The day was spent in perfect mirth; the entertainment, which was in a pleasant grove, well adapted for the purpose, concluded with a dance on the green of thirteen couple of the younger ladies and gentlemen, and the joy expressed in every countenance clearly shewed, that the company were happy in an opportunity of testifying publicly the esteem which they bear his Most Christian Majesty and the royal family of France, while they heartily rejoiced at an event so truly important and pleasing to a people, with whom they are united by the strongest ties of honour, gratitude, and affection.

Mr. Brown,
I DON'T know what farther satisfaction can be given as to Kanter's blood more than the certificate from under the hand of Mr. Newbiggin, so often already published, and came enclosed to me in a letter from Mr. Marshall, of Elderfield, who purchased the horse, and was recommended to him as a very high bred horse before he bought him; I am well satisfied he could not be imposed upon, you may rely his pedigree is genuine; they that are not satisfied with what I have always said, that he was as high bred as any horse that I imported, will be loath to believe any thing I can say, and must have some reason to pretend not to believe what is so well attested. I have sent you the two advertisements I first published in the year 1766, you will there see Figure and Kanter's pedigree, from your friend
THOMAS HAMILTON.

inches high, very strong, moves well, and clear of blemishes. He was bred by Mr. Thomas Hutchinson, her dam by Steady, her grand dam was the dam of Smeaton's Wildair. This under the hand of Mr. Adam Newbiggin of Belford.

It may be presumed from Ranger's strength his offspring will be fit for draught or saddle; and, from the purity of his blood for maid or turf, according to the mares.

The money to be paid at covering, or before the mares are taken away. The mares that do not prove with foal by these horses this season, shall be covered by them next season at half price.
