MESSIEURS T. Worthington, Bowie, W. Thomas, Howard, Sprigg, Lloyd, Cox, Tilghman, arrett, Goldsborough, Douglass, Mackall, Denwood, Lookerman, Freeland, Daffin, Driver, Hawkins, Gordon, I. Thomas, Oneale, R. Bond, R. Wootton. Digges, Ridgely, of Wm. Ewing, Tomlinfon.

So it was resolved in the affirmative. True extract from the minutes. By order, Wm. HARWOOD, clk.

A BILL, entitled, An act to declare and explain the law in certain cases therein mentioned. TTHEREAS it is represented to this general assembly, that the statute of limitation, past in the twenty-first year of the reign of James the first, chapter the fixteenth, having lately received a conly given to it: And whereas doubts are now entertain- courage their country manufactory. ed by many of the good citizens of this state, whether tenants in tail, or their heirs, are comprehended within and barred by the said statute, which was passed for the purpose of limiting and prescribing the time within which every action for the recovery of lands, tenements, or hereditaments, should be brought: And whereas both justice and policy dictate that all purchases, made bona fide and sanctioned by a long and quiet possession, but more especially such purchases as have been made and possession retained under what hath been uniformly deemed to be the law of the land should be confirmed and established: And whereas deceased. this general affembly are informed and verily believe, that without the intervention of this legislature many of the good people of this state (whose ancestors have honestly purchased and paid for divers tracts of land and transmitted them to their posterity) will shortly be involved in numberless vexations and ruinous law suits under colour of some dormant entails: For declaring therefore the law in all such cases, and for the purpose of quieting all fuch possessions;

Be it therefore enacted, by the General Assembly of Maryland, That all and every person or persons claiming any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, within this state, and making title thereto as the issue or issues, heir or heirs, of a tenant or tenants in tail, or as a tenant or tenants in tail, whether general or special, shall be subject and liable to be barred by the statute of the twenty-first of James the first, chapter the fixteenth, and by all other statutes and acts for limiting the time within which any entry shall be made into, or action or suit shall be brought for the recovery of any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, used and practised within this state, to every intent and purpose whatever, in as full and ample manner as any person claiming any right, title or interest, in and to any lands, tenements, or hereditaments, in fee simple, or otherwise, is now subject and liable to be barred by any of the statutes aforesaid. Provided always, that all the savings and reservations in the said statute in favour of infants, femes covert, persons insane and beyond sea, shall be retained and referved to all issues, heirs and tenants in tail within that description, in the same. The European edition of this elegant work has sold manner and on the same construction as they are retained and reserved to heirs in see simple, and not otherwise, or in any other manner: Provided nevertheless, that the aforesaid act, or any part thereof, shall have no operation, force or effect, as to any causes or suits of law that may now be actually pending in any of the courts of this state.

For Private Sale,

On a Reasonable Credit.

THE subscriber's DWELLING PLANTA. TION, containing about nine hundred acres. This valuable estate lies twenty miles below the city of Annapolis, on Herring-Bay, and in full view of the Chesapeake. It has the advantage of a fine cove, well stocked with oysters, and for fishing and fowling, I think I may venture to fay, is superior to any other place in the United States; the soil is of excellent quality, equal to any in Maryland. There are two good meadows, and several others may be made without expence. The fituation of this plantation gives it every advantage for raising and fattening stock; it abounds in locust, mulberry and walnut, and a great plenty of good oak timber. The subscriber will attend at Mr. Mann's tavern until the twelfth instant, after which time application may be made to him at his own house, or to Mr. Benjamin Galloway, on West-river.

He has likewife for SALE, about four hundred acres of good farming LAND, lying adjoining the above, which he will dispose of on the most reasonable terms.
