this spring, handsome, and upwards of fifteen hands high, and well made in proportion, was got by Col.
Sharp's noted Othello, and out of a remarkable fine

England the coach horse; from this strain out of light mares, they breed those noble horses called hunters, which is preferred to any in Great Britain, for either news-paper, to be published weekly on Saturday which they engage to do, on the instant, and in partial principles, consistent with the strictest secret and decorum.—Upon those principles, and those only they take the liberty of requesting the patronage of their abilities and industry in every particular will be used to make the Pennsylvania Mercury, and Universal Advertiser, as improving, instructive, and entertaining as possible. For this purpose they intend giving their readers a relation of the most remarkable and important occurrences, foreign and domestic, collected from the magazines and papers in Europe and America, as well as from other sources, having a particular regard to such matters, as shall most impinge relate to the welfare of the colonies.—To communicate a variety of events of every kind—the arrival and departure of ships—all interesting, marine, literature, improvements in agriculture, &c. &c. with such ingenious observations as may tend to the entertainment of the public.—Nor shall a place be wanting for judicious remarks, essays, moral, historical, political, geographical, and poetical of the learned of both sexes, in this and the neighbouring provinces, whose general affection is earnestly requested, and to whom the paper shall be ever fresh and their productions recognized with gratitude—fully intending to establish a correspondence in Europe, the several colonies in America, and islands in the West-Indies. They hope that all due encouragement will be given to so laudable an undertaking, and therefore wish to prosecute their design, so soon as a number of subscribers are provided sufficient barely to support the expence, relying on the kindness of the public; for further encouragement, as this is performed, shall appear as deserve it.

Those ladies and gentlemen, who may please to submit us with their subscriptions, shall in the city, district of Southwark, and northern liberties have their papers handed to them, at their respective houses, or, if in the country, forwarded by the first opportunity.—Nor shall any care be wanting, to transfer them to the most distant customers, with all the expedition possible.—The rates of the paper and advertisements will be the same with those now printed in this city—all advertisements shall be inserted in order as they come in, and shall appear in a fair and conspicuous manner—and as it is our wish, to give the most perfect satisfaction, our best endeavours shall not be wanting to make the paper as compleat as possible, nor shall any partial natives, whatsoever, induce us to swerve from the assurances we now give the public.

Together with a publication of the Pennsylvania Mercury and Universal Advertiser, we propose carrying on the printing-business, in a correct, careful, and diligent manner; and any person that may please to employ us, will be attended to with respect and fidelity.
