

and Action, awakened the Honour of Parliament; and thereby involved every Friend of the King in the Imputation of betraying the King's Service. This is so true, that the King's Majesty could certainly not have been repealed, had not the King's Majesty's Mind been in some Measure satisfied with the Declaration of Right: If therefore, you will make the proper Returns to your Country; you will have a Mind to do Credit to your Friends; you will Strengthen the Hands of your Advocates; you will we beseech you, to express filial Duty and Gratitude to your Parent Country. Then those who have been (and while they have Power, we doubt not will be) your Friends, will themselves on the Restoration of Peace to the Colonies, Union, Trade, and reciprocal Advantages to them, and to us. But if violent Measures are continued and Triumphs on the Point of War: If it is talked of as a Victory: If it is the Parliament have yielded up the Right, — indeed your Enemies here will have a complete Triumph, — your Friends must certainly lose Power to serve you, — your Tax Masters probably be restored, and such a Train of ill Consequences follow, as are easier for you to imagine, than for us to describe, — at least such Measures on your Side, will greatly tend to produce these Effects. — We have no doubt that you will adopt a contrary Conduct, and inculcate it to the Honour of your Influence, to which we sincerely wish the most extensive regard may be paid, and uninterrupted mutual Affection may continue between Great-Britain and her Colonies to the Ages. — We are with unfeigned Regard,
