Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Cape-François, to his friend in this city, dated September 18.

At last the forces under the command of general Desparbes, arrived yesterday. They consist of 6400 men, of whom 4000 are national guards. The new civil commission arrives with them. The general appears ready to dispense with ceremony and eriquette, rence Oneale, John Threlkeld and Richard Wootton, and is anxious only for the safety of the remains of the Esquires. unfortunate colony.

se It was full time that this succour should arrive, the unhappy province of Cayes is nearly ruined, and by the manœuvres of an infernal cabal the slaves the parish of Gros Morne were driven to follow the example of the rebels in the northern part.

The timely and courageous exertions of the inhabitants of Borgne, aided by colour citizens, have dipersed some bands and destroyed 3 or 400 insurgents, besides capturing 100, sifty of whom have been executed; the remainder are kept for examination, to endeavour at discovering the movers of the insurrection."

WINCHESTER, October 8.

Two traders of this town, who have stores in the territory of the United States south of the river Ohio, lait week received letters from their agents there, from which we have taken the following extracts:

KNOXVILLE, September 12, 1792. " I am forry to inform you of our present alarming situation—the five Chickamawga towns, as well as the Creeks, have declared war against the United States, and the celebrated John Watts has marched at the head of 500 warriors, with the intent of committing convenient brick house, two stories high, in good repair, depredations on some part of the frontiers-Many and a small wooden tenement, late the property of imagine they are destined against this place, others captain John Pitt, deceased.
