

firm Friend the Wolf King of Mucculaffah, in the Creek Nation, had been there for some Time, and was preparing to set out for Savannah to see Governor Wright, whence he will come to Charles-Town to see Governor Bull. He seemed well satisfied, and by a Letter of 11th Instant we learn he was to go to Savannah next Day.

The Cherokees and Creeks seem to be determined to keep up the War; which will, no Doubt, end in the Destruction of both.

Now in the Port of Charles-Town, three of his Majesty's Ships of 20 Guns, five large Transport Ships, one Privateer Brig, and the following Merchant Vessels, viz. 21 Ships, 8 Snows, 20 Brigs, 5 Schooners, and 12 Sloops: In all 75 Sail.

This Day arrived a Messenger from the Cherokees with Dispatches to his Honour from Mr. Miln, Commandant of Fort Prince-George, Kewee.

Fort Prince-George, Jan. 9th, 1761. "The Young Warrior of Eilatoc, with ten other Indians of that Town, went down towards the Settlements about 25th ult. and about two Miles from Bear-dams came up with two Men, supposed to be of the Rangers, one of whom they scalped, and hid his dead Body across the Road, the other made his Escape.—The Indians of Settiquo tied one of the Women belonging to the Garrison of Fort Loudon to a Stake, and shot her full of Arrows, in which miserable Condition she died. We learn that the Indians of Tellico and Settiquo declare they will put every white Prisoner to Death whenever they hear of an Army being at Ninety-six; and they have sent down Powder and Ball to the Lower Towns People, with Orders to watch the Road, and give them Notice of the Approach of an Army; for this Purpose Scouts are constantly kept out, and as one Party comes in another goes out, whereby the Road is never clear. There seems as little Prospect of an Accommodation as when they first broke out.—We expect Mix Thomfon will soon make us another Visit.—I have seen several Winters in the North of Scotland, and do not think I ever felt it Colder than here at this Time: the Snow is in general three Quarters of a Yard deep, attended with very sharp Frosts.—

Jan. 11. I dispatched the Express last Night; he went as far as Twelve-mile River, where he heard the Noise of a Hatchet as employed in cutting Wood, and presently after discovered two Fires on the opposite or Eastern Side of the River, one at each Forging Place; this made him return with as much haste as possible, being afraid they might take his Track as the Snow lay thick on the Ground; he got back to the Fort undisturbed."

"I had this Day the following Intelligences: The Indians of these Lower Towns are all in a starving Condition, not having a Grain of Corn to eat, and instead of their Chiniz and Callico Petticoats, they are now making them of Deer skins. The Creeks have sent Runners to these Indians (the Lower Towns) inviting them to the Creek Nation, where they are to be protected, and in 3 Days they set off in consequence of this Invitation and Promise: The Creeks have likewise promised the other Towns of the Nation, that they will assist them if they are attacked by the English. Ocannostota is returned from the French Fort with Powder and Ball, accompanied with some Frenchmen, but how many I cannot learn. None of the Indians, possessed of white Prisoners, will part with them unless they are paid for them. The Young Warrior sent me Word, that as he was now going out of the Nation (to the Creeks) I would see who were Rogues when he was gone.—He says the Standing-Turkey put the Hatchet into his Hands, and bid him carry on the War; and particularly that he ordered him to way lay the Express that brought the last Peace-Talk from the Middle-Settlements, kill him, and take the Letters.—"

We learn from Ninety-six of 14th Instant, that the Indians who lay in wait for Richard Robertson, the last Messenger sent up, killed a poor Man whom they took for him, by which Means Robertson got up safe.

Captain Bell at Ninety-six having received Intelligence that M'Gunningham and James Welsh, with a Squaw in Fort Ninety-six, were Spies for the Indians, sent them down to Congress under a Guard, on the 14th Instant; the two last were delivered as Prisoners at the Camp, but M'Gunningham got off.

Monday last Captain Moultrie set out from the Camp at Congarees, with a Detachment, to escort thirty Waggon's loaded with Flour to the Magazine at Ninety-six.

BOSTON.

BOSTON, January 26.

