[XIX*th* Year.] THURSDAY, September 29, 1763. [N°. 960.]

MADRID, May 21.

THE King is building a Closet all of China, at his Palace of Aranjuez; the Richness and Elegance of which all the Connoisseurs agree can only be exceeded perhaps by that at Naples, built likewise by his Majesty's Directions before he came to the Throne of Spain. As soon as the Casing of this Closet is finished, it may be esteemed one of the Curiosities of this Monarchy. His Majesty has also established a China Manufactory in this City.

Brest, May 25. As fast as the flat-bottomed Boats arrive, and are unladen, they are sent to Nantes for Ship Timber, and a new 64 Gun Ship is just put upon the Stocks here.

Toulon, June 24. We are very busy in fitting out two Arm'd Frigates, and two Xebeques, and two others lately arrived are ordered to be refitted with all Expedition, and to join the others. This small Squadron is intended to cruize on the Coast of Barbary, particularly off Sallee.

Hague, July 1. Upon the Complaints made some Time since by their High Mightinesses, of the Outrages committed by the Rovers of Tunis, Morocco, and Tripoli, upon the trading Subjects of the Republick in the Mediterranean, and that they had even taken some of their Merchant Ships; a Frigate was dispatch'd to Constantinople, to know if these Outrages were practised by the Consent of the Grand Signior, which Frigate being returned, the Capt. has reported, that so far from patronizing those Piracies, his Sublime Highness will cause the strictest Enquiry to be made into the Behaviour of these Barbary Rovers, and punish them as they shall appear to have deserved.

Paris, June 7. The Artificers continue to work with great Diligence in all the King's Yards, in order to repair our Marine, and it is assured that the Court is treating for the Purchase of several Ships both in Denmark and Sweden.

LONDON, June 20.

It is said the Dutch are preparing a formidable Armament to protect their different Settlements in the East Indies. Beware of their Proceedings, Old England!

June 21. As our American Provinces have been at great Expence during the War in Cloathing and Paying Troops, that Expence is to be brought to a national Account, in order to make them Satisfaction.

It is said that Commodore Hervey, in his Majesty's Ship Centurion, with four or five smaller Ships, will in a short Time sail for the Mediterranean; and that the Duke of York will go with this Fleet, and landing from Time to Time in Italy, visit the different Parts of that Country incog. under the Title of Earl of Ulster.

By private Letters from Holland, we learn that a Squadron of 8 Ships, each carrying 20 Guns, and 300 Men, is fitted out with all possible Diligence for the East-Indies, to recover and maintain the Settlements of the Dutch East-India Company in the Island of Ceylon. Of these Vessels, four are fitted out by the City of Amsterdam; two by Rotterdam, one by Dort, and one by Delft.

July 7. The Hanover Packet Boat, Capt. Sherborn, is arrived at Falmouth from Lisbon, that brings Letters, which give an Account, that as the Lord Clive Privateer, with other Ships, was attempting to take Nova Colonia from the Spaniards, in battering the Fort she took Fire, and blew up, and several of the Crew perished; and that Capt. M'Namara, Commander of her, shot himself with a Pistol, not being able to bear the Disappointment. The Ambuscade, her Consort, with some other Ships, returned to Rio de Janeiro. They had taken several Prizes, but it is supposed the Treasure and Effects being on board the Lord Clive, are all lost.

Another Account says, that the Lord Clive Privateer, Capt. M'Namara, who had taken a very rich Prize, and put the Treasure on board his own Ship, afterwards, in attacking a Spanish Fort, called Nova Colonia, his own Ship by some Accident blew up, and he with 350 of his Men perished.

July 8. We are told, that besides Mr. Wilkes, who appeared at both the Trials at Guildhall, and received the repeated Congratulations of the Public, many Persons of Distinction were present. Particular Marks of Respect were paid to the Gentlemen who managed these interesting Causes with so much Spirit and Reputation.

It is observed, to the Honour of the Attornies concerned on either Side, that these Causes were conducted with so much Ability, Clearness, and Precision, that the utmost Dignity, Order, and Decency were preserved during the whole Trials. A more glorious Contest has not been known for many Ages.

On Saturday was opened over the North Door of Westminster Abbey, a Monument with the following Inscription:

"To the Memory of CHARLES WATSON,
"Vice-Admiral of the White, Commander
"in Chief of his Majesty's Naval Forces in
"the East-Indies, who died at Calcutta the
"16th of August, 1757, in the 44th Year
"of his Age:
"The East-India Company, as a grateful Testimony of the signal Advantages which
"they obtained by his Valour and prudent
"Conduct, caused this Monument to be
"erected."

The Admiral is represented in full Proportion, standing upon a Pedestal, with a Branch of Olive in his right Hand, looking towards a beautiful Figure of a Woman in a kneeling Posture, returning Thanks to the Admiral for her safe Deliverance from Imprisonment in the Black Hole, and underneath are the following Words, Calcutta freed, January 11, 1757.

On the other Side the Admiral, is the Figure of an Indian Prisoner, sitting chained to a Pillar, looking with a dejected Countenance, but casts a contemptuous Look towards the Admiral. Over him is wrote, Chander Nagor taken March the 23*d*, 1757; and under him, is, Shereab taken, February 13, 1756. The whole is performed in a very masterly Manner.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman at Berlin, to his Friend at London, dated June 14.

"Our King, with his usual Alertness, has been taking a Journey into his Pomeranian Provinces; and is now visiting the Country of Cleve. I see, by your public Papers, that you are not quite delivered from the tumultuous Scenes of Discord. However amusing this may be to People at a Distance, it must be a mortifying Thing to an English Patriot, to see the Constitution of his Country abused, and the Blessings of Peace in a great Measure lost, by the unreasonable Jealousies of a never-satisfied Nation. Pardon me, my dear Friend, this free Remark. But, indeed, your Island makes at present but an uncouth Figure abroad. It would almost tempt one to prefer absolute Monarchy to a free State, attended with so much Licentiousness."

It is said that at the Meeting of Parliament Petitions from the several Boroughs in Scotland will be presented to the House, requesting Redress for the many virulent Papers lately published, tending to raise Dissensions and Disturbances between the North and South Britons, and to alienate the Affections of the former from the latter, to the Danger of both.

Extract of a Letter from Portsmouth, July 2.

"Captain Steward of the Elizabeth Indiaman, might have been saved, but he absolutely refused it: He said he could not survive the Loss of his Ship, if he was saved; therefore would abide by the Ship! He was seen to leap from the Quarter Gallery just before she blew up."

July 9. The Lords of the Admiralty have resolved to meet, for some Weeks, every Thursday, at Ten in the Morning, to examine Seamen worn out or become decrepit in the Service of their Country, in Order to their being minuted for Admission into the Greenwich Hospital, or to their being placed upon the List of Out-pensioners.

Capt. Mene Zyden Ploeger, Master of the Ship Spengenberg, from Embden, writes to his Friend at Newcastle, that he was attacked the 26th of March last, at Six o'Clock in the Evening, one Mile and a Half N. W. of Bevezyr, in his Passage to Bourdeaux, by an English small Ship or Brigantine, who boarded him with 8 Men well armed, and took from him 51 Boxes of Green Tea, and 30 Cheeses belonging to a Merchant at Embden, with several other Things, consisting of Cables, &c. and then stripped the Captain quite naked, leaving him in a miserable Condition. The Captain further writes, that he saw the same Brigantine go in between Bevezyr and Zingell; and presumes, that they must certainly dispose of their Plunder there; by which, it is hoped, a Discovery may be effected; and they punished according to their Demerits.

July 14. By some Letters from Cadiz we have an Account, that Capt. Barcelo, Commander of a Frigate in the Service of Spain, had taken two Algerine Cruizers, with 99 Moors on board, killed and wounded 22, and released 11 Christian Slaves on board the said Cruizers, near Bemedorney.

If we may credit some Advices from France, they are doing all in their Power to establish their Colonies in America upon a firm Foundation, and expect 60 or 70,000 Inhabitants from Canada to settle at New Orleans, and on the West-side of the Mississippi.

Extract of a Letter from Malden, dated the 12*th Inst.*

"Yesterday Morning a great Number of the principal Inhabitants of this Town, and the Neighbouring Country, went on Horseback to Dunbury, where they met his Majesty's Picture, presented by John Huske, Esq; to this Corporation; it was fixed on a handsome Carriage, drawn by six Horses, decorated with Ribbons, and on the Top were three Flags; the first having this Motto, George the Great and Good; the second was the Union; and the third had for its Motto, Dignity to the Crown, and Liberty to the Subject.

"At eleven o'Clock the Picture entered this Town, and passed on to the Town Hall, preceded by the People who went to meet it, and an elegant Band of Music, playing, God save the King, &c. It was received under a triple Discharge of Artillery, accompanied by Bells ringing, Flags, Streamers, &c. flying, and the Acclamations of a vast Concourse of People assembled on this Occasion.

"The Picture was immediately exhibited to the Multitude in the Balcony of the Town-Hall, under another Discharge of Artillery, &c. after which it was received by the Corporation in their Formalities, and placed in the Hall. It is really a magnificent Picture: The King is painted in Parliament Robes, pointing to his Crown and to Magna Charta; but what makes it truly valuable, is, its being a most striking Likeness of his Majesty.

"The Corporation gave a grand and elegant Dinner to Mr. Huske, and several other Gentlemen; after which many loyal Toasts were Drank: And in the Evening there were Bonfires and Illuminations, and a great Variety of fine Fire-works were played off, great plenty of Beer was given to the Populace, and the whole was concluded by a Ball, which did not break up till four o'Clock this Morning."

Birmingham, July 11. The Collection in this Town last Week for the Colleges at Philadelphia, and New-York, amounted to 203 l. 3s. 8d.

Extract of a Letter from Market-Hill, dated July 4.

"Last Thursday there were assembled upwards of 10,000 Persons taking the Cess of the Country, and last Saturday there were at least 8000 in Rich Hill, of which I was obliged to be one, and every one in Market Hill was obliged to go, and all marched from Rich-Hill to Dean ——, and got from under his Hand, not to take any small Dues for the future, and did the same with Dean ——, and from that we went to Counsellor —— of Tandaragee, and he agreed to level the Commons of Tandaragee, which Mr. —— had ditched up and fed these several Years past; they also turned Cattle out of the Pound, and got a Drum from him, which we have, but we are to return it again; there is not a Town in this County but what has raised from the Country at least 4 or 500 Men, so you may judge how many there are up in Arms: They were here with Sir. ——, and he very freely gave them what they asked him, which was, not to demand any of the Taxes laid on at the
