Crimes, or the fac of Azoph, would be the principal means of putting a stop to the very rapid !uccesses of the Russians.

April 12. On Wednesday night last a very hot press. commenced in Corke harbour, when a number of ica-men were picked up.

In consequence of the present armament, and expected rupture with Russia, large orders for provisions, the ports and in the ships hereaster mentioned. have been received by different merchants at Waterford; of those for beef, searce any can be executed, the United States of America, the Spanish colonies, as there is very little in store; neither can those for pork and butter be answered to the wished for extent; both these articles have therefore experienced a considerable rise-The following were the prices current on Friday last: Butter 72s. per cwt. pork 26s. per cwt. ox beef, per tierce of 300lb. 75s. wheat 23s. to 24s. per barrel.

April 14. The people of this city are much alarmed, in consequence of the epidemic fever which rages in the county of Wexford; we will not call it plague, though there are some circumstances related which make us fear it is of that horrid description.

One is, that it was communicated to this part of the country, Poulke's-mill, a sea-port, where it first appeared, by a vessel which was drove in there a wreck, a short time ago, without a soul on board, which vessel the people seized and made a property of her cargo. It was amongst these particular people the con- co in the leaf and in good order, whatever be the tagion first appeared, and as the vessel was supposed to come from Smyrna, we fear it is the dreadful infection 10 peculiar to the Eastern countries.

By several people who arrived from Wexford, within these two days, we hear it is increating, and that almost in every house in the barony of Forth, to which it is as yet confined, the melancholy spectacle of sour or five dead bodies may be seen at one time.

A Mr. Hoare is come up to Dublin from that part of the country, who lost five of his servants by this direful contagion.

A WELCH CURATE

Was preaching a sermon, when intelligence was brought in, that a wreck had happened, and it was in those days when a general plunder was thought right. He heard different parts of the congregation whispering to each other, and all appeared ready to run out of the church, while those who were nearest the door were stealing out, one by one.

" Brethren-my dear brethren!" cried the curate, " One thing only have I to recommend to your serious attention-and I beg you will treasure it up in your hearts! Keep the Holy Scriptures ever in your mind, and now-let us fart fair!" On which he whipt down from the pulpit, and set off with the rest of the congregation.

PHILADELPHIA, June 7. DECREE of the National Assembly of France, on the importation and exportation of Tobacco, and on the duties on the importation thereof. ARTICLE I. THE importation of manufactured tobacco is prohibited throughout the kingdom, por shall it be imported in the leaf but in hogsheads through

II. Leaf tobacco shall be only imported by sea from Russia and the Levant—these tobaccoes must be imported direct, that is, those from the United States in ships of the said states, or in French ships—those from the Spanish colonies, in Spanish or French shipsthose from the Ukraine, in Russian or French shipsthose from the Levant, in French ships only, -all importation of the faid tobaccoes in other bottoms prohibited.

III. The importation of tobacco from the United States, the Spanish colonies, the Ukraine and the Levant, shall only take place at the ports following, to wit: Bayonne, Bourdeaux, Rochefort, La Rochelle, Nantes, L'Orient, Morlaix, St. Maloes, Grandville, Honfleur, Cherbourg, Rouen, Havre-de-Grace, Dieppe, St. Valery on the Somme, Boulogne, Calais, Dunkirk, Marseilles, Toulon, Cette, Point au de Mer.

IV. It is further permitted to import foreign tobacgrowth of it—through the custom-houses of Strasbourg, Valenciennes and Lille, paying duties thereon of 25 livres per quintal.

V. The same duty of 25 livres per quintal shall be paid on all tobaccoes imported in the ships of the United States, Spain or Russia.

VI. A duty of only 18 livres 15 sols per quintal shall be paid on tobaccoes imported in French ships direct from the United States, the Spanish colonies, Russia or the Levant.

The affembly suspends the consideration of the importation of tobaccoes from the colonies of France-by the above regulation a hogshead of tobacco imported in an American bottom into France pays about 12 dollars more duty than the same hogshead would do in a French ship-the motion had a good deal of opposition in the assembly, and some friends of America warmly interposed, which occasioned one member wittily to observe-" These gentlemen are so much Americans that they forget they are Frenchmen"-the decree was carried by a confiderable majority.
