at received from RICHARD LEE and SON, and for Sale by

Gideon White, Church-street,
An Assortment of PATENT MEDICINE.

Lee's Worm Destroying Lozenges.

THIS medicine, which is as innocent and mild as it is certain and efficacious in its operation, can injure the youngest infant, should no worms exist in body; but will without pain or griping, cleanse stomach and bowels of what ever is foul or open, and thereby prevent the production of worms many fatal disorders.

From the many cases of cures that daily come to knowledge, we have selected the following:

Messrs. Richard Lee and Son.
You are at liberty to publish the astonishing cure formed by your Lozenges on my son, 10 years old, who was afflicted with fevers, pain in his side, and a continual headach, which reduced him so low that was unable to sit up. One of my neighbours advised me to use your Lozenges, which has had the happy effect of restoring him to a better state of health than he has enjoyed for several years, in the shortest time of seventeen days.

Messrs. Richard Lee and Son.
My son, five years old, has for sometime past been very unhealthy; having fevers, headach and loss of appetite. Hearing of the many cures performed by your Worm Lozenges, I was induced to give them a trial. The effect was beyond my expectation, as a large quantity of small worms was expelled; hundreds of them was gone for sometime after.

Messrs. Richard Lee and Son.
Having observed in the news-paper, an advertisement describing the good qualities of your Worm Lozenges, induced me to call at the store of Warner and Hanna, and to make a trial of them on a female child of my friend's, who was in my care, which from symptoms of disease, viz. sickness, a picking at nose, offensive breath and other like circumstances, authorized myself and Mrs. McCormick to determine that worms was the complaint, accordingly a few days since, I made a trial of the medicine, according to the directions, and I am happy to say, on the third day afterwards the child evacuated the worms, and other offensive matter, such as to was astonishing that any human being could have retained—particularly at so early an age as 2 1-2 years old—for the good of society I have much pleasure in mentioning the case, and to observe that the child is now perfectly well, and assumes a healthy appearance. Any other information I shall give with pleasure on application to me at my house in Frederick-street, near Messrs. Van Wyck and Dorsey's dining room.

Lee's Elixir.

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, croup, Asthma, Sore throats, and approaching consumptions.

To parents who may have children afflicted with Hooping Cough, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most violent disorder to which children are liable.—The Elixir is so perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small, that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Messrs. R. Lee and Son.

For a long time I have been afflicted with a severe cold, attended with a distressing cough, sickness at the stomach, with a frequent inclination to vomit—having used a medicine which is said to have performed cures of this kind, but without receiving any benefit; hearing of Lee's Elixir, a bottle was procured at Messrs. Warner and Hanna's book store, which has effectually removed this distressing complaint—in fact it is not possible for one to say too much in favour of this invaluable medicine; being convinced those persons labouring under severe cold, by the use of Lee's Elixir would soon be restored to a perfect state of health.

SELECTED.

From VANCENZA, or, The Dangers of Credulity.

BY A PILGRIM.

O'ER deserts untrodden, o'er misty cover'd hills
I have wander'd forlorn and alone
My tears I have mingl'd with flow winding rills,
And the rocks have repeated my groan.
I have seen the wan moon from her silver veil peep;
As the rose from her cloud dappled bed,
I have hear'd the dread hurrican yell 'midst the deep,
As the lightning play'd over my head.
When the tempest subsided I saw the faint dawn
O'er the eastern cliff meekly appear—
While each king-cup that droop'd on the dew spangl'd lawn
From its golden lids dropp'd a foat tear.

I have seen the bright day star illumine the earth,
I have hail'd the proud sov'reign of fire;
I have mar'd the pale primrose scarce waken'd to birth
E'er I sigh'd to behold it expire.

How oft have I pitied the plaint of the dove;
How I've mull'd near the nightingale's nest!
For ah! when the minstrel sung sweetly of love,
'Twas soft sympathy thrill'd through my breast.

I have seen the tall forest o'ershadow the glade,
And extend its broad branches on high;
But how soon have I mark'd its rich canopy fade,
And its yellow leaves whirl'd to the sky.

I have sigh'd o'er the grave where some lover was laid;
I have torn the rude weeds from his breast;
I have deck'd it with flow'rets, and oft have I said,
How I envy thy pallet of rest!

I have trac'd the long shades of the wave's silken green,
When the storm gather'd over the main!
I have gaz'd with delight on the landscape serene,
When the evening sun glow'd on the plain.

Exulting and gay I have smil'd to behold
Proud nature luxuriantly dress'd;
I have wept, when I saw her uncover'd and cold,
And the winter blast howl'd o'er her breast.

Since such are the scenes of this valley of care;
Since each pleasure is mingl'd with pain;
Still let me the raptures of sympathy share,
—And my bosom shall scorn to complain.

Tho' distant to wander o'er mountains of snow,
Vancenza, oh mansion divine!
The Pilgrim shall smile at his journey of woe,
And his heart, his warm heart shall be thine.
