

Poet's Corner.

SELECTED.

PENSIVE REFLECTIONS.

AH, who have pow'r to say,
morrow's Sun shall warmer glow,
o'er this gloomy Vale of Woe,
Diffuse a brighter ray?

Ah, who is ever sure,
all that can the soul delight,
hour enchants the wond'ring fight,
These raptures shall endure?

Is there in Life's dull roll,
certain moment of repose,
ray to dissipate our woes—
And bid reflection smile?

We seek Hope's gentle aid,
think the lovely Phantom pours,
balmy incense on those Flowers
Which blossom but to fade?

We court Love's thrilling dart;
when we think our joy's supreme,
find its raptures but a dream—
Its boon a wounded Heart!

We pant for glittering Fame, d, when pale Envy blots the page,
at might have charm'd a future age,
We find 'tis but a name!

We toil for paltry ore,
d when we gain the golden prize,
d death appears—with aching eyes
We view the useless store.

How frail is Beauty's bloom!
a dimpled cheek, the sparkling eye,
rce seen before their wonders fly
To decorate a tomb!

Then, since this fleeting breath
but the zephyr of a day,
Conscience make each minute gay,
And brave the shafts of Death!

And let the gen'rous mind
with pity view the erring throng, plaud the right, forgive the wrong,
And feel for all mankind!

For who, alas! shall say,
To-morrow's Sun shall warmer glow,
And o'er this gloomy Vale of Woe,
"Diffuse a brighter ray?"

SONG.

THE BRAES OF YARROW.

Written by Mr. Logan, a Scotch Divine & Historian.

HY braes were bonny, Yarrow stream!

When first on them I met my Lover,

hy braes how dreary, Yarrow stream!

When oh thy waves his body cover!

or ever now, O Yarrow stream!

Thou art to me a stream of sorrow;

or never on thy banks shall I

Behold my Love, the flower of Yarrow!

He promis'd me a milk-white steed

To bear me to his father's bowers;

He promis'd me a little page

To squire me to his father's towers;

He promis'd me a wedding-ring—

The wedding-day was fix'd to-morrow!

Now he is wedded to his grave—

Alas! his watery grave is Yarrow.

Sweet were his words when last we met;

My passion I as freely told him!

Clasp'd in his arms, I little thought

That I should never more behold him!

Scarce was he gone, I saw his ghost!

It vanish'd with a shriek of sorrow—

Thrice did the water-wraith ascend

And gave a dismal groan through Yarrow!

His mother from the window look'd

With all the longings of a mother;

His little sister weeping walk'd

The green-wood path to meet her brother.

They sought him east, they sought him west,

They sought him all the forest thorough;

They only saw the cloud of night,

They only heard the roar of Yarrow!

No longer from the window look,

Thou hast no son, thou tender mother!

No longer walk, thou lovely maid!

Alas, thou hast no more a brother.

No longer seek him east or west,

And search no more the forest thorough;

For wand'ring in the night so dark,

He fell a lifeless corse in Yarrow!

NOTICE.

THIS is to give notice, to all my creditors, that I am under the disagreeable necessity of applying to the judges of Anne-Arundel county court, or to some one of them in the recess of the said court, after this notice shall have been published two months, for the benefit of the act of the general assembly of Maryland, passed at November session, 1805,

BOARDING HOUSE.

THE subscriber having taken that large and commodious Boarding-House, formerly occupied by Capt. Thomas, in the city of Annapolis, takes this method of soliciting public patronage, as he is determined that nothing shall be wanting on his part to give satisfaction to those who may favour him with their custom.

WILLIAM BREWER.
Annapolis, May 9, 1809. 5

TO THE PUBLIC.

IN justice to those impressions which a continued experience of generous support will naturally excite, the subscriber takes this opportunity of expressing to his friends and a generous public his sincere acknowledgments
of the numerous favours conferred on him since his commencing business in this city, and begs leave to inform them, that the most prompt attention shall be devoted to every part of his profession, that satisfaction may be secured to all those who may honour him with their commands. He regrets that business will not permit his waiting personally on all those who are indebted to him, therefore takes this opportunity of informing those persons that an immediate settlement is become indispensable to enable him to discharge the just claims he owes the Public—He earnestly solicits a proper attention to this, as he has experienced great loss in time and money in the settlement of his accounts, which, from their number, and contemptibility of the sums, prove them to be of minor importance in public estimation, but to a Mechanic in business they are of serious importance, and, as his claims in general come under the term of TRIFLING, inability cannot be supposed to operate so as to prevent an immediate compliance. Those debts which will not be attended to on or before the first day of July next will be deposited in the hands of an officer for collection, and those who will oblige him by an amicable settlement will merit the sincere thanks of their ob't. serv't.
