A CAUTION,

To those who are disposed to buy the LAND, HOPKINS's FANCY.

TAVING conveyances from Gerard Hopkins, Elizabeth Hopkins, widow of the late Philip Hopkins, from the eldest son of Philip Hopkins, from Richard Hopkins the fecond son, from Richard Dowell and his wife and daughter, from Hutton and wife, another daughter, of their parts of the said land; and having other claims against the said land, it is with concern that I see Richard Hopkins undertake to advertise to sell that land upon the 15th day of April, 1789, without my knowledge or consent. The embarrassment upon it requiring the best counsel, I repeatedly proposed to Richard Hopkins and all concerned, to apply to the honourable the chancellor for his authority and direction, and I went and waited at Anpapolis for that purpose a long time in vain: under these circumstances I think it fair to publish this cautition. It is my interest that the land shall be sold for the utmost price that can be obtained; and I earnestly desire that justice may be done to every one concerned, but I do not apprehend these good effects will arise under the management of Mr. Richard Hopkins, and 1 therefore object to his interfering in this manner. STEPHEN WEST.
