Improvement in making brick.

The ingenious Mr. Kinsley, of New-York (formerly of New-England) has invented a method of making brick on a plan entirely new, and which promises to be of great public utility, as it does not require one tenth of the manual labour which the present mode does. The treading out the clay and moulding the brick by hand are entirely exploded. We do not know the exact process, but are assured, that the clay is prepared, and 18,000 bricks made in a day, with the assistance of only one man and a few boys to carry off the bricks. A gentleman in Hartford (Connecticut) has purchased of Mr. Kinsley, a right of using this invention in that city, and is now carrying on the business to a great extent.

AUGUSTA, June 18.

His excellency the governor returned from Savanna on Sunday last, at which place he had been for the purpose of meeting with a number of the chiefs of the Creek Nation, in consequence of a notification from major Seagrove, agent of Indian affairs. With those chiefs came in two or three hundred Indians as far as Beard's Bluff, at which place major Seagrove met them, and gave them a very pertinent talk; after which the chiefs were escorted to Savanna, where the governor had a talk with them, in the course of which he told them that five years had elapsed since the treaty at New-York, that we had rigidly complied, on our part, with every stipulation; that they had not complied on their part; that he now wished to know whether they intended, wished, or had it now in their power to comply, as it was high time our citizens should receive the property plundered from them. They seemed not to understand him; but on the question being again put, and the governor observing at the same time that the treaty was promulgated in the federal hall, New-York; that Mr. Gillivray and the chiefs who accompanied him, engaged on their part, and in behalf of their nation, for the due performance thereof, and the president on the part of the United States; that he did not think they could be ignorant of the engagement, for when he looked round he saw two chiefs who were present at the treaty; they then understood him, and asked for time to give answer; they took about a day and answered to this effect: That it was not in the power of their nation to comply with that article of the treaty for the restoration of the property taken previous to the treaty; that Mr. Gillivray had deceived them; that he well knew a great part of the property was then in the hands of the Spaniards, and could not be collected; that they thought it was in their power to return the property taken subsequent to the treaty; that they are willing to make compensation for property that could not be restored. The governor desired them to inform major Seagrove what mode they had to adopt to make compensation, which they had promised to do. The Major, in the presence of the governor, desired Mr. Seagrove to apply to the president of the United States, to point out some mode by which compensation may be made. At this meeting there were about fifty chiefs, several of whom had not been within our lines since the revolution, who expressed the warmest wishes that a permanent peace might be established, as a proof of which they brought in with them upwards of twenty negroes, some prisoners, and some horses.

CHARLESTON, July 2.

By the pilot who brought up last evening the prize-master of the ship Britannia, now lying at anchor off the bar, we are informed, that that ship, burthen 540 tons and upwards, drawing nine feet water, and having a cargo on board of 513 hogsheds of sugar, 160 puncheons of rum, pimento and other West-India produce is a prize to the brig Vengeur, captain Carvine.

That the brig now at anchor off the fort, a Liverpool vessel, of Kingston, loaded with coffee, cotton, sugar and rum, is likewise a prize to captain Carvine.

By a gentleman who arrived last evening from Savanna, we learn, that another prize ship of captain Carvine's, had arrived at Savanna, which he had seen, her burthen equally great, and her cargo valuable, with the Britannia.

These three prizes were taken from among the Jamaica fleet of 150 sail, seen in the early part of last month by captain Lincoln, of the brig Industry, and by captain Vickary, of the ship Tryal, on the 26th ult. They were taken in the day in sight of a frigate, one of the convoy, which shewed no inclination to release them.

The three prizes are computed to be worth one hundred thousand pounds.

The Britannia has six guns and twenty men.

The prize-master came up for lighters to lighten the ship and enable her to come over the bar.

A small ship was seen to leeward of the Britannia last evening.

The brig Vengeur and the Carmagnole, have both arrived three days ago in Savanna.

In the sloop Venus came passengers Mrs. Laroque, and two children, captain Hisham, captain Woodworth, Mr. Sheall, and three French gentlemen.

A French privateer brig, supposed to be the Ictepide, of sixteen guns, and that has now been upwards of four months out, had taken eighteen prizes, sixteen of which she had burnt, and ordered the other two for Savanna, one of which a brig had arrived.

We are informed that a captain Antoine, of a French privateer in Savanna, has had the masts of his vessel cut away by the citizens, in consequence of his improper treatment of American vessels.

By captain Cameron we are informed, that about the 15th ult. twelve sail, conveyed by a frigate and a schooner, left the Havanna with 350 troops for New-Orleans.

ANNAPOLIS, July 23.

Annapolis, Maryland, July 22d, 1795.
In COUNCIL.

CITIZEN LOUIS ETIENNE DUHAIL having produced to this board, his commission as consul from the republic of France for this State, together with an exequator or recognition of his said quality, under the hand of the President of the United States, and sealed with the seal of the United States:—ORDERED, that the said recognition be published for the information and government of the people of this state.

By order,
NINIAN PINKNEY, Clk. to the Coun.

GEORGE WASHINGTON PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
To all whom it may Concern.

THE citizen LOUIS ETIENNE DUHAIL having produced to me his commission as consul for the republic of France, within the State of Maryland, I do hereby recognize him as such, and do declare him free to exercise and enjoy such functions, powers and privileges, as are allowed to consuls of the French republic by the laws, treaties, and conventions in that case made and provided.

In testimony whereof, I have caused these letters to be made patent, and the seal of the United States to be hereunto affixed. Given under my hand, the twenty-second day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and ninety-five, and of the independence of the United States of America the nineteenth.

(Signed,) Go. WASHINGTON.

By the President,
ED. RANDOLPH.

The following petition and remonstrance is circulating in the southern parts of New-Jersey.
To GEORGE WASHINGTON, President of the United States of America.

The petition and remonstrance of the subscribers, citizens of the state of New-Jersey.

Respectfully shew,

THAT your petitioners, sincerely attached to the interests of their country, have read with attention the treaty of amity, commerce and navigation, between his Britannic majesty and the United States of America, entered into at London on the 19th day of November last, which it appears hath been in part assented to by two thirds of the senate; and upon due consideration (without troubling you with a detail of particular objections) would beg leave most respectfully to suggest, as our opinion, that the said treaty does not afford to the citizens of these states such terms as they ought to accept; and that, if finally ratified, it will be a source of many disadvantages to the commerce, agriculture, and national prosperity of the Union, and of great discontent and uneasiness in the minds of the citizens thereof. In addition to this opinion (which your petitioners believe to be the prevailing sentiment of the citizens of New-Jersey, and, as far as information hath reached us, of the United States at large) a sincere respect and esteem for you, flowing from a recollection of numerous and eminent services, which gratitude hath indelibly engraven on our hearts, renders it a duty incumbent on us to represent the same for your information, lest our silence on the occasion might be construed into an approbation of the said treaty.

We therefore pray, that so far as the same may be consistent with that discretion which we conceive is entirely vested in you by the constitution, your sanction may be withheld, until more equitable terms are acceded to on the part of Great-Britain.

"On Monday morning the 20th instant, in the 23d year of his age, departed this life Mr. ALEXANDER WILLIAMS, son of Mr FRANCIS WILLIAMS, of Calvert county, and on the evening of the same day, his remains were interred in the burying-ground of this city, attended by the students of St. John's college. This amiable young man was industriously prosecuting his studies in the senior class, when death untimely arrested his progress, and at one severe stroke extinguished the well founded hope of a fond father, that he should ere long see him become an useful and worthy member of society."

NOTICE is hereby given,

THAT we the subscribers intend to make application to the next county court to be held for Anne-Arundel county, for a commission to mark and bound part of a tract or parcel of land called PORTLAND MANOR, situate and lying in the county aforesaid, pursuant to the directions of an act of assembly, entitled, An act for marking and bounding lands.

TO BE RENTED,

The HOUSE of Mrs. SUSANNA BREWER. Application to WM. MARBURY.

To be SOLD, at PUBLIC VENDUE, on the premises, the 10th of August next.

A VALUABLE body of LANDS, situated on South-river, in Anne-Arundel county, distant about thirty miles from Baltimore-town, nine from Annapolis, and twenty-seven from the Federal city. For the convenience of purchasers, they are divided into four parcels.

Lot No. 1, contains 622 acres, well enclosed. The improvements are, a framed dwelling-house, well finished; and sufficiently large for a common family, a garden well paved in, smoke-house and other necessary out-houses, a corn-house, tobacco-house and a new barn, sheded on each side; also, a young apple orchard planted on this lot about two years ago. More than one third thereof is woodland.

No. 2, contains 210 $\frac{1}{2}$ acres. There are two mill-seats on this lot, one of which is improved. The mill-house is about thirty feet by twenty-five; the lower story is built with stone, and the upper framed; all the running gears were new two years ago, and now in very good repair. She has two pair of Cologne stones, four new-bolting cloths, one water wheel, twenty-two feet head and fall, and situate in one of the best of neighbourhoods for country custom. The other mill-seat has been improved, but has now gone to decay. There is a good mill-house on it, 24 by 18; the stream from which might be carried to the other mill with some expence. Annexed to this lot there are about 25 acres of fine timothy meadow, and 30 acres more may be made of the same kind. The residue of this lot is chiefly in wood.

No. 3, contains 330 acres, well enclosed. The improvements are, a good dwelling-house, one story high, partly brick and partly framed, situate immediately on the water. Near the dwelling there are large two story brick warehouse, 40 by 30, a good kitchen, smoke-house, stables, and all other necessary out-houses. There are, also, on this lot, two good tobacco houses, two good apple orchards, and a variety of other fruit trees. Nearly half this lot is woodland.

No. 4, contains 355 acres, well enclosed. The improvements are, a small new dwelling-house, kitchen, corn, and tobacco-houses, a variety of fruit trees, and about 20 acres of fine bottom fit for meadow. More than half this lot is in wood.

All the woodland belonging to the above lots is convenient to good landings on navigable water. The terms of sale will be one-fourth of the purchase money in hand; the residue in three equal annual payments with interest from the day of sale. The land to be conveyed when the purchase money is paid. A general plot will be lodged at the office of Nicholas Brice, Esq; near Griffith's bridge, Baltimore-town, and the premises will be shewn at any time to persons desirous of purchasing.

N. B. Good security will be required for the above payments.
