TEN PISTOLES REWARD.
STOLEN the 4th of this Instant, at Night, out of Mr. Dick's Stable; at London-Town, a dark brown HORSE, such a Colour as is commonly called black, with a Star in his Forehead, and his Tail nick'd and dock'd, he is partly English Blood, which is discoverable in his Appearance. The Horse has been used to a Carriage, and trots well, that being his natural Gait, but he paces when he is rode, though very awkwardly; his Tail was spoil'd in the Nicking, and hangs in a very particular Manner; he has lately been used in one of his hind Legs, which occasions one Ankle to be bigger than the other, and his off hind Hoof is very remarkable, being much wore with dragging in his Pace.—Whoever secures the Horse and brings the Thief to Justice, so that he be convicted, shall be paid by me, Ten Pistoles; or, whoever brings the Horse, to Mr.
Dick, at London-Town, or me at Annapolis, shall be rewarded for their Trouble.

ANTHONY STEWART.
N. B. It is supposed the Horse was stolen by a Fellow, who that same Night rob'd Mr. Maybury, of this City, of some Money, and Mr. Ewit of a Saddle and Bridle: He induced a Boy, who lodged in Mr. Maybury's Shop, to open the Door and let him in, from whence he stole the Money, and persuaded the Boy to go with him, but he left the Boy in Baltimore, who is since returned to his Master.
