

Pindjet, who is the Indian Chief, and calls himself King from the Rising of the Sun to the Setting, is encamped 4 Miles above the Fort, where he is well entrenched, and declares he will never leave that Ground till he has got Possession of the Fort.

Another Letter from Detroit, dated August 2, 1763. SINCE my last, from Presque-Ile, I can with more Certainty inform you of the Block-house having been burnt by the Indians; and not only finding the Saps they had made to approach it, and set it on Fire with Torches and Fire Arrows, but we found going along several of their Camps, where they had trimmed and cut our Soldiers Hair. Mr. Christie, who commanded at Presque-Ile, is now here; as likewise Mr. Pauly, of Sandusky; Mr. Sloffer, of St. Joseph's, and his Garrison.

The 26th we arrived at Sandusky, and the 27th, early in the Morning, we went to attack a little Village about 4 Miles from the Place, where our Block-house used to stand, on the Road to Fort-Pitt; but finding the Indians had left it some Time before, we burnt and destroyed their Huts or Log-houses, ten in Number, and their Corn Fields, found a few Packs of Beaver and Raccoons, to the Value of about 40 Pounds, York Currency, which we carried off, for the Benefit of the Soldiers; as likewise some Bear's Oil, and Indian Corn.

The 28th we came to the River at Detroit, and proceeded up the same in the Night; and a little past the first Inhabitants upon the West Shore, we were fired at by some Indians, in coming by a thick Fog too near the Shore: We fired at them with 4 Swivels till Daylight; and then proceeded in the Middle of the River, they firing from both Sides till near the Fort; we had 10 Privates and 1 Gunner wounded, 1 of them died since, and six more hurt, but got soon better.

The 31st Capt. Dalzell went with a Party of about 250 Men, in hopes to surprize a Party of Indians, who were encamped about 3 Miles up the West Side of the River, wherefore we left the Fort about 2 o'Clock in the Morning, so as to be in their Camp about Day-break; two Boats, in each of them were a Patararo fixed, the size of Three Pounders, were to cover our Front and Rear; but the Party marching too fast, without waiting for the intended Use of the Boats, found themselves fired upon by (as the Canadians say) about 300 Indians, about a Mile and a Half from the Fort, behind a sort of Lines they had made of Cord Wood, belonging to the Inhabitants; not expecting the Enemy so near, and being dark, made our Soldiers consider a little, but being encouraged by Capt. Dalzell, who then got a Wound in his Thigh, after a second Discharge of the Enemy, pushed over a Bridge, upon the other Side of which the Enemy lay, and drove them from their Post; but being dark, Capt. Dalzell halted a little for to see Day Light, and after sending of one of the arm'd Boats with the Dead and Wounded, I am told, ordered to retreat; being foggy the Indians had a great Advantage, in going towards our Rear, and other Posts, or some Piles of Wood, our People were obliged to drive them from. Capt. Dalzell at this Time received another Wound, and a little after another, it is said through his Body, made him fall, and was left with seven more Soldiers in the Field; at the same Time, Capt. Gray of the 55th, was wounded through his Arm and Belly, Lieut. Brown through his right Thigh, and Lieut. Luke through his left Calf of the Leg. The enclosed is a List of the Party, when they went out, and likewise the Killed and Wounded.

We are unlucky in our Parties being always discovered, and the Enemy knowing every Thing we are doing in the Fort.

We have twice since endeavoured to ambush them, but miscarried as yet, though all possible Precaution was taken in going out, and in ordering the Parties, without the Knowledge of the Inhabitants.

The Savages, who, since this Affair, have been reinforced, continue in their former Encampment; but can make no Impression on the Fort, as the Garrison have ample Supplies of all Kinds.

Great Part of the Reinforcements that are ordered to the Detroit, must be well advanced by this Time; and, we trust, we shall soon have the Pleasure of giving the Public an Account not only of their Arrival, but of their Success in clearing the Country of the Barbarians, as well as punishing them so severely, that they shall never dare to attack any of our Settlements hereafter.

Yesterday the Marlborough Transport, with a Number of Officers, belonging to the different Regiments now in America, sailed for London.

Saturday last the Sloop Cornwallis, Capt. Ramsey, arrived here in 13 Days from Halifax: He says the Indians are very peaceable in that Quarter; and that the Reports we lately had from thence of their beginning to be troublesome, was no more than a Contest that happened between an Inhabitant of the Township of Cornwallis, and two or three Indians that had shot a Goose belonging to the former; and he for Satisfaction killed one of their Dogs. But the Matter was soon amicably adjusted.

