ind the pales of the yard, and le the pales, with his finger upon the as foon as Mr. Hammond should . Hammond did come out of the his hand, and fired at him, and left hand; that thereupon, under at Mr. Hammond's negroes were m, one of which had a gun, and ond would also get another gun, he and as he was mounting the faid ck him on the neck and left shoulaid Gaither went off; that the faid of the above conversation, further as not yet fatisfied, and would alor the faid Hammond, and would e met him, and expressed his red that he was unfortunate in not before; that this deponent endead he said Gaither from the further revenge, but that such diffusions, ly salutary effect upon him, only the more determined; and that ther declared, that he could reconnce to hire affassins to take away intended to get a gun, and return

Gaither took his gun from the ete me on this 2d June, 1791.

J. T. CHASE.

Hammond; and that the debt for and had brought fuit against him

t that he never would pay it, and any one else, if he ever asked for APOLISE EDERICK and SAMUEL GREEN.

(XLVIth YEAR.)

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

WARSAW, May II.

Francisco Francisco FIE revolution so happily begun will transport.

according to all appearance, be completely consolidated, without violence or tumult. At Lubin, indeed, a weak incf-fectual shew of opposition to it, has De been discovered; but in Great Poland all ranks and degrees of men applaud it with

On the 8th instant the king, accompanied by all the senators, ministers, and officers of the crown, went on horseback to the church of the holy cross, between multitudes of the citizens and others, by whom the streets were lined. The air was rent by acclamations et vive le roi, vive le nation!

MADRID, May 8.

Our government is very much perplexed; fresh measures are thought necessary. The obedience of the people is not lessened, but requires to be nicely managed; and though the precautions of government appear diminished, they are in reality augmented. They talk very much of the arrival of eight prisoners, who were brought here the latter end of last month; two were in a private carriage, and the fix others in a common one; they were escorted by a detachment of cavalry.

GENEVA, May 20. It is very true that the king of Sardinia has sent a small army into Savoy, with 32 field-pieces.

We likewise learn, that the canton of Berne will as- for a continuance. semble from 8 to 10,000 men, who are to act in concert with the troops of Savoy, and with those which are at Porentine and in Tirol, the number of which amount to 8000 men. Thus, in our vicinity alone, there are already 24,000 well disciplined troops.

P A R I S, May 19.

A young man arrived from Nice at Marseilles: He wished to go through France-he was asked for a pastport-he had none. "You must go to the municipality"-so he did. "Sir, said he to a clerk, I want a passport." " What is your name?" Augustus Frederick." " No other name?" " No." " Who do you belong to?" "To my father and mother." " Are you of the department (county) of the mouth of the Rhone?" " No, Sir." " Of what department are you?" " Of the department of the Thames." " What is your father's name?" " Geerge." " What trade does your father follow?" " He is king of England." The clerk, who had not attended to the name of the department, was a little roused when he heard the quality of the youth's father; and, with all the gravity in the world, delivered the passport to Mr. Augustus Frederick, son of Master George, of the department of the Thaines, saying, "here's your passport, Sir, and I wish you well over the kingdom; bon voyage, mon petit Monfieur."

May 26. The baron de Thugut, a person of confidence with the house of Austria, is just arrived here. He is faid to be charged with a secret and important commission, and the public attention is consequently much fixed on his motions. Whatever may be the object of his visit, we shall be sure to have it through the medium of the diplomatic committee, as nothing can be now effected here, but with the concurrence of the national assembly.

Yesterday, for the first time since the barbarous, impolitic, and ever to be execrated revocation of the edict of Nantes, a congregation of protestants were seen in Paris, under the Ægis of the law, publicly worshipring the Eternal, according to their rights! M. Maron officiated as minister, and it is but justice to say, that we never faw a clergyman perform the fervice with more fervency, order and propriety---- His text was, spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and put on the armour of light." Rom. chap. xiii. ver. 12, 13. He dwelt long on the goodness of the Divinity, that in his wisdom suffered man to be persecuted to try his saith. He expatiated widely on the fage and philanthropic decrees of the naprove their gratitude by a strict, formal, and an uninterrupted obedience to the law, the nation, and the king. There were above 2000 present on the occasion-all the English in Paris assisted—the attraction for the artillery to proceed in proving all the new was irrefittible.

