Annapolis, Auditor's office, Jane 18, 1767.

HE auditor having directed a carcular letter, of which the following is a copy, to the feveral perceived by each during the late war, and apprehending that some of them may be removed from the places they lived at when they received the money, &c. by which means the letters may not get to their hands, he takes this method of calling upon all persons concerned, and requests their particular attention to the subject of the said letter.

C. RICHMOND.

(CIRCULAR:)

Annapolis, Auditor's office,

I PON the books of this office you ftand charged at ftated below. I was in hopes that every person who had received any sum or sums of money from this state for the purpose of recruiting the army or procuring supplies for carrying on the late war, would long before this time have rendered such accounts thereof, as would have enabled the officers here to have charged the United States with such parts of their disbursements as are properly chargeable thereto. And as the time for presenting the claims of the state against the union is limited to a very sew months, I have to request that you will, without loss of time, enable me to settle your account; which may very materially benefit the community of which you are a member.

3 With much respect, I am, Sir,
Your obedient humble servant,

For PRIVATE SALE,