PHILADELPHIA, September 3. Extra of a Letter from Fort Cumberland, dated August 29. I now transmit you an Account of our most material Occurrences with the Enemy since my last, in which I mentioned an Attack the Indians made at one Kuykendall's Fort, on the South Branch of Patowmack, from which they were beat off. They then immediately divided themselves into three Parties; one of which, a few Days after, killed one Person, and took two others Prisoners, on the Waters of Cape Cayen; an Account of which was brought to Capt. Crawford, who, with 23 Volunteers, was marching to this Place from the South Branch; upon which he and his Party returned, took the Tracks of the Enemy, pursued them about 60 Miles, overtook them, killed and scalped one Indian, retook two Prisoners, one of which wounded, and got eleven Horses, and considerable other Plunder; all which he brought to this Place. Two Days after Capt. Crawford's Return, there was Advice brought of eleven Indians being in the Parts, when one Capt. McCullough, then here, with about 30 Volunteers, went out on a Scout, to the second Crossings of Youghyoughans, where they fell in with three Indians, whom they fired upon, killed one, and released a Justice of Peace they had made Prisoner, and got several Horses, and other Plunder. These were two of the Parties into which the Enemy had divided themselves, after they left Kuykendall's Fort; the third Party went down within eight Miles of Winchester, where they took ten Prisoners, and killed several Persons; and, by one of the Prisoners, who made his Escape from them about Twenty Miles above this, and came in, we are informed, that they had taken one more Person, and killed another, from Patterson's Creek, on their Way out, and had with them Twenty-one Horses, all heavily loaded. A Party from the South Branch is after them.

In a Letter from Fort Bedford, about the same Date with the above, it is said, that the Indians were much quieter then than they had been for some Time before; and that it was thought they began to dread the Consequences of the horrid Cruelties they had been guilty of.

Extra of a Letter from a Gentleman, who went out with a Party of Volunteers from Lancaster County, for the Great Island, on the West Branch of Susquehanna, dated Sept. 1.

Last Friday, at Five o'Clock in the Afternoon, we had the Happiness of meeting a large Party of the Great Island Warriors at Munley Creek Hill, on their Way to the Frontiers of this Province. They had the first fire on our Advance Party, which was forced back on our Front, and, pursuing, engaged us briskly for some Time; but as we disposed of the Party so much to their Disadvantage, after Half an Hour's hot Firing, they were obliged to run, with considerable Loss. I killed two myself, and saw several others fall, by the good Behaviour of our Men. John Clemons, Alexander Scott, James Chambers, and James M' Lanachan, were killed in the Engagement, and four others wounded, whom we brought in with us. We hid the Killed, so that the Indians did not get one Scalp. We brought in four Scaples, and killed at least six more of the Enemy, but did not think it prudent to follow and scalp them, for fear of some of the Indians falling in with our wounded Men. We lost several Horses.

In other Letters from Lancaster County it is said, that the Indians were seen dragging off several of their Dead and Wounded, but that it was thought not proper to follow them too far, being in the Enemy's Country: That the next Day our Party was attacked twice by the Indians, but beat off without any Loss: That some of our Men came to a Fire, where there were three Indians, whom they killed and scalped; they had some Indian Goods with them: That they brought in some Rifles, and other Plunder, and were in high Spirits, having beat 50 Indian Warriors, notwithstanding they had the first Fire at them: That if they met with again Encouragement, they would immediately go out against the Enemy, who, it was thought, might return to revenge their Loss, having at least ten or fifteen of their Men killed: And that the Preventing that Party coming down at that Time on the Frontiers, must have been a Service of the utmost Consequence to the Province; as thereby a great Deal of Blood, in all probability, was prevented from being shed, and some Hundreds of Families kept on their Places, which otherwise must have been drove off. It is said the Indians fought all naked, and were painted black. Our Party, we hear, consisted of 110 Men.

ANNAPOLIS, September 15.

Last Week in Baltimore Town, as two athletic young Men were trying their Strength and Skill in Wrestling, for a Dollar, they both fell together; but it prov'd a very dolorous and fatal Fall to one of them, Mr. James Sellers, for the Bone of one of his Arms split, and came quite thro' his Flesh and Cloaths: It was afterwards cut off near the Shoulder, but a Mortification ensued, and he Died soon after.

We hear from Frederick-Town, in Frederick County, that an Orphan Lad there, being out with a Gun a few Days ago after Pidgeons, it accidentally went off and kill'd him on the Spot.
