

"We trust therefore, gentlemen, that as you have hitherto coincided happily in opinion with this society, on the present occasion we shall not differ. It will afford the highest satisfaction to us, to find that at your next general meeting, our confidence is well founded, and that we shall continue to be (agreeable to our wishes) the steady and unanimous friends of liberty.

Signed by request of WATKIN LEWES,
the Society. chairman.

The publick may be assured, that the orders sent last week to stop those guard-ships that were intended to go back to their station at Plymouth, was solely owing to an intention of his majesty to review all the 30 guard-ships at Spithead, together with some frigates, after the birth-day, and that the reports of a jealousy of the French and Spaniards not having disarmed is totally void of foundation, their late fleet at Toulon being disarmed and laid up in ordinary, and the Spaniards also; and that after his majesty's review the guardships will be separated and appointed to their proper stations at Portsmouth, Plymouth, and Chatham.

A genteel FORTUNE to be gained. ANY gentleman of good character and connexions, has now the opportunity to be concerned in one of the most lucrative manufactories that ever was brought to America, and by directing a line for A. B. to be left with the printer of this paper, will be waited on with a full explanation by the advertiser: it is desired that none but people that have a full intent to business will answer this, as many may want to satisfy curiosity, and none but principals will be treated with, as this is no visionary scheme, but a well digested plan of trade, founded on a sure sale and real profits, and grounded on events absolutely certain.

Anne Arundel county, July 12, 1773. On the third day of August next, will be sold on the premises, at publick vendue,

ONE hundred acres of land, whereon the subscriber formerly lived, on which are two tenements, one of them being well improved, having a dwelling-house 20 feet by 16, under which is a cellar walled with stone, kitchen, quarter, tobacco-house, and other necessary buildings; there are two valuable apple orchards on said land, with other fruit trees. The land is situated within a small distance of several valuable water-mills. The soil is good; on which is some meadow ground partly cleared, well watered, and timber enough to support the land with care. For title and terms apply to WILLIAM HAMS, son of George.
