R. BAKER, furgeon dentift, from Williamburg,
Virginia. is just arrived in this city in his Virginia, is just arrived in this city in his way to Baltimore, and intends returning the beginning of October next; that those who are disposed to apply to him may not be disappointed, he will be at the coffee-house, where they may consult him in all disorders of the teeth, gums, sockets, ulcers, cancers, abscesses, fiftulas; suppurations and inflammations in the gums, which are more or less of a malignant nature; and in this way not only the gums are destroyed but also the Those persons who have had the misfortune of losing their teeth, may have teeth transplanted, and natural teeth grafted on the old stumps; also artificial teeth from a single tooth to a compleat set, so that they may eat, drink, and seep with them as natural ones. His antiscorbutic dentrifice for preserving the teeth and gums, is quite free from any corrolive preparation, and is a certain cure for all diforders of the teeth, gums, and foul breath. Its superior efficacy over any thing yet offered to the public will be evinced in once using: It concocts the vitiated juices, and renders a juvenile fragrance to the breath beyond description; which no nauseous tincture, or cloying odours of perfumed essence can give; it also makes the teeth white and beautiful, causes the gums to grow firm to the teeth, makes the faliva pure and balfamic, is perfectly innocent, will eradicate the fcurvy, and restore the gums to their pristine state, if the teeth and gums have been thoroughly cleaned by some skilful dentist: Its efficacy is well known to the principal nobility, gentry and others of Great-Britain, France, Ireland, Holland, and other principal places in Europe, also to some thousands in America. The dentrifice may be had with proper directions at Mrs. Howard's coffee house, and at his house in Williamsburg, where all merchants, shop-keepers, masters of vessels, may be supplied with any quantity to fend to foreign parts, with proper discitions in any language. Each pot is staled up with his coat of arms, as in the margin of the directions to prevent fraud.—Vincit veritas.
