

FOR SALE.

THE subscriber offers for sale that small but valuable tract of LAND on West river, where STEPHEN STEWARD formerly carried on a mill, it contains 42 acres of rich land; the elements are, a very convenient two story framed log-house, two rooms and a passage below, and rooms above, with a garret and cellar, and an adjoining; there is another house, with two and fire places, and shed, will do either for a dwelling or store, a large meat-house, with a cellar, a milk-house, supplied with water from the well, a large corn-house, a warehouse and shed, cellars under them, on the wharf, a stable and carriage house, two gardens, an apple and peach orchard, and sundry other fruit. This place is perhaps of the first lands in the county for a country, as it is the most convenient and most frequented place on West river, where produce is shipped to, and goods received from, Baltimore. If it is not at private sale before harvest, it will after harvest be sold at vendue, of which public notice will be given. For terms apply on the premises, to ARCHIBALD CHISHOLM.

Notice is hereby given,
THAT the subscriber intends applying to Calvert county court, or to some one of the judges thereof, for the benefit of the insolvent act, passed November 1805, and the supplement thereto, and November 1806.

March 14, 1807. JAMES WILKINSON.

ON Monday, the 30th March, at 10 o'clock, if fair, if not, the first fair thereafter, the subscriber intends to offer at auction, the remains of MERCHANDISE and HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, and in the intermediate time will dispose of either at very reduced prices. Among the merchandise are German linens, Waldren's sashes, warranted cast steel, reasp-hooks, sith frames, battle power, cut and wrought nails, two pair steelyards, and few kegs of butter. Among the household furniture is a handsome sideboard, chest of drawers, second hand carpet, and bathing cistern. He has also for sale a horse and gig; the horse goes well under the saddle, as well as in the gig. He is in want of a woman servant that can do plain cooking and can wash and iron well—also a negro boy about 15 years of age, both or either of which he will hire by the year, or buy for a term of years.

Wm. WILKINS.

SELECTED.

THE DAYS THAT ARE GONE.
THE sun was departed, the mild zephyr blowing,
Bore over the plain the perfume of the flowers;
In soft undulations the streamlet was flowing,
And calm meditation led forward the hours:
I struck the full chord, and the ready tear started,
I sung of an exile forlorn, broken hearted,
Like him, from my bosom all joy is departed,
And sorrow has stol'n from the lyre all its powers.
I paws'd on the strain, when fond memory tenacious,
Presented the form I must ever esteem;
Retra'd scenes of pleasure, alas, how fallacious!
Evanescent all, all, as the shades of a dream.
Yet still, as they rush'd through oppress'd recollection,
The flint tear fell, and the pensive reflection,
Immers'd my soul in deeper dejection,
On which cheering hope scarcely glances a beam.
In vain into beauty all nature is springing,
In vain smiling spring does the blossoms unfold;
In vain round my ear the wing'd choristers singing,
When each soft affection is dormant and cold.
E'en sad as the merchant, bereav'd of his treasure,
So slow beats my heart, and so languid its measure,
So dreary, so lonely, a stranger to pleasure,
Around it affliction her mantle hath roll'd.
But meek resignation supporting the spirit,
Unveils a bright scene to the uplifted eye;
A scene, which the patient and pure shall inherit,
Where hearts bleed no more, and the tear shall be dry.
There souls, which on earth in each other delighted,
By friendship, by honour, by virtue united,
Shall meet, and their pleasure no more shall be blighted,
But perfect and pure as their love be their joy.
