday was posted up at the Corners of the principal Streets in Lisbon, a Placart, commanding all Romans, the Subjects of the Pope, to retire out of this Kingdom before the End of next Month. In short, a Rupture is declared openly between this Court and the Court of Rome, and all Correspondence is stop't."

By a Gentleman, who came to Town last Wednesday, in 17 Days from Quebec, and 12 from Montreal, by the Way of Crown-Point, we learn, that Mr Vaudreuil and Levy, and all the French Regulars with their Officers, a Number of Merchants and other Inhabitants at Montreal, and Parts adjacent, that had not complied with the Articles of Capitulation, were gone from thence with their moveable Effects for Quebec, where a Number of Transports are provided, in order for a general Embarkation from thence to France.— That Major Elliot was appointed to command at the Bay of Chaleurs and Gaspee, and other Places down the River, and was to proceed thither with a Number of Troops to take Possession; the Capitulation including in it, as we hear, not only all Canada, but likewise all the Territories thereon depending.— And, that Major Rogers, with a large Body of Rangers, were gone out upon a distant Expedition towards Lake Superior.

We hear that the Antelope Man of War, Capt. Webb, has taken a French Frigate of 36 Guns, near the Streights of Belleisle; she was laden with Fish, and bound to France.

Captain Tillet supplied him with every Thing he wanted, helped him to raise Jury-Masts, took him in Tow for 36 Hours, and would have seen him safe into the Capes of Delaware, had not his Hawser broke, when he left him in Lat. 36, Lon. 71, steering his proper Course.

The several Companies of Colonel Montgomery's Highland Regiment, who lately returned from Albany, embarked on Thursday last, and fell down Yesterday, to proceed for Halifax.

On the 6th Instant he met with a violent Gale of Wind off of Cape Hatteras, in which his Ship was thrown on her Beam Ends, which obliged him to throw over board some of his Guns, and he received considerable Damage in his Cargo. On the 13th he spoke with Captain Foster, in a Snow from Hull for Virginia, which had lost her Masts in the same Gale, and had taken up Captain Brown and his Crew, that belonged to a Schooner from North-Carolina to New-York, which foundered at Sea.

The same Day Capt. Charles Stewart also came up from Jamaica. The 16th Instant he spoke with Capt. George Evans, in the Brig America, bound to New-York from Jamaica, in great Distress, having, on the 8th of this Month, been in a severe Storm, in which he shifted his Hold, and his Vessel overset, but, by cutting away his Main-mast, she righted again; however she afterwards lost her other Mast, Bow-sprit, Head, and every Thing on Deck. Captain Stewart spared him some Sails, Spars, Bread, Beef and Water; he was about 25 Leagues from the Land, and designed to get in here. Captain Stewart, on the 11th Instant, in Lat. 34, saw a Sloop without her Bow-sprit and Boom; and Captain Evans met with the Hull of a Ship, with several Chests, and other Wreck about her.
