& COLE, OK-BINDERS, and STA-

IONERS, tes and Campbell's Vendue Store reet, Baltimore, inform their friends and the , that they have lately esta-FATIONARY STORE, in Balti. cit the patronage of a generous they will endeavour to merit. with books on every subject in as the many valuable new pub. w on hand, are the follow.

, in 2 vols. it vol.—to be contined. 2 vols.—12 mo. gant, 2 vols .- 8vo.

of schools, s .- Complete Letter Writer, veying, Williams's Letters on -Allo,-Folio, Quarto, Royal, o Bibles, School Books of all of the Common Prayer, for the surch, price from 6/6 to 35/. f History, Divinity, Medicine wipaper. men in the country, shall be They expect in a few days a of Steuben's Military Discipline,

Novels, &c. &c. too numerous

S, and speedily will be PUB. ISHED,

IER and COLE, HLET, entitled,

AND CURRENCY

AMERICAN EDITION, OMAS PAINE, MAN, COMMON SENSE, &c.

1794. inea Reward.

sometime is by his connexions BRADLEY) a black man about high, and appears to be about ty-four years of age, a likely s of a shining black, ran away n the nineteenth June last, who t Stephen has a father, who is a h Mr. HUMPHREY BELT, near and that Stephen, also, somewas brought into Virginia by had him from Mr. Richard lis, where it is likely he may ould be in the neighbourhood of his relations. The above rethe subscriber, to any person w, and gives immediate inforly be got again, and all reasona-ought home. JOHN MANDEVILLE. 1, 1794.

Middleton,

CHAIR-MAKER, oft greatful thanks to his friends, so kind as to, favour him with pes he shall continue to deserve

I continues to carry on his buliranches, at his shop, in Princehouse to that of doctor James v on hand different kinds of furhad on reasonable terms. ne country will be cheerfully atally executed. 12, 1794.

ing claims against the ellate of senior, late of Elk-Ridge, deto notify the same to Richard of Annapolis, attorney at law, pefore the first day of November n of the deceased's estate will ant to his last will.

RAHDORSEY, Executrix.

of SHREWSBURY PARISH, Kent state of Maryland, give notice, fering a petition to the next gen act authorifing them to comlottery for the purpole of finishparish.

order of the vestry, JOHN HURTT, Register.

DERICK and SAMUEL GREEN.

(Lth YEAR.)

(No. 2489.)

MARYLAND GAZETTE.

R S D A Y, SEPTEMBER 25, 1794.

BRUSSELS, July 4. 39-00-18 S the retreat of the grand combined army on the Sambre, under command of prince Cobourg and the prince of Orange, had been resolved upon and events should take place, the troops are city for Holland and Louvain. The head quarters of the grand army were yesterday at Hal, and are expected to be transferred hither this evening. The heavy artillery has been fent by water to Maestricht. has been carried off or fold, even at the palace of their country and their independence. Lacken, and nothing remains but the bare walls.

Of the magazines, part were fold, and part distributed gratis among the people. The magazines at Mons were valued at five millions, and belonged chiefly to the Dutch. Part of them was burnt by the Austrians, and the rest fell into the hands of the French. Seven eights of the inhabitants of Hainault are Landrecy, Quesnoy and Conde, are blockaded by the enemy. Valenciennes alone can make any resist-

Two battalions of Dutch were taken at Mons; nine quadrons and three battalions besides, are still missing, not having appeared at the general rendezvous at Hal vesterday evening.

No description can convey an idea of the confusion that reigns at this moment among the combined tioops evacuating the country. With respect to the motives of evacuation, it is easy to see that it is a thing agreed upon between the Austrians and the French. The Dutch exclaim against the emperor, and the Austrians against the Hanoverians. I shall, however, soon be able to explain very fully, the new line of politics which the cabinet of Vienna has thought to adopt. consider it as the sole motive for the evacuation of the Netherlands, which the English and the other allies openiv reprodate.

General Beaulieu's camp at Ubras has been reinforced by 8,000 Prussians, who are not to remain with him, but to march to join the earl of Moira.

The volunteers of this city are all under arms. Strong patrols parade the streets day and night to maintain order, and will continue to do so till the arrival of the French, which we look for on Monday

Several millions in specie, and the archives, which the states of Brabant wished to secure in Holland, were Ropped by the Austrians and Dutch at Lillo, and escorted to Ruremonde by four squadrons of Dutch MAESTRICHT, July 16.

Two days ago the French began to bombard the ci tadel of Namur, which, after having been was ated, was again garrisoned by our troops. The garrison not only returned their fire, but making a fally, in concer with 5000 men under the command of general Latour, attacked the besiegers, and obliged them to retreat with los, four leagues beyond Namur.

Yesterday count Heberstein passed through this place to Neerwinde, with information to the prince of Cobourg, that twenty-eight battalions of Austrians are on their march between Coblentz and Cologne, to remorce his army. The count, who came directly from Vienna, assures us, that the emperor is levying 130,000 men in his hereditary states, and that this levy will be completed in the month of October. He also says, that the states of Brabant and Flanders have been formally diffolved, on the requisition of the emperor, by a provisional sentence of the chancery of the Netherlands at Vienna; so that if thote provinces should be reco vered, the emperor will be no more embarrassed by states or a constitution.

