BALTIMORE, February 8.

A letter from a gentleman in Dublin, to his friend in New-York, dated November 14, says, "We had here some disagreeable work, on the first reading of the catholic bill. A numerous mob paraded the streets, shouting " Liberty and equality;" they then proceeded to the parliament-house, in order, it is said, to give greater force to the question then in agitation, shouting as before, "Liberty or death." The sheriffs attended by the military, appeared, and seized the ring-leaders; they immediately retaliated, by seizing the officer of the guard; the sheriffs strove to call them to a sense of their duty, but in vain; the enraged multitude threw stones in every direction, the drums beat to arms-when those friends to liberty, the Irish volunteers, turned out, headed by their patriotic commanders, colonel James Napper Tandy, and colonel Smith; a volley was discharged on each side, immediately after which, the military were ordered to their barracks, fearing the result of offending citizen-soldiers, who appeared for the purpose of protecting the little liberty they now enjoy."

A letter of the 1st instant, from a gentleman in borough. New-York, to his correspondent in Philadelphia, says, -" Three days since, the French packet, bearing the cap of liberty on her main-top-gallant-mast-head, arrived here, after a passage of fixty days. I have been on board the packet, with a friend who perfectly un- county. derstands the French language, by whose aid, together with my own inquiries, I learned, that when Dumourier took Brussels, he also took 4000 prisoners, and the next day was joined by 1500 deserters; .cannon by hundreds, &c. and that the king of Prussia had declared and acknowledged the French a free and independent people-that he has retired to Berlin, and swears vengeance against the emigrant princes for deceiving him, besides demanding reimbursement for men and expences-All Italy, it was expected, would fall immediately into the hands of the French, and that the pope was actually a prisoner before the time of the packet's failing .- Of these things, however, we shall soon be able to mention further particu-
