The last gentle hint.

E have several times, by way of advertisement, called on all those indebted to us to appear and settle their accounts, and have threatened to bring actions against those who did not comply; we have hitherto held our hands, knowing the scarcity of money and the difficulty of the times, and trusting that our debtors would resect and comply, withhour reasonable and very moderate requisitions, but we are now convinced that Job's stock of patience would not be sufficient to bear with the tardiness of the present day; we therefore now, for the last time, require all who owe us to come in and settle their accounts by bond or note, if they cannot make it convenient to give us cash, by or before the first day of June next. Those who do not regard this notice may be affured that suits will be commenced without ceremony.

HE subscribers finding it impossible at this time to raife money sufficient to discharge the several claims against them, and being willing and desirous to fatisty all just demands, they take this method to in-form their creditors that they propose to convey their property to trustees for the payment of their debts. To effect this business they earnesty request all their creditors to meet at Upper Marlborough, on Thursday the 29th instant, with their claims, when trustees may be appointed, and measures taken, which they hope will be satisfactory to all of them.

They are induced to propose this plan because they are convinced that there will be a confiderable balance for themselves and their families, after the payment of their debts, if they can only be indulged with the fale of their property on a reasonable credit; when, if a different conduct should be observed and their property should be taken in execution and fold, during the prefront fearcity of cash, they must be crushed, and their creditors might suffer. Relying on the justice and generosity of those interested, they flatter themselves that this proposition will be generally acceded to.
