

as had deservedly gained him the Esteem of his Parishioners, by whom his Death will be sincerely lamented. He was scrupulously just in his Dealings, of a Disposition truly humane and benevolent; and in his Attendance upon the Duties of his Function (under a long bad State of Health) punctual to a Fault. In an Attempt to attend his Chapel (which he could not effect) on one of the worst Days of this Winter, he contracted a violent Cold, that brought on the Disorder which put an End to his Life.

We are told, that a Vessel is arrived in Virginia, which has brought in an Account, that PEACE is actually concluded on; but it is very likely this Article is of a piece with all those which want Confirmation.
