

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

T H U R S D A Y, SEPTEMBER 1, 1774.

December 23, 1773... REWARD... D-ember 23, 1773... REWARD... about ten days ago, from the house...

Virginia, June, 1774... REWARD... Virginia, June, 1774... the honorable the general attorney...

John Tayloe, George Washington... wagon continues to ply from... to New Castle and Rock Hall...

COPENHAGEN, April 30.

His majesty has resolved and already given proper orders to unite the Baltic with the German ocean...

Paris, May 18: The following is a copy of a letter which his majesty sent lately to the count de Maurepas...

May 20: His majesty signalizes the beginning of his reign by his prudence, wisdom, and benignity...

The finances have been one of the first objects debated in three successive councils...

Paris and at court, his equipages for hunting, and his expenses, absorbed 17 or 18,000,000 livres more...

Lord North, it is now publicly talked of, last week received some intelligence from Lord Stormont...

By what I can learn, the death of Louis the 15th will give a strange turn to the affairs of Europe...

LONDON, May 19.

A foolish Scotch courier laid yesterday, that the French king had been poisoned by some emissaries from Boston...

The advices from Crimea are very favourable, for Dewlet Gherai Khan has informed his highness...

May 17: Lord Sandwich, during the debate upon the American affairs in the house of lords...

May 19: We hear that the independent freeholders of several counties in Ireland have formed themselves into separate societies...

Extract of a letter from St. Kitts, March 1. The Lynx sloop of war, by whom I convey these few lines to you...

May 21: From the express which is dispatched by government to Boston, the friends of the constitution hope that the olive branch will be extended...

It is reported in the neighbourhood of St. James's that Lord Howe will shortly be appointed to a very important command on actual service.

Two more regiments of infantry are, it is reported, ordered to hold themselves ready to embark for New York on a short notice.

It is now generally understood that immediate orders will be issued for augmenting considerably the garrisons of Port Mahon and Gibraltar.

Lady Bute, it is reported, intends setting off for Paris in a few days, but whether his business is of a public or private nature we do not know.

Notwithstanding the premier may think to amuse the nation into a supine lethargy, by crying peace, peace, yet there are letters in town of indubitable authority...

May 18: The count of Cracow complaining to the emperor, that by the disturbances in Poland, his losses amounted to more than twelve millions of florins...

The canvas is already begun in the city for sheriff against midsummer-day next. The society of the bill of rights, the constitutional club, and the ministry, will each start two persons.

The protest of the lords against the Boston bill, it is said, has disgraced the premier very much, as he is apprehensive it will be the means of spurring the Americans up to resist government...

PREHENSIVE IT WILL BE THE MEANS OF SPURRING THE AMERICANS UP TO RESIST GOVERNMENT...

The Quebec bill is, of all others, the most infamous and despotic, it makes Great Britain ten thousand times more arbitrary than Louis XV. was...

A noble lord, who has systematically supported the measures of government, asking a member in the minority, the other day, at the Smyrna (rather sneeringly) what day a noble duke was robbed nigh Kennington?

Our readers will doubtless be pleased with a relation of the ceremonies performed at the death of the late French king: As soon as his christian majesty was given over, the four heralds of arms were ordered to wait in the antichamber next to his majesty's bed-room...

As soon as his christian majesty was given over, the four heralds of arms were ordered to wait in the antichamber next to his majesty's bed-room...

As soon as his christian majesty was given over, the four heralds of arms were ordered to wait in the antichamber next to his majesty's bed-room...

The duke of Leinster's attendance on his duty in parliament here, in preference to that of Ireland, does that young nobleman the highest honour...

The duke and duchess of Northumberland, it is said, are preparing to set off for Paris, to be present at the coronation.

Lord North, it is now publicly talked of, last week received some intelligence from Lord Stormont, our ambassador at Paris, which has greatly lessened his opinion of the pacific intentions of the young king of France.

A scheme is in agitation to grant the India company a bounty on the importation of low-priced teas, in order to prevent their being smuggled here from France and Holland.

By what I can learn, the death of Louis the 15th will give a strange turn to the affairs of Europe...

The canvas is already begun in the city for sheriff against midsummer-day next. The society of the bill of rights, the constitutional club, and the ministry, will each start two persons.

The protest of the lords against the Boston bill, it is said, has disgraced the premier very much, as he is apprehensive it will be the means of spurring the Americans up to resist government...

As soon as his christian majesty was given over, the four heralds of arms were ordered to wait in the antichamber next to his majesty's bed-room...