The humble ADDRESS of the Upper House of ASSEMBLY.

May it please your Excellency,

IMPRESSED with the deepest Sense of Gratitude for the many Instances we experienced during the War, of our most gracious Sovereign's Attention to the Preservation and Prosperity of these Colonies, and for the particular Regard that is shewn for their future Security and Welfare, by the Terms of a glorious and most advantageous Peace, we with Pleasure embrace this Opportunity of expressing our Joy at the Accomplishment of his Majesty's benevolent and early Desire, by an Event so very agreeable to our Wishes, and at the Prospect afforded us, by the Increase of the Royal Family, of the inestimable Blessings we at this Period derive from the Reign of the best of Kings, being extended to our Posterity.

We beg your Excellency to accept our thankful Acknowledgments for the Speech you were pleased to make to us at the Opening of this Session, and for the Opportunity you have given us of consulting by what Means the Trade and Commerce of this Province might be promoted and encouraged, consistent with the Laws of Great-Britain; to which your Excellency may be assured, we shall on this, and every other Occasion, pay the greatest Regard; and we flatter ourselves your Excellency is satisfied, that nothing will be wanting on our Parts to provide for the Payment of the Militia and other Persons, that have Claims on the Public, as soon as their respective Accounts can be adjusted.

Sensible of the Truth of your Excellency's Observation, that, without Harmony between the several Branches of the Legislature, our Meetings here can be of no real Benefit or Utility to our Country, we take the Liberty to assure you, that we continue both disposed and resolved to cultivate it, and to do every Thing on our Parts, that can tend to promote the Welfare of the Province, which it must ever be our true Interest and earnest Desire to advance.
B. TASKER, President.
October 5, 1763.

The Governor's ANSWER.

Gentlemen of the Upper House of Assembly,
I THANK you kindly for your obliging Address, and Doubt not but your Proceedings will be agreeable to the Assurances you have been pleas'd to give me.
HOR. SHARPE.

To his Excellency HORATIO SHARPE, Esq; Governor and Commander in Chief in and over the Province of MARYLAND:

The humble ADDRESS of the House of DELEGATES.

May it please your Excellency,

WE his Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Delegates of the Free-men of the Province of Maryland, in Assembly convened, return your Excellency our unfeigned Thanks for your Speech at the Opening of this Session.

We most heartily and sincerely Rejoice with your Excellency, on the late glorious

Peace, which the Wisdom of his Majesty's Councils, seconded by the vigorous Efforts of his Arms, has restored to his Subjects, on Terms so highly beneficial to his Dominions in general, and so particularly calculated to advance the Security and Prosperity of the British Colonies in North-America: And we beg Leave to return your Excellency our most cordial Congratulations on the auspicious Birth of a Prince of Wales, from which happy Event we form the pleasing Expectations, that our Posterity will enjoy the innumerable Blessings, which we, and all our Fellow Subjects, at present derive from the propitious Reign of the best of Sovereigns.

The several Matters which your Excellency has thought fit to recommend to our Attention, we shall take into our most serious Consideration, and enter into such Resolutions thereon as may be agreeable to Justice, and conducive to the Interest of our Constituents.

We are firmly persuaded, that Union and Harmony are essentially necessary to effectuate the good Purposes of all public Consultations, and your Excellency may be assured we meet at this Time, as we ever have done, with a determined Resolution to avoid every Measure that may tend to interrupt the good Understanding, and mutual Confidence, which alone can render our Meetings of real Benefit and Utility to our Country.
H. HOOPER, Speaker.

October 5, 1763.

LONDON, July 2.

SATURDAY last one Anne Alderton, a Girl about Sixteen Years of Age, Servant to Mr. Day, in Littleport Fen, was committed by Henry Morley, Esq; to Ely Goal, on Suspicion of robbing her Master's House, and afterwards setting it on Fire, which was burnt to the Ground. We hear that Mr. Day and his Wife, being obliged to go out on some Business, left the Servant to take Care of the House; but previous to this, Mrs. Day had wrapped up what Cash there was in the House, put it into a Sack, and secreted it among some others, in the Presence of the Girl, left any Body should rob the House in their Absence. Soon after, the Girl took the Money, and hid it in a Hole in the Ground, and then set fire to the House, in order to burn the Sacks, and prevent a Discovery. The Money was afterwards found by the Direction of the Girl.

July 8. On Wednesday Morning a Fellow attacked, near the Monument on Landf-down, two Persons, whom he robbed of some small Sums; and afterwards coming to the Turnpike on this Side of the Down, he found there a Man paying for passing through, on which he ordered the Turnpikeman to go into his House and shut the Door, and said, I'll receive the Gentleman's Money; and accordingly robbed the Person of a considerable Sum. He then came on to a little Alehouse on the Cross Road, where he put up his Horse, and staid Half an Hour, and having drank himself, and fed his Horse, he told the Landlord he should set off for Terbury. Upon the Road, near Petty France, he robbed a