We learn from Nantes, that the fociety of the friends of the constitution there, not only went into mourning for Dr. Price, as the Jacobins here did, but have further resolved to place his bust in their hall, beside the declaration of the rights of men-to name one of the quarters of the town, confisting mostly of new on the 4th of November, when they celebrated the English revolution, to read his funeral oration. The greatest preparation is making in the plain of there were not less than ten thousand persons employed; the number, however, is now reduced to about eight thousand.

LEYDEN, May 29.

We have received, in a letter from Warsaw, the important news, that all regulations wanting to complete the revolution had been agreed to unanimoully; and that they had also settled the future organization of the diet. The present king, agreeable to the pacta conventa, appoints the number of senators, but future kings are only to choose them out of two candidates, which are each to present for every vacancy.

AMSTERDAM, May 30.

By a letter received from the Helder, dated on Saturday last, we are informed, that vice admiral Kingsbergen, who has for two years commanded the fleet of observation, had struck his flag, and that the whole fleet was going to be laid up in ordinary.

The directors of the East-India company have come to the resolution of recalling M. de Graaft, governor of the Cape of Good Hope, and of sending a deputation to regulate the confeited affairs, and repress the divisions in the faid colony.

LONDON, May 20.

The unfortunate situation of the bank of Amsterdam, feems to give fresh alarm every moment to the Dutch, who have been for some days past calling their money home from our funds. It seems a doubt whether any temporary assistance will be able to establish its credit Remittances to a considerable amount arrived by the packet on Thursday from America. They consist of bills drawn in the name of the United States, on their agent at Amsterdam.

The American bills are printed in a peculiar way, on square strips of very fine paper. They are all at ten days sight, and in general for five or six thousand

The recent remittances evince American preference to the manufactures of this country.-Holland may be allowed to be the mart of Trans-Atlantic productions, while America continues to be that of Britain, which must ever be the case under the fostering hand of a patriotic administration.

A well known miser in this city, who is possessed of no less a sum than 150,000i. in different kinds of stock; went to his tallow chandler's a few days ago, to buy a few pounds of common candles. The tallow chandler made him a present of a pound of moulds; with which act of generolity the miser was, no doubt, well pleased. When he got home, however, a difficulty arose, as he had no candlestick that would admit them: to reduce the end by feraping, would have he could not comply with his request, without the kind in the known world: leave of the directors, unless he would engage, by a The weekly consumption of coals amounts to 11,000 for a parrallel to this. Spain, continue to increase yearly.

weeks before.

from Berlin, which arrived on Wednesday, are not of England, and collaterally into this country.

a pacific tendency. The empress has repeated her assurances to the Britional assembly; and earnestly exhorted his auditory to tish factory, that in case of a war their property should not be moleited, and that British ships trading to their ports should be suffered to pass and repass as usual.

Orders have been sent from the board of ordnance pieces of cannon at Woolwich.

Extract of a letter from Portsmonth, June 6.

the confederation for the celebration of the ensuing present preparations and uncertainty, has not exceeded his breast and out at his back, which put an immeabirth-day of liberty, the 14th of July. Last week the usual peace price.

June 7. The departure of lord Hood's sleet for the North Sea is at length determined on; and, in contequence of the orders already sent down to Portsmouth, the first division will positively sail from Spithead in the courfe of this week, should the wind permit.

The squadron will consist of thirteen sail of the line, besides frigates, sloops, &c. and will be immediately followed by the remainder of the fleet, making in all thirty-five sail of the line, under the command of lord Hood, whose flag is expected to be hossted on board; the Victory about Sunday next-his domestics being all ordered to be in readiness to leave the town on Friday morning.

The first detachment, it is expected, will proceed for Leith Roads, where the whole will rendezvous before they sail into the Baltic. Vice-admiral Hotham, the senior officer now at Spithead, will command the first division, and will have at least two other slags under him. There will be seven admirals in all, fix of whom are already on board their respective

Letters from Petersburgh bring accounts of the astonishing activity with which the empress has prepared her fleets. All the British officers in her service have been replaced by French gentlemen, on the recommendation of the prince of Nassau.

