opportunity to exhibit their talents for ridicule, and to assert that your government cannot be of long duration, because men of abilities, that are good whigs (and they acknowledge you have such among you) will not long be persuaded to fill your public offices on such terms; while your friends admire the patriotism of those who have served you during the war, under every disadvantage to themselves and families. Large bets are now offering, that before the end of the year 1784, you will correct most of your former errors; that your civil list, peace establishment, will be fixed permanently, agreeable to your bill of rights, and that such of your civil officers whole whole time and attention was taken up in the state's service, and who suffered considerably by your mode of payment during the war, will at least be put on a footing with your military officers, by having state certificates issued to them for the deficiency of their pay, occasioned by the mode, in which you have during the former part of the war, obliged them to receive their salaries, or serve you at their own private expense, which too many of them were not rich enough to afford. My best wishes have constantly attended the United States of America in general, and the state of Maryland in particular. Hoping to hear from you by every opportunity, I remain, &c."

The calculator of the almanacks printed in Maryland, Pennsylvania, and Delaware states, requests all those who have in possession any of these annual publications for the present year, to correct an error in the table of eclipses, by the annexed rectifications. The error was occasioned by a mistake in the tables constructed by Mr. James Ferguson, and inserted in his astronomy. Those who have this ingenious gentleman's performance, may also note, that the error is in the second table under Moon's mean anomaly, opposite to 1784, where instead of 9, 26, 9, 8, read 7, 26, 9, 7. It is more than probable that the mistake is typographical, and therefore only in the 4th edition which was used on this occasion.

ECLIPSES for 1784.
There will be four eclipses this year; two of each luninary.
The first will be of the sun, February 20, about 3 o'clock in the morning, invisible—This eclipse not depending on Mr. Ferguson's mean lunation for 1784, is free from error.
The second is a visible eclipse of the moon.

Lower Marlborough academy, December 11, 1783.

THE Lower Marlborough academy having been shut up for some years past, on account of the general distress occasioned by the late war, the president and trustees now feel a pleasure in having it in their power to inform the public on this auspicious era, that this seminary is again filled up, and prepared for the reception of young gentlemen, and that they have provided a tutor, who in their opinion, is not only fully equal to the task of governing, but also of instructing youth in the Latin and Greek languages, and in the most useful branches of science. The trustees flatter themselves that this institution (the usefulness of which has been heretofore experienced) will meet with all due encouragement from the friends of literature, and they assure the public in general, that no exertions of theirs shall be wanting in the regular discharge of the trust reposed in them by law, to carry into full effect the benevolent intention of the legislature in founding the seminary over which they preside.
