

Valuable Lands for Sale.

order of the court of Calvert county, will be exposed to PUBLIC SALE, the following lands, the property of the heirs of capt. WALTER SMITH, deceased.

On Monday the 20th day of August next, will be sold, on the premises, the plantation on which said capt. Walter Smith formerly resided, containing, by actual survey, 1225 1/2 acres of land, lying adjoining on Patuxent river, bounded on the south by the said river, on the east by a fine navigable creek called Saint-Leonard's Creek, so that one and half miles of fencing will enclose the whole land. The soil of this land is equal if not superior to any in Patuxent, either for farming, planting, or grazing, and in their season the greatest plenty of fine fish and oysters may be had either from the river or creek. A great part of the above land is covered with cedar for posts or fencing.

On Tuesday the 21st, on the premises, will be sold, one other plantation in the forest, at about two miles distance from the former, containing, by survey, one hundred and twenty-seven and one half acres of land, the greater part of which is covered with hickory, chestnut, and oak wood, and a great proportion swamp land, which, at a trifling expence, might be converted into valuable meadow, belongs to this land.

On Thursday the 23d, on the premises, will be sold, one other plantation, lying adjoining on Chesapeake Bay, bounded on the northeast by the said bay, and the north by a creek called Parker's Creek, containing, by survey, 836 1/2 acres of land; on this land there are a great proportion of marsh and meadow land, and a great abundance of fine timber.

It is thought needless to give a fuller description of the above lands, as it is presumed that those who wish to purchase will view the lands previous to the day of sale, and on application to Mr. John Turner, who resides near the two first mentioned tracts, they will see the plots of the different tracts of land, and will view the lands contiguous to them, and Mr. Richard Hance, who resides on the last mentioned tract, will show the outlines of the same to any person wishing to view it.

The above lands will be sold either in the whole, or be divided into parcels, as may appear most advantageous for the heirs.

The purchasers to give bonds, with approved securities, for the purchase money, to be paid in three annual payments, the interest to be paid yearly, and on the ratification of the sale by the court, and a full payment of the purchase money, and interest thereon, a deed of conveyance will be executed to the purchaser, agreeably to an act of assembly in such cases made and provided.

HYMN TO EVENING.

COME Evening, child of contemplation, come,
Shed thy religious influence on the heart,
Come, pensive maiden, bid the busy hum
And gaudy splendor of the hills depart.
Bring with thee, Eve, thy wonted calms again,
Transcending far the music of the morn;
With magic spells, for sorrow and for pain,
Pour'd from the silver moon's reluctant horn.
Thou chaste-eyed Evening, hast the power to charm
The war of will, and smooth the brow of care;
Thy tender dew dissolves each rude alarm,
Thy breezes whisper comfort to despair.
Young expectation, with an earnest eye,
On tip-toe bids thee from the cottage hail,
His little feet light o'er the upland fly
To meet his father midway in the vale.

And she, who lost in love's bewitching dream,
Oft hides thy tardy footsteps with a sigh,
As her mind's-herald marks the kindred beam
That lingers still upon the western sky.
There too, the watchful village train await,
With festive revels welcome on the green
Thy beam-like car—when thro' yon skyey gate
Thou com'st with LUNA, smiling on the scene.

In the mild season of thy genial sway
(Hour of improvement, Science steals from time)
Taste springs the mine where rich ideas lay,
And waking fancy roves from clime to clime.

Where on some shore forgotten by the chart,
Illustrious worth now exil'd and unknown,
Hails thy grey shadows with a patriot heart,
And smiles to think they circle round his own.
Some cross'd by sorrow watch thee but to weep,
Some wind the dance, some greet thee with a sigh,
Some come with song, and some retire to sleep,
Some give thee smiles and some the pensive eye.

Hail EVENING, hail! I see thee from afar,
I feel thy placid spirit on my mind,
Thy looks are peace, thy voice salutes mine ear,
Sweet as the viewless minstrel of the wind.

Oh, sacred season! holy hour of love,
The truce to labour, and the pause of toil—
Bright Hesper waits thee in the western grove,
And gentle ANNA greets thee with a smile.

SIR ISAAC NEWTON.

It is said of this celebrated character that he did once in his life go "a wooing," and, as was to be expected, had the greatest attention and indulgence paid the little peculiarities which ever accompany great genius. Knowing he was fond of smoking, the lady assiduously provided him with a pipe, and they were then seated as if to open the business of Cupid. Sir Isaac smoked a few whiffs—seemed at a loss for something—whiffed again—and at last drew the chair to the lady—a pause of some minutes ensued—Sir Isaac seemed still more uneasy—Oh! the timidity of some men, thought the lady—when lo! Sir Isaac had got hold of her hand. Now palpitations began—he will kiss it no doubt, thought she, and then the matter is sealed. Sir Isaac whiffed with redoubled fury, and drew the captive hand near his head; already the expected salute had vibrated from the hand to the heart, when, pity the damsel, gentle reader! Sir Isaac only raised her fair hand, to make the forefinger, for a purpose he much wanted, a tobacco stopper.

Forty Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber, living near Annapolis, on the 27th of last month, a negro man named SAM, about five feet two or three inches high; a likely well made fellow, and complainant when spoken to; the fore finger of the left hand he generally carries a little crooked, occasioned by the first joint of said finger being stiff, and the end of the finger he carries pointing across the other fingers; had on when he went away, a fearnought coat, a red under jacket, striped country cloth breeches, of nabrig shirt, and old felt hat; the said negro was detected in being concerned in breaking open a store-house, in company, as is supposed, with a negro man by the name of NATHAN BOON, or BOOTH, set free by Mr. David Weems, which said Nathan left the neighbourhood at the time of the detection of the breaking open said house, and is supposed to be gone off to the state of Pennsylvania, and carried with him said negro Sam, and will travel under the protection of the pass given him, said Nathan, by David Weems. Whoever takes up said negro SAM, and secures him in any goal, so that his master gets him again, shall receive TEN DOLLARS reward, if taken above ten miles from home, TWENTY DOLLARS, and if out of the state the above reward, including what the law allows, paid by ROBERT LUSBY.