The Russian division at Revel is ready to put to sea, and that at Cronstadt will be ready forthwith. The army at Livonia, assembled on the banks of the Danube, is already numerous. It consists of the troops which served against Sweden in Finland, and has been reinforced by detachments from Catharioflow, and from the army of prince Potemkin.

The London Gazette contains a proclamation, by which the bounties for encouragement of feamen are prolonged from the 31fl of May to the 30th of June. According to the last accounts, the Russian forces conflitted of 537,898 men.

June 12. A letter from Portsmouth, June 6, says, se It the negotiation carrying on with Rullia does not take a different turn from what is at pretent apprehended, part of the fleet will sail for Leith Roads the first fair wind alter Wednelday next." A letter from Portsmouth, dated June 1, fays, " A most calamitous event has been prevented here by a timely discovery—a plan having been formed to fire our dock yards by means of foreign incerdiaries lent to this country for that purpose. An expreis received. by the commissioner, brought intelligence of the plut, with orders to take every precaution for the feculity of the dock-yards and arfenals."

The popular toast at present on board the fleet at Spithead is, " Perseverance to the empress of Russia."

D U B L I N, May 3. As a feafible inducement to men of wealth in Ireland been to waite them. The miler bethought him, that to engage in public works, especially in that of Iron, as he was known at the bank, he might borrow a where proper coals can be had, a correspondent has candlessick that would receive his candles. He ap- favoured us with the following state of the Carron plied next day to one of the clerks, who told him that manufactory, in Scotland, the greatest perhaps of the note under his hand, for a thousand pounds, that the tuns, at 4s. per tun; and the confumption of each day candlestick should be forthcoming. To this the miser is equal to that of the city of Edinburgh during a objested, and went to another office in the bank, where whole week. As many coals are therefore confumed he was more successful. He actually borrowed a can- in the Carron sounderies, as would suffice a city of dlestick, and carried it off in his pocket, to be return- 700,000 inhabitants. A thousand workmen are daily ed when his pound of candles, given him, perhaps out employed in this manufactory, whose wages amount of compassion, by the tallow chandler, shall be con- to upwards of 500l. a week, or 26,400l. per annum. sumed! We shall search, in vain, in the life of Elwes The demands from abroad, and particularly from June 3. Accounts were received yesterday at the se- June 12. The plague now raging in the Morea, or cretary of state's office, by way of France, that the Southern Greece, as also on other parts of the eastern plague rages with dreadful havoc in that part of Tur- coasts of the Adriatic Sea, the Archipelago and the Lekey nearest to the Mediterranean, insomuch, that in a vant, must occasion the strictest quarantine to be obsmall district a thousand persons have died in a day. ferved with respect to all vessels coming from those June 6. The press upon the river has, within these parts; and, as that dreadful distemper increases as au-"la nuit est passe, le jour est leve," "the night is sar few nights, been much less active than for several tumn approaches, it will prevent merchants from sending, perhaps, any more shipping on the Turkey trade Notwithstanding the assertions in some of the prints till winter sets in, which must affect the price of several to the contrary, we are affured that the last dispatches atticles of merchandise imported from thence into

PORTLAND, July 29.

The many extraordinary accounts respecting the plague in Ireland, have been-circulated without foundation. Captain M'Lellan who arrived on Monday last heard nothing of it in Dublin.

PORTSMOUTH, July 27. Saturday last, the following melancholy accident happened in the parish of North Hampton: A son of Mr. John Page, about twelve years of age, went into "Orders are received here to complete all the ships the house of a negro family, in his father's neighbourthat are to be under the command of lord Hood, with hood, (the negro man and his wife were ablent, and provisions and stores of all kinds, up to four months. had lest three or four children at home, the eldest From this circumstance it is supposed the whole fleet about seven years old) and observing a loaded gun in buildings, Le Quarter de Richard Price, and annually, will shortly sail for the North Sea." . the corner of the room; he immediately took it into Accounts from the continent are still dark and un- his hands, cocked it, and drew it by the muzzle to certain, and nothing has the appearance of peace, un- the door, when by some accident it went off, and disless the price of the funds, which, even amidst the charged its contents of powder, shot and wadding, into