LEGHORN BLOCKADED.

Extract of a letter from the consul of the United States at Genoa, dated 8th December, 1800.

I have just received a letter from Thomas Appleton, Esq; of Leghorn, by which he informs me, that on the 4th inst. the English commander sent him official information that the port was blockaded, and an order given to all neutral vessels to depart from the place in 8 days, or they could not be suffered to sail. He then sent a flag on board to obtain a prolongation of that term, but received for answer that he acted from superior orders, but that lord Keith is hourly expected in the roads with gen. Abercrombie and the fleet.

BALTIMORE, May 8. INDIANA TERRITORY.

Cantonment, Wilkinfonville,
14th March, 1801.

SIR,

It is my duty, (although but too well known to you) to report that yesterday evening, between the hours of four and five o'clock, a dreadful tornado visited our camp. It came in a S. W. direction, accompanied with a torrent of rain, taking along a skirt of the quarter-master's camp, and in an oblique on N. E. over our encampments, tearing trees up by the roots, and carrying all before it, destroying a great quantity of our camp, equipage and clothing, which is not yet accurately ascertained—and, though painful to relate, by the falling of trees, has maimed and killed some of our fellow-soldiers, of which the following is a statement.

Total killed—One serjeant.

Total wounded—One captain, four lieutenants, two quarter-master serjeants, two serjeants, one corporal, one musician, and twenty-one privates.

One woman killed and several wounded.

Names of the officers wounded: captain Lukens, badly, lieutenants Webster, Layborne and Shiras, lieutenant Hooke's leg broke, and otherwise badly wounded.

I have the honour to be, very respectfully,
Your most obedient servant,

(Signed) FERDINAND L. CLAIBORNE.
