A Person is employed to find out such of the Cred Wilkes, as are in low Circumstances, to be in the Pound, with legal Interest, to become due respectively.

A great Personage remarked, upon his State Carriage was now building, present to Mr. Wilkes, that it was like a Pair of Boots to wear, after his Legs were so extremely pathetic, as to come from several of the Hearers.

It is said a Lady is just arrived in France, where she was carried by her Husband of considerable Fortune, 13 Years ago, confined in a Convent, where she was in severity, but from whence she has lately made her Escape, and intends to apply to her Husband, who has been married 28 Years.

They write from Vienna, of January had just been issued for a very confident Austrian Troops, to be ready to take the Middle of March next, though it was said Troops are only intended to form Two divisions.

Jan. 31. It is said, That by a Clause in Part whatever of the deceased's Estate, either now or hereafter, devolve on the said Gentleman.

It is said, that a young Lady, possessed of great Beauty, and of a Mind also of great internal Embellishment, gave the following Instance of her filial Affection. Upon informed a large Fortune, the Bequestion, would come to her on attaining her majority, she exclaimed, "Would to GOD the day arrived, that I might be able to assist her!"

The Hague Gazette of Jan. 20, 1769, London, Jan. 25, has the following Account of Czernichew, Ambassador from Petersburg, bath, from Time to Time with the King's Ministers, which, we believe, are relative to the approaching Peace with the Porte. We cannot say whether, or in what Manner, Great-Britain Succours to the former of those Powers. They write from Leghorn, that Three ships had fallen in with a new 36 Gun Genoa, on her Passage to Toulon, many Sailors, which the Corsicans made Prisoners, carried her safe into Port.

It is now confidently reported, that the French Fleet, is to proceed to the Mediterranean, is to proceed and to bombard a certain Capital City. Distance from another Strait, famed for Two Lovers, celebrated in Poetical Verse, are told, is at the Requisition of the Alliance with Great-Britain.

Feb. 2. Some Letters from Algiers, in Consul of a certain Power, labours the Dey and Regency to a Rupture with and to send a Number of his Corsair Coasts of that Island.

By the last Letters from Jamaica, that the Governor of the Havanna has refused Order from Old-Spain, not to the foreign Shipwrights employed in Condition whatever; so intent are their Naval Force, to be in Reading in the first Emergency.

It is remarkable, that Two German and North-Britons, gave their Approbation, in Favour of a very popular Occasion, in Honour of a very popular Occasion.

Feb. 3. The following is said to be extract from a Letter of a Great Man of Distinction here in England; "I am Exile for the Quiet of my Country; I have been better, if my virulent Opponent too, for the Quiet of his Country."

We hear that Two particular Officers received Pensions each, one of 3000l. per Annum.

Feb. 5. We are told by Letters from the Preparations making by the Emperor, forebode a great Effusion of Blood in Russia, if they should be wanted, Men into the Field, and the Turks them on all Sides; but in Proportion the Russians may greatly avail themselves. By the Number of Cadets going on board Ships, it is computed that 1000 Men, will soon amount to 20000. A great Patriot, it is said, will soon be set at Liberty; and a Scene, relative to the British, shall astonish all Europe.
