

P L O C Z K O, November 12.
THEY write from Choczyn, the Orders had been published there on the Part of the Grand Signior, for all the Inhabitants to take Arms against the Russians and their Adherents. These Advices add, that 10,000 fresh Troops were arrived there, and more expected; that, on the 17th, a Body of Confederates passed the Niesler, and plundered a small Town near that River, which the Bashaw, upon Representations being made to him, declared to be by his Orders, and expressed himself in a Manner very different from what he had done heretofore.

OFFEN, in HUNGARY, Nov. 14. They write from the Frontiers of Turkey, that the Grand Signior had notified, by a Manifesto, that he looked upon as illegal, all the Concessions passed in the Diet of Poland, from the Time of the King's Election to the Throne; and that his Highness insisted that the Inhabitants of the Republic be re-established in the Enjoyment of their primitive Rights and Liberties.

A Letter from Poland assures, that the Empress of Russia seems disposed to spare neither Troops nor Money; and that 80,000 Men are to penetrate into the Ottoman Empire, before the Grand Signior is able to assemble his Forces.

L O N D O N,

Dec. 3. It is reported that L—R— has declared his Intention of resigning the Post he now enjoys; but, who is to succeed him, is not at present determined. The Cause assigned for this Act, is said to take Rise from his L—R—'s Disgust at some Measures lately pursued.

The Great People were never more busy, than at present; for, while Numbers are engaged in making a Coalition, in order to form a new Ministry; others are as assiduous in consulting on Measures to counteract their Design, and support the Lib. Regis.

By Accounts lately received from Paris, we learn, that the Manuscript Papers, lately stuck up in divers Parts of this Metropolis, intimate, that there are Damnings still living, &c.

Farmer Gover, of Hartley, in Essex, having married and buried his Wife, in the Year 1762, has had the singular Fortune, to marry and bury one every Year since. He is now a Widower, and declares that he will never engage again in the matrimonial State.

Some gold Candlesticks, now in the Possession of a Nabob, heretofore taken from a captial Church at the Malilla, after the Capitulation, are, it is said, the Cause among other such Excesses, of the Ransom not being paid.

Some Letters from Leghorn, mention, that, by a secret Article in the proposed Treaty between France and Corsica, General Paoli is to be invested with the Dignity of a Marshal, with a very considerable Appointment.

They write from Paris, that the French Asiatic Company now had themselves strong enough, to revive certain dormant Claims on the Dutch, respecting both Commerce and Territory in the East-Indies.

Some Letters from Leghorn mention, Advice having been received there, that a dangerous Conspiracy among some of the Corsican Chiefs against Paschal de Paoli, had luckily been discovered by that General, just Time enough to prevent the Execution of a Design against his Liberty, and probably against his Life.

It was Yesterday confidently reported, that the Court of Portugal had made some extraordinary Concessions to Mr. Lytleton, in favour of our Commerce, the Particulars of which are said to be transmitted home by the last Mail.

By Letters from the Hague of the 4th Inst. we learn, that the Prince Stadtholder informed the States-General on the 2d, that the Princess Royal his Consort was in a State of Pregnancy; on which happy Event, their High Mightinesses congratulated his Serene Highness.

On Thursday Morning, a little before Eleven o'Clock, the Sheriffs opened the Poil for a Knight of the Shire for the County of Middlesex, at Brentford, which was carried on with much Tranquillity and Regularity, 'til about a Quarter after Two; at which Time it was generally thought that Mr. Serjeant Glynn had polled a greater Number than Sir W. B. Proctor, when on a sudden a Hat was thrown up in the Air, on which a great Riot ensued, when the Mob mounted the Hustings, attempted to seize some of the Poll Books, and entirely put a Stop to the Business. On this, great Numbers of Freeholders were hurt in trying to get away, others came home directly, and the Remainder of the Day was a Scene of Confusion. A Fellow had lifted up his Stick to make a Blow at Mr. Glynn, which being timely observed by one of the Freeholders, a stout Gentleman, he knocked the Rioter down with the But-End of his Whip.

When the Mob had cleared the Hustings on Thursday, they went into the Town of Brentford, and attacked the Castle-Inn (which was one of the Houses of Entertainment for Mr. Glynn's Friends) and did considerable Damage to it. The Inhabitants of the Town observing this Mischief, and beginning to fear their own Houses would next be destroyed, a general Indignation took Place; they sallied out, attacked the Rioters, and drove them out of Town; and some of the Victors afterwards vented their Rage upon one or Two of the Houses opened for the other Candidate.

A Number of Persons, with Cockades, assembled about the Angel Inn in a riotous Manner, armed with Bludgeons, &c. but being expostulated with by some Gentleman present, the greatest Part threw away their Sticks, and their Ringleader was taken into Custody, and carried to the Angel; while under Examination there, several of his Followers came to him, and demanded Half a Crown each, which they said they were to have, and a Guinea to be spent amongst them; whereupon he was secured, to be dealt with according to Law.

Dec. 13. Letters from Leghorn, dated Nov. 14, mention, that Two Engineers, in the Service of France, under Pretence of being French Deserters, lately got into Isola Rossa in Corsica, and after having been there a few Days, obtained an Interview with the Commandant, to whom they declared their real Character, and offered him 1000 Louis D'ors to deliver up the Forts to the French Troops at a certain Time, which he agreed to do; But Paoli having some Intelligence of this Plot, suddenly arrived at the Head of 700 Men, and caused the Commandant of Isola Rossa to be arrested, with the Two Engineers, and some other Persons. The Engineers have since made a full Confession, and all the Parties concerned have been seized except Two.

ANNAPOLIS, March 9.

Arrived in Patuxent, the Captains Circaud, Coulson, and Kilty, all in seven Weeks from London, but no Public Prints having as yet reached this Place, we cannot insert the Intelligence, they may have brought, this Week.

The Public may be assured, that the Company of Comedians, in this City, have gained great Applause by their Two last Performances, viz. the Tragedies of Douglas and Richard III.

On Tuesday last the Dwelling House of Mr. Alexander Symmer, at Upper-Marlborough, by some Accident unfortunately caught Fire, and was reduced to Ashes. His Furniture, by the Vigilance of the Inhabitants, was happily saved.

TO THE PRINTERS.

A FEW Days since died, in the 22d Year of his Age, Mr. Arthur Cradock, eldest Son of the Revd. Mr. Cradock, Rector of St. Thomas's, Baltimore County. He was a Youth of most unblemish'd Character; of exemplary Piety; and so firmly attached to the Principles of social and moral Virtue, as did Honour to human Nature. The Disease which proved fatal to him, and which he supported with true Christian Resignation, is supposed to have been occasioned by an intense Application to Books: "The Study of the Sacred Writings, these divine Oracles of Inspiration, being his principal Delight, though he had made a considerable Progress in the abstracted Sciences, and was excellently well versed in every Branch of polite Literature.

Immortal Youth, whose Life more Fame could yield, Than Raphael's Colours, or what Wren did build! Soft as the gentle Stream, his Manners flow'd, In all his Actions, ne'er profan'd his GOD. Careless'd in Life, lamented in his End, The Parents Comfort, and the Muses Friend. Chaste as the spotless Lamb, exempt from Pride, He liv'd the Christian, like a Saint he dy'd. O! with what Raptures I could sing his Praise, Was I possess'd of Pope's, or Milton's Lays! May some kind Bard, the Subject hence rehearse, It sure deserves the Majesty of Verse. I wou'd proceed, tho' much oppress'd with Fear, But quit the Theme, to wipe the friendly Tear.
