SELECTED.

DAWN.

BY MISS OWENSON.

THERE is a soft and fragrant hour, Sweet, fresh, reviving is its power; 'Tis when a ray Steals from the vale of parting night, And by its mild prolusive light Foretells the day.

'Tis when some ling'ring stars scarce shed Over the misty mountains head Their fairy beam; When one by one retiring shroud, Dim glittering through a fleecy cloud, Their last faint gleam.

'Tis when just wak'd from transient death (By some frail zephyr's balmy breath) The unfolding rose, Sheds on the air its rich perfume, While every bud with deeper bloom And beauty glows.

'Tis when fond nature (genial power) Weeps o'er each drooping night clos'd flower, While softly fly Those doubtful mists that leave to view Each glowing scene of various hue That charms the eye.

'Tis when the sea-girt turret's brow Receives the East's first kindly glow, And the dark wave, Swelling to meet the Orient gleam, Reflects the warmly strength'ning beam It seems to lave.

'Tis when the restless child of sorrow, Watching the wild for rising morrow, His couch foregoes, And seeks those scenes so sweet, so mild, To soothe those pangs so keen, so wild, Of hapless woes.

Nor day, nor night, this hour can claim, Nor moonlight ray, nor noontide beam Does it betray; But fresh, reviving, downy sweet, It hastes the glowing hours to meet, Of rising day.

SCRAP.

A GERMAN Literatus has discovered, that the word in Hebrew, which is commonly translated rib, more properly signifies a tongue, and consequently, that Eve was taken out of Adam's tongue. This is extremely probable.

NOTICE.

THE subscriber respectfully informs the citizens of Annapolis generally, and those in particular who favour him with the tuition of their children, that unable to meet with a suitable assistant in whom he could confide, he must lessen the number of his scholars, and advance his price for tuition. Confident that the present is not an adequate compensation for his constant exertions in, and attention and confinement to, the duties of his school, he will not, from and after the 1st day of June next, receive, or continue under his tuition any scholar for less than the sum of ten shillings a month, said sum to be punctually paid at the expiration of the month for each, or such scholar suspended from school till payment is made.

Those indebted to him for past tuition are requested to pay off their accounts on or before the above date, as any longer indulgence will not be given.

HENRY JOHNSON.

Sixteen Dollars Reward

RAN away from the subscriber, living in Calvert county, on the 30th of March, a negro named DICK, about fourteen years of age, black made, thin visage, yellow complexion, protruded quick speech and shrill voice; had on when he was away striped yarn trousers, of country cloth, brown Bath coating jacket, new felt hat, bound, off-shoot shirt, old shoes, and yarn stockings. As he has some few months of last winter in Annapolis, it is possible he made some acquaintances there, whom he may harbour. I will give SIXTEEN DOLLARS, including what the law allows, for apprehending said boy, and confining him in goal, that I get him again.
