your Affections, but convince them of the Folly, as well as Futility, of every Attempt to oppress you.

"By some of the public Prints lately received from your Parts, I find Religion brought at last into the Dispute, in order, no Doubt, either to promote, or encrease your Divisions, in conformity to the trite Adage, Divide & Impera; for what other End can Men possibly aim at by the Introduction of religious Controversy at this Juncture. Believe me, my Friend, there are few Provinces amongst you where an Æschines may not be found. The Answer of the Delphian Oracle to Philip of Macedon is, on this Occasion, worthy of Observation. Make Coin thy Weapon, and they it conquer all. The Success answered his Expectation, for by bribing their Orators to premote their Divisions, Greece may be said more properly to have been bought, than conquer'd. How difgraceful to the Authors are fuch Disputes at this alarming Crifis, and how little do these Men imitate the Conduct of Themistecles and Aristides before the Battle of Salamin, who, tho' at the greatest personal Enmity with each other, when the Liberties of their Country were in such imminent Danger, became immediately reconcil'd, and nobly facrificed their private Refentment to the Public Good.

" It gives me Concern too to find, from some late Exportations from hence, the least Design of one Province taking any ungenerous Advantage of the Distresses of another, and furnishing thereby an Example, which if follow'd by others, might be fatal to the Liberties of all America. What have those Men to answer for, who wou'd run the Risk of sacrificing, not only the Welfare of themselves and Children, but of even Millions yet unborn, for the mo-mentary Gratification of their own felfish and fordid Paffions? Let not this however betray you into any future unseasonable Distrust, so as to thwart the general Good, fince it is your own Faults if you are not all happy, and which Nothing but your Difunion and the most imprudent Measures can prevent; and I still hope that the prophetic Spirit of those Persons who have foreto'd your Destruction from the Schism that will prevail in the mercantile Body, will be foon put to Silence. The noble Sacrifice this respectable Body of Men so readily made in the Affair of the S: mp-Act is a fufficient Proof of their Public Virtue, and as their Conduct upon that Occasion was crowned with all the Success they cou'd have wished, there is little Reason to apprehend they will at prefent adopt any other. "But whatever may be the future Proceedings of the Merchants with you, the People ought to enter in mediately into the strictest Associations for the Encouragement of Oeconomy and Industry, to difcoalage by every lawful Means in their Power the Importation of European Manufactures, and to diftinguish with — those Persons who wou'd endeavear to derive private Advantages from public Calaanity, either by advancing the Prices of their Commodities, or by a Continuance of their Imports. These Associations too, in order to be effectual, ought to extend to the Importations of one Province into another, respecting the particular Species of Goods to be enumerated, for Reasons too obvious to

" At the same Time likewise you make a Sacrifice of your own Pride and Vanity, by appearing as much as possible in homespun Manufacture, there fe. ms a Necessity of inspiring the softer Sex with an equal Spirit of Patriotism, by making them fully shible what they owe on this Occasion to their Country, themselves, and their Children, and by loving before them the many Examples of heroic Virtue and Magnanimity recorded of their Sex by Historians in all Ages. It feems indeed fomewhat furprifing, that whilst our Heroines of this Island are displaying their Love of Liberty by the most generous Subscriptions to the Assistance of that illustrious Stranger Pacli, so little of the same Spirit appears in the Fair in America, where every virtuous and generous Motive that ought to engage the Attention of the human Heart, calls for their utmost Assistance. find at present very little Alteration in the Demand for Tea, Silks, Ribbons, Lace, and every other expensive Article of Female Vanity, tho' that for the coarsest Woollens seems considerably abated. My Concern for a People whom I have long known, and whose Loyalty to the illustrious House of Hanover. been tainted, inc for your Welfare; and there is little Reason to doubt of your obtaining a full Redress of all your Grievances by an Adoption of prudent Measures, and a-voiding every kind of Riot and Tumult, by a due Support of, and Obedience to the Civil Power, and by maintaining with a decent and manly Firmness those civil and religious Rights deliver'd down to you by your Fore-Fathers, and of which you are only the Depositaries, or Trustees of, to Posterity."