Captain Furlong, late of a Schooner, bound from Quebec to New-York, arrived here Yesterday Passenger in a Vessel from Halifax, and informs. That after he left the River St. Lawrence, he met with very bad Weather, which obliged him to lay to; when, on the 13th of November, at Ten o'Clock at Night, his Vessel drove on Isle-Sable:—He had on board Major Elliot, with his Lady, and a Party of about 50 regular Troops, who all got on Shore safe, excepting two of the Seamen that were drowned. When they landed, they found the Company of another Schooner, which had been cast away a few Days before, one Potter, Master, belonging to Ipswich, and was bound from Louisburg for Boston:—There being no Place for Habitation, or Wood for Fuel, on the Island, they took the Sails of the Vessels to make a Covering, and Pieces of the Wrecks served for Firing, it being exceeding cold Weather. There were a Number of live Cattle on the Island; but they fayed little or no Bread, nor indeed scarce any Thing that belonged to the Vessels.—After being seven Weeks in this deplorable Condition, they discovered a Marblehead Schooner making towards them; but the Sea running high, and the Weather very boisterous, only the above Captain Furlong, and some of the Seamen could get on board: They immediately failed for Halifax, leaving the Major, with his Lady, and about Fifty others behind; who were in Health, except Captain Potter.

The above Marblehead Schooner was fitted out by the People of that Place, in Quest of one of their Fishing Schooners, which had been missing from the Banks the last Fishing Season, and supposed to be on the above Island Sable; but tho' they had not the Pleasure of finding their Brethren here, yet they came very opportunely to the Relief of others in Distress.—Upon the Arrival of the above Schooner at Halifax, Commodore Lord Colvill ordered one of the Tenders to accompany the Marblehead Schooner, which was taken into Port to proceed immediately to Island Sable, to bring off those left behind.

NEW-YORK, February 12.

We hear that the Ship General Johnson, from Jamaica for this Port, is aground near Shrewsbury. On Saturday Evening arrived Capt. Jordan, in a Sloop from Maryland, bound to this Place, but meeting with bad Weather was obliged to put into New-Port; we hear most of his People were Frosted.

Friday last Captain Stewart arrived here in 21 Days from St. Eustatia, in whom came three Seamen late belonging to the Sloop Dolphin, of New-Haven, Gadwell, Master. They inform us, That being bound to Antigua, within about 12 Leagues of it, on the 20th December last, they were taken by a French Privateer of 8 Guns, and 15 Men, Peiton, Commander, and that she was sent up to Martinico, together with the Capt. who soon got to Eustatia. These Men were kept ten Days on board the Privateer, when they came across a Dutch Ship bound to that Island, on board of whom they were put.

They also inform us, that another Sloop, called the Ruby, belonging to New-Haven, Phineas Cook, Master, outward bound, was taken about ten Days after by a French Privateer Sloop of 15 Guns, after two Hours smart Engagement; when the Frenchmen boarded Cook, they used him extremely ill, running a Broad Sword through his Arm, and beating him about with the Butt End of a Gun, inasmuch that his Life was despaired of. This Prize Monsieur sent into St. Martins.

By a Letter received lately from Lambert Garrison, Master of the Brig Young William, of this Port, who failed from Bristol the 29th October, bound to New-York, we have an Account of his being obliged to put into St. Christophers by Strefs of Weather, having lain on his Beam-Ends, and has had Four and a Half Feet Water in his Hold; all his Spars, and some of his Water, washed off his Deck, whereby said Vessel was rendered unfit to come upon this Coast: The greatest Part of his Cargo is damaged.

Friday last the Billander William and Anne, Captain Heflip, arrived here from London, with King's Stores, after a tedious Passage of fourteen Weeks.

We hear there are now not less than 15 Privateers belonging to Hispaniola, and that they met with great Success; one of them took Captain Prince, in a Sloop belonging to this Port, off Cow Harbour, the Day he failed from Kingston, in Jamaica.

Friday last the Garrison of Detroit arrived here from Philadelphia, about 40 in Number, and were immediately sent to Long-Island.

The Sloop Dove, Fenton, Master, belonging to this Port, is taken by a French Privateer, and carried into Santa-Croix.

PHILADELPHIA, February 19.

Capt. Washington, from Jamaica, on the Sixth of January, off Cape Nichola, spoke with Capt. Hickey, in the Sloop Pine-Apple, bound to Monto Christi from Virginia. And two Days after he fell in with a Privateer belonging to New-Providence, the Commander of which informed him, that he had spoke with a Providence Vessel, a Wrecker, that had taken several Men off the Hogsties, that were cast away there in a large Ship from Jamaica, which is supposed to be the Eagle Galley, of Bristol, Captain Nash, as the same Day a large lower Mast, without any Rigging on it, was seen floating along Side Captain Washington's Vessel.