Two estatettes arrived here yesterlay, which orders the baggage of the feveral regiments, and the heavy artillery, to join the army; and by two in the evening they were in motion for I irlemont. It is the fovereign council of Brabant, not the states, that remains at Bruffels and acts in concert with the French, who are levying troops and contributions, and giving assignats in exchange for all the corn and provions of the country. DENDERMONDE, July 5. Barl Moira's army arrived here on Thursday evening, father fatigued with forced marches. About 240 of the men were draughted off to the hospitals. Yesterday the magazines and the hospitals of the army, commanded by the prince of Saxe Cobourg, passed theough Louvaine, on their happy journey back into Germany. In the disastrous actions on the 18th and 22d at I ourmay, the English lost all their artillery, that went under the command of colonel Congreve. The Austrians lost almost as much in the divisions commanded by general Otto. In contequence of the threatening calamities of war, the university at Louvaine is closed, and the Rudents and professors have joined the general

THORN, in PRUSSIA, July 5. General Kosciusko has not yet passeuliche Vistula, Bloniez, tour leagues from the same residence. The with only three days pay given them. It is thence inking of Prussia has left Konskie, and moved near the ferred, that the whole are to follow them the same frontiers of Southern Prussia, where he directs the road; and that the only object in view now, is to cover operations of the right wing of the army, which ex- Holland. ordered by the emperor, if certain tends from Louvicz to the prince royal's corps; so that We were this day joined by two British regiments, the the Prussian forces form a chain, and in a few days will 38th and 55th, from general White's brigade, but 19-00-56 passing day and night through this approach nearer to Warsaw. A corps of 7000 Russians without any tents or camp equipage—each company in is also at Biala, eight leagues from that city. In this, the army is to furnish them a tent and camp kettle. fituation of affairs Kosciusko, we think, will find it We have received orders to strike tents to-morrow difficult to lave himself; but we do not think the cap- morning at three, and to march at four o'clock. ture of Warfaw will be followed by a general fubmitsion of the Poles; they are too contcious of the justice Not a fingle person in the service of government is of their cause, and are determined to support it to the lest here. The nobility, the clergy, and the principal last extremity. The supreme national council has citizens are gone. This city, but lately the residence ordered a general armament of the people, and that the army. of a court, and so brilliant, is now depopulated, and magazines shall be formed in all the towns, which have the greater part of the houses abandoned and shut up. not been ou upied by the enemy. In fact, the whole The court is literally empty. Every thing moveable Polish nation leems disposed to sacrifice every thing for gan on both fides. Some of the French cavalry having made good our retreat. been mittaken for Hessian horse, colonel Doyle, his lordships adjutant-general, approached to rally them, as they seemed in confusion, in consequence of which verely wounded: but though the French had incessant- by the privateers of Paoli. ly hung upon lord Moira's rear, and harrassed it with cannonading the whole way, yet they had not much to boast of in the action. Intelligence having reached the camp near Ache, 500 of the light dragoons were ordered intmediately to join his lordship. Earl Moira's amount to more than twenty-five rounds a man, which step.

ALOST, July 7.

was carried on the guns. army, which they would have completely destroyed, wing—they attacked the victorious part of the French, rins. and by out flanking them, forced them to retreat in tain his position. Landrecies, Orchies, Marchiennes, &c. are already evacuated, and what also can be expected of Conde, Valenciennes, La Quesnoy, &c. not reckoning a hundred subordinate, but not inconsiderable places. The cannon, military stores, magazines, metals which they take, (useless to the inhabitants, but very useful to the French,) as the bells, leaden images, &c. are all sending into the interior of France.

The Hessian hospital passed through Bruxelles, July in their retreat from the army. There were 800 tick and wounded.

OUDENARDE, July 3.

On Sunday last, a second action took place between the advanced guards of his royal highness, and the Carmagnols. His highness always makes fine disposi tions, but in this instance, not with the success which he fo well deserves.

The effect was, as to any beneficial consequence, but very little on either side. The loss on both sides, as to carnage, and waste of human life, was considerable. The Hessians lost most. The duke's army are in tolerable health, and above fix or leven thousand English remain. The Hessians, Dutch and Austrians, carry his returns up to 13,600 men. tinuing on both fides the Lys, to the forks of the river, where the canal branches off between Wacken and Deynie. In the late affair at Oudenarde, they turned the position of the allies, flanking our army, by a sudden and unexpected wheel of their van at Harlebake. On the Scheld, from Lifle they have another army, hanging on our rear, and harrassing very hard upon

As to prince Cobourg and the prince of Orange, they too, harraffed by a vait army of the Carmagnois, who increase every day. A day seldom passes, without some affair or engagement of more or less consequence. The three great actions have been on thele dates, June 26, 27, and yesterday, July 2. The 26th on the Sambie, the Austrians had some success on one wing. The 27th their loss was considerable. It is said between 3 and 4000 men. And yesterday, the Austrians had another check, the loss is faid to be great.

