The MAR

[XXth Year.]

THE extreme Drought we have had in Country, ever since the Commencement the Year, joined to the Scarcity and Price for Corn, has caused a great Number Inhabitants in the Country to quit their habitations, and seek Relief in this City.

Strangers are so very numerous, that the Governour thought it necessary to publish an Ordinance, by which all are enjoined to leave the City in 24 Hours, on being taken up, and obliged to work in the King's Arms Yesterday public Prayers were offered up to implore The Mortality among the Poultry continues to rage here. Berlin, May 10. All that has hitherto transpired concerning the Stipulations of the Treaty signed the 13th of between Russia and Prussia, imports, 1st a definitive Alliance and formal Guaranty of all the Possessions of the two reigns. 2. A reciprocal Promise, in case of War, to assist other with 15000 Foot, and 5000 Horse; excepting Wars which Prussia may have in Westphalia, and that she may have with the Turks; in either of which Cases stipulated Succour is to be in Money. 3. As to what respects the present State of Poland, the two Sovereigns jointly engaged to pursue the same Measures and Principles they agreed in a former Convention.

Hague, May 26. Our Politicians here are wholly Lofs to account, why, in the midst of a profound Peace naval Armaments, both of France and England, should be carried on with such uncommon Vigour. They think see in the extraordinary Activity exerted by both Sides this Occasion, some thing more than the bare Restoration of their Marine, or even the prudent Precautions usually taken in Times of Tranquillity not to be unprepared for any War, by suffering the national Strength to decay. They never remember so much Vigilance displayed by the Officers at the Head of these Departments before. Duke de Choiseul's second Visit to all the Sea-Ports of France alarms them. The many new Ships of War already built with the Orders issued out for Construction of more; Reparation of their Fortresses, the Reviews in the Plain Sibions, the great Attention paid to their Finances, the mand just made from Sweden, for her stipulated Subsidy of Thousand Men, the military Preparations making in principal Ports belonging to the other Branches of the House of Bourbon, are by several considered as many Indications of a rankling Jealousy, which may shortly break into an open and extensive War. The Report of a misunderstanding, and the present critical State of the Affairs of Poland, in their Opinions, confirm these Conjectures, may soon blow up the kindling Embers into a violent Flame.

LONDON, May 1.

Saturday Evening died, at his House in Bury-Street, Mary-Axe, Benjamin Mendez da Costa, Esq; a Gentleman of the Jewish Profession; but whose Practice, as it adorns human Nature, would do Honour to the purest Religion. His Love for Mankind in general, was unbounded; and he won him universal Reverence and Esteem. Firmly persuaded that Riches are sent, not to gratify the grovelling View of Pride, Luxury, or Avarice; his Wealth was as a mere Reservoir of Water, whence issued a Thousand salutary Streams, to cherish, relieve and support, weeping, distressed, and of all Denominations.

Besides the 3000l. per Annum given to charitable Uses by the late worthy Mr. Da Costa, by a Codicil to his Will he has ordered that all the Bonds, Securities, &c. he had him, should be immediately on his Death destroyed; that the Annuities he had given to distressed Families should be continued during the Lives of the Persons to whom they were granted.

Many young Men and Women are going in the Ships from thence, and several Families propose to go over from the Ports of Barnstable and Bideford, in the Autumn, sufficient it is supposed, to settle the whole Grant in a short Time. soon as the Settlers arrive, and are provided for, that Gentleman intends to return at the Meeting of the Parliament.

Cochinal, Silk, and Cotton, are the Produce of the Country, and will be a very profitable easy Employment to the Women and Children; as Indigo, Rice, and other valuable Commodities, will be raised by the greater Strength of the Men.
