

Dear beloved Brethren,
Banjers play and bagpipes join
To swell the chorus, and refine
Our concerts; while we celebrate
Our prospects on the roll of fate.

But let us for a time look back
And laugh at all the noisy pack
Of red hot whigs who first began
This strange, great revolution plan!
While our good friends lay snugly by,
Fully determin'd to comply
With edicts of the strongest side
As things might in due course betide.—
We, tender laws, 'tis true evaded
And always fully were persuaded
The time would come some how or other
When such vile laws would cause a pother,
And be revis'd or voted down,
Which would our anxious wifhes crown;
And the no' whigs would suffer most
As many o'them, find to their coit;
Their money gone, their fortunes spent,
Too late they heartily repent,
And curse that patriotic flame
Which plac'd them on the lists of fame;
And we, no doubt, shall soon at large,
Fall on our debtors, and discharge
That vengeance, which we've hoarded up
And make them taste o'the bitter cup
Of dire distress and adverse fate;
While we perhaps may rule the state:
And each one henceforth ever glory
In being a whig, tho' once—A T O R Y.

WILLIAM SANDERS.

Port-Royal, February 9, 1779.
UPWARDS of two years ago I was struck with a paralytic stroke, which affected me very much; it happened that I met with Mr. Logan, who promised to make a cure of my leg and arm, without any inward application, by applying a kind of ointment; I found in about a fortnight a great deal of relief in my right arm, knee, and ankle; from the anguish of the gout it continued rather longer than I expected. I write this for the good of mankind.

EDWARD DIXON.

Gloucester county, April 14, 1779.
I HEREBY certify, that my wife has been had with rheumatic pains these six years, and captain Whitton sent Mr. Logan to see her; when he came he said he could relieve her, and in three weeks time she was clear of all pains in her arms. This I write in behalf of Mr. Logan, as several doctors have had her in hand and did her no good.

EDWARD LAYTON.

THE trustees of Charlotte Hall school are once more earnestly requested to attend at the Cool Springs on Thursday the eighth day of May next, if fair, if not the next fair day, to receive plans and proposals, agree and contract with any person or persons who may be willing to undertake the building of a school sufficient to receive and accommodate sixty scholars, masters, and servants; and all persons desirous of undertaking the said buildings, are invited to attend on the said day: And whereas there have already been three different days appointed for a meeting of the said trustees, and a number sufficient to transact business have never attended, it is hoped that the gentlemen trustees will on the above day be very punctual in meeting, that a design so beneficial to the community may be no longer retarded.