GRAMMONT, Juj 3.

The army marched this morning from Renaix for but is still on the right shore of that river, and his The army marched the arrived by five in the evencamp is at Gura, five leagues from Warsaw. The this place, where the whole arrived by five in the even-prince royal of Prussia has advanced with his corps to ing. The sick are to be sent off to-night for Antwerp, July 4-four A. M. The tents are ftruck, and the army ready to march for Lombeke, which is about fourteen miles hence, and to-morrow for Malines. Lord Cornwallis is still with

The firing which we heard at Mons, on the second, ended in the fall of that place. The enemy took possession of Tournay yesterday morning at four o'clock. They also entered Ghent yesterday, which renders our situation here rather precarious, as by this means they are nearer to Antwerp Yesterday earl Moira with his army, arrived at Alost than our army is. However, the prince of Cobourg is from Dendermonde, as they entered at one end of the encamped with his army in front of Bruffels, near the town, the enemy entered at the other. The fire be- forest of Soignes, where he is to remain till we have

GENOA, June 17.

The contents of lord Hood's last dispatches to our he received two wounds, one on the head, and the government have not yet transpired; but we learn, other in the elbow joint of the lett arm. The wound that the English complain of the conduct of the Genoin the head is of a flight nature, the other is more ele, who at the approach of their ships, force them by ferious. Both wounds were given with a sabre; and cannon shot to withdraw beyond their reach. The the action in which the colonel distinguished himself by English are said to be willing to raise the blockade of much valour, continued with obstinacy and activity on our port, under proviso, that the British ships should both sides. Mr. Vandeleur of the dra; oons, has been be allowed to frequent the harhours of Genoa, Spezzia, flightly wounded in the knee. Adjutant general Gra- &c. In the mean time the blockade still continues; ham, of the 15th light horse, in the skirmish was se- but the greatest loss which our trade suffers, is caused

VIENNA, June 28.

Our court has at last taken a decisive resolution with respect to the revolution of Poland .- An army of 40,000 men will march in the quality of an auxiliary army, we are forry to fay, was rather in want of am- corps, to join the Prussians and kuslians. We expect a munition, as the men, for the sake of speed, were not manifesto to be published immediately, which will state encumbered scarcely with any; what they had did not the reasons which have determined our court to such a

Orders have been sent to all our universities, that all The French attacked the prince of Orange at Water- the students who should enter into the service of his loo, in front of the forests of Soignes, and after an ob- Imperial majesty as volunteers, shall enjoy certain pristinate resistance succeeded in turning the flank of his vileges during the war, namely, with respect to promotion; and shall besides, be provided for at the end had not twelve or thirteen battalions, chiefly Dutch, of the war .- All foreigners entering into the service of come up at the critical moment to the affistance of that his Imperial majesty, are to receive a bounty of 30 flo-

By letters from Turin, we learn, that 42 conspiratheir turn, which enabled the prince of Orange to re- tors have been executed in that capital on the 11th

HAGUE, July 17.

So bold is the spirit of the democrats here, that notwithstanding the general concurrence given to the stadtholder's declaration, and the vigilance of the police and of all the magistrates and military, they difperied through this city a most daring and atrocious libel last night, directed against the great pensioner of Holland and the government, replete with jacobinal arguments. The stadtholder denounced this flagrant incendiary libel to the states, who have not only offered a reward of 14,000 florins to the person who shall discover any one of the authors, printers or distributors of the said libel, but even promised a free pardon to any fuch accomplice who shall make such a discovery. with the concealment of his name, and one half of the reward offered.

CONTILCQ, July 18.

The French, from their very superior numbers, continue to advance. In the afternoon of the 15th they took Malines. A few Hessians and Tyroleese only were in the place, and they retreated to Walheim in the evening. Next morning they found it prudent to pals the Rupell by the bridge of Walheim, which they immediately burnt. I he town the enemy immediately The Carmagnol armies continue increasing, and with posseled themselves of, and began to erect redoubte more madness every hour .- One line extending from on the banks of the river. We did the tame on the Ypres to Werwick, on the fouth east; to Menin and opposite site, and a heavy cannonade was soon after Courtray, on the north and north east; and so con- commenced, which was kept up during the whole of

The Rupell is a wide and deep river, and the tide flows up to the Lier-While we can prevent the enemy from crolling it, we have little to apprehend! The chief part of lord Moira's army is employed in defending the passage over the Rupell at Dasfel, where the enemy have been attempting to effect a passage. General Walmoden went on Thursday to Lier, where the Hanoverians are posted-He went in consequence of the Dutch being obliged to fall back.

This morning early a detachment with some artillery was sent to Rumpst. We have been active and diligent, and have every where given the enemy a warm reception.—Our lois has been very immaterial, while theirs has been great.

It seems to be the object to cover Antwerp, only till our magazines are removed, which were confiderable there; but this unpleasant service is now, I understand, nearly completed; we shall then probably retreat towards Holland-at least fuch is the general beliet. Large magazines are forming for the British army at Udenhofth, a post a little Leyond Bergen-op-Zoom, and to the left of Breda.