oftener like brutes.

By a gentleman who arrived here from Pruffia laft week we are informed, that his Prussian majesty is beautifying the city of Potsdam, taken down all the old houses, and rebuilding them in a most elegant uniform taste; all to be of the same height and dimensions; and as for the late poor inhabitants that occupied them, they are to have the new houses at the same rent they had the old ones; which reflects no little honour on the king; but this is only one among the many good acts he daily does for his people; for, however he may differes his neighbours, he certainly cherifies his own subjects and gives them all the bleffings of both peace and plenty.

GEORGIA, March 8. Extral of a letter from Augusta, Feb. 11.

" One M'Fal, from the Upper Creeks, with an Indian, called the Mad I urkey, are just arrived, and report, that by the way they met with one skutchiby, the head man of the Coweta tribe, who by them, fent to Mr. Galphin a talk to the following effect, viz. That having had one of his men killed by the white people, and his own life endangered, he was very much grieved, and had twice fent out his people to take satisfaction, which they had done. That he was now satisfied, and did not desire war, or that the fires which were burning in Charlestown and his nation should be put out, provided the white people would put up with their losses; that they had people in plenty, but to him, one man was a great deal. That he defired Mr. Galphin would let the governor know his talk, and that, if we were fatisfied with these terms, there should be peace for the future, and he might let the Virginians and other settlers know, that they might return to their settlements, and plant as before, that they should be no more disturbed, and that he himself was going to plant corn at the Ogmulgy old

By the above talk it would feem, that Skutchiby takes all the mischief hitherto done. Upon himself, that consequently it is not the act of a parcel of straggling mad young fellows, but a deliberate act of revenge of one of their head men, who takes upon him to prescribe the terms upon which he is willing to make peace, and who, if satisfaction be insisted on, will be apt to try to draw his whole nation into a war with us.

The Mad Turkey also said, he understood there were upwards of 50 Indians in the engagement with our militia; and he heard some of them brag that they were so well prepared, that they had nothing to fear from our people, if there had been roo of them.

NEW-YORK, April 7.

Extraß of a letter from Baffetterre, in St. Christopher's, dated March 7, 2794.
"We are full of the hopes of a speedy Spanish war; their notorious behaviour on some recent occasions, will not be passed over with impunity. Mr. Welch, a merchant of this place, had a veilel loading at Cat. Island with timber, (as island belonging to the English) and the Spaniards of Porto Rico hearing of it, fent over 50 armed men, who took her, and maffacred every foul on board."

PHILADELPHIA, April 11. Extrast of a letter from Johnson Hall, dated the 28th of March.

"In confequence of a meeting held by 81r William Johnson, last November, with the chiefs of the fix nations, concerning the murder of the four French men on Lake Ontario, whose boat they also plundered, there arrived here yesterday, three runners, or messengers from them, to acquaint Sir William, that a number of the Sachims were on their way lither, with two of the murderers whom they had to deliver up to justice; they have also paid so much regard to Sir William's admonitions to them at that treaty, that they are now bringing down a quantity of fkins and furrs to make up the Frenchmens losses; this is more than they could ever be prevailed upon to do before, and air William is hopeful, this precedent, will be of very great service, as it certainly will deter others from being guilty of the like in suture:
