Extract of a letter from Mr. United States, merchant in Cape Francois, to a merchant in Boston, dated September 15, 1797.

"Two years past the Case appeared to exist only in name: it is now very populous and much rebuilt, and the inhabitants are so industrious and enterprising, as to make its increasing consequences almost exceed calculation or belief—the wisest scheme that could have been adopted by government, has been the renting out all the plantations, to the citizens of all colours without distinction of persons, by which tranquillity is secured to the republic—this plan, I am told, was first wisely suggested and effected, with uncommon exertions, by the commissioner Raimon, into whose hands the entire exercise of government has dissolved, since the embarkation of Santhouax, by the incorruptible general Toussaint."

October 3, 1797.

To the EDITOR of the MARYLAND GAZETTE.
OBSERVING a caution in your papers from John Maddox, of Charles county, informing those who may be interested, not to take any assignment of any account or accounts whatever that I may have against him, as all and every of them have been long ago settled.

I wish to inform the said Maddox, through the same channel, that few persons or persons would take an assignment of any account or accounts that a suit has been obliged to be brought for, and a writ having been served on him (for the said account or accounts) some time before his caution made its appearance, he might have saved himself the trouble and expence, and made his settlements, which he is so ready to shew, appear in a court before an impartial jury.
