

New-York, 15th April, 1802.

GENTLEMEN,

I received a few days ago, through our minister at your court, the elegant urn, which you, many of whom are my old friends and acquaintance, have been pleased to present to me. This mark of your attention, gentlemen, by which I am so much obliged, will leave an impression of respect and esteem on my mind that will only cease with my existence, and will be remembered by my offspring. Accept of my sincere wishes that peace and good understanding may for ever subsist between our respective nations whose interest it is to mutually cherish.

With sentiments of high respect, I have the honour to be, your obedient servant,

THOMAS TRUXTON.

Hon. Underwriters and Merchants of Lloyd's coffee-house, London.

November 25.

Extract of a letter from Louisville, (G.) dated November 1.

"Governor Taznall has sent in his resignation, and the hon. John Milledge and general Jackson are supposed to be candidates."

IMPORTANT.

A letter from New-Orleans, dated the 19th October, to a respectable merchant of this city—states, that on the afternoon of that day a proclamation was posted up by order of the intendant, closing the port not merely against the entrance of produce from the Atlantic in American vessels, but also against ALL PRODUCE FLOATED DOWN THE MISSISSIPPI. This measure had created great consternation among the American merchants there, who had expedited an express by the Charlotte to bring a copy of the order for the information of government, and of our merchants generally. It was even doubtful whether goods deposited would be suffered to be exported in American bottoms, but sugar had positively been prohibited.

JOHN SIMKINS.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN away, under the pretence of freedom, a negro woman by the name of ALLE, a very dark brown woman, has tolerable long hair, aged twenty-five years, five feet five or six inches high, and has good proportion to her height; she took her child with her which she called AUSTIN, or JACOB, and in his absence has taken the name of MURIER JOICE, and it is not unlikely but that she has changed her name again; it is supposed she is harboured about Mr. Charles Carroll's quarter, as she has many kindred there, and has been frequently seen in the neighbourhood of Annapolis; all the quarters neighbouring to town may be suspected, as she has been away a considerable time, and has had the opportunity of getting acquainted with almost every such place. Whoever takes up said woman, with or without the child, and secures her so that the owner gets her again, shall be entitled to the above reward, paid by

JAMES SANDERS.
