AUTUMN—A HYMN.

See, the source of every perfect good,
 whose word from chaos bid fair order rise,
 trib'd the bounds that check the rolling flood,
 and spread the glories of the ambient skies.
 Fiat still in herb, tree, fruit and flower,
 creative calls their annual treasures forth;
 lets the golden ear proclaim thy power,
 when when Thou first spake nature into birth.
 Spheres harmonious in their courses roll,
 he changing seasons till their meafur'd round,
 science nils, and wisdom guides the whole,
 by tender care pervades earth's farthest bound.

bounteous product of the rip'ning year,
 the pleasing claims of gratitude renews,
 while Autumn in her mantling robes appear,
 and falling plenty wide thy gifts diffuse
 while every object prompts the song of praise,
 and all around inspires with calm delight,
 the fading field to reason's eye portrays
 A moral richly fraught, if I can'd aught.
 The world of nature was not form'd thus wise,
 Alone to gratify the meaner part;
 the two-fold plan that brings to sense supplies,
 Conveys some useful lesson to the heart.

every varying form that nature wears,
 As in a glass, the moral world is seen;
 he falling leaf, like man's declining years,
 Precedes the wintry grave that flouts the scene.
 O trace thy steps up to their parent source,
 Where radiant truth in bright effulgence springs,
 O watch in Providence's mysterious course,
 Those counsels deep that good from evil brings:
 rewards the search—for Wisdom's ways are Peace,
 And all her paths with angels' footsteps tread.
 And when this little round of things shall cease,
 With living honours crown her votary's head.

Tis thine alone, Eternal God, to give,
 Pure wisdom's lamp—"the day spring from on high"
 Oh, may it guide our steps till each arrive,
 Where Eden's fruits and flowers never die.

ELEGY,

ON THE DEATH OF A SEAMAN.
 LO! Night's dull mantle shrouds the world in gloom;
 No sound is heard, save from the murmur'ing wave;
 With sighs I think on Haywood's early doom,
 And realize upon the sailor's grave.

See! where assembled on the gangway, stand
 The Tars, whose features were not form'd for woe,
 A sad, a silent, melancholy band,
 Deploring him, who's laid for ever low!

O'er tiled foals the Sculptor urns will place,
 In all the splendid pomp of useless pride;
 Why should a tribute to a nobler race,
 Who pluck their bread from danger, be denied?

Rest on thy shelly bed! What tho' no throng
 Of hired mourners flock around thy bier?
 The Muses shall preserve thy name in song,
 And consecrate thy ashes with a Tear!

A PUN.

"SURE never," cries a shivering blade,
 "Such wintry weather I remember;
 "The Seasons some mistake have made,
 "And give not Summer but December."
 But when to warm his chilly frame,
 He seized and swallowed off a rummer;
 When swallows after swallow came,
 He own'd, with ruby blushing shame,
 The Seasons were not much to blame—
 For many swallows made a Summer.

SLOW AND SURE.

IN planning Expeditions 'gainst the foe
 Our Ministers are ever sure, though slow,
 Each Expedition meets a common fate,
 Slow to depart, and slow to be too late.

ANECDOTE.

A COUNTRY carpenter neglecting making a gibbet, which was ordered by the executioner, on the ground that he had not been paid for the last he erected, gave so much offence, that the next time the Judge came to the circuit, he was sent for—"Fellow," said the Judge in a stern tone, "how came you to neglect making the gibbet that was ordered on my account?" "I humbly beg your pardon," said the carpenter, "had I known it had been for your lordship it should have been done immediately."

MUSIC HATH CHARMS!

MADAM CATALANI has just received a letter from Mr. Beleredito, manager of the theatre of Venice, in Venice, dated 22d of February last, who offers to her 5000 sequins (about 25,000l.) to sing there during the next Carnival, which is to last about six weeks!

The condescension of Madam Catalani is admirable. She says that from pure respect and gratitude to the English nation, she is willing to accept of 4000 guineas, and two benefits, to sing an Italian song at Covent Garden theatre! [London paper.]

To the Public.

THE subscribers beg leave to inform their friends and the public that they are now carrying on the HAIR DRESSING BUSINESS in all its various branches at the late dwelling of Mr. Samuel Sands, deceased, where they hope, by the attention that will be given, to merit the patronage of a generous public.

2 X AREA SANDS,
 JOHN NORRIS.
 Annapolis, Oa. 17, 1809.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY, on the 5th instant, a Negro Man by the name of Ben Tuck, formerly the property of Benjamin Stewart, of Aberdeen, about 5 feet 4 or 5 inches high, stout made, has a scar on his left temple, just within the hair, about the size of a mill'd shilling, rather a down look when detected, and very talkative; his cloathing is a brown ticklenberg shirt and trousers, an old Wakefield jacket, much worn—As he is a noted villain he may change his cloathing as best suits his purpose. It is supposed that he is skulking in Annapolis, or somewhere around there, as he formerly was employed by Capt. Leonard, South river neck, and lived at Aberdeen when I purchased him—His relations are living at the different quarters of the Mr. Stewart's, on this side of South river—his mother lives at Bridge Hills quarter, and he has a wife at Mr. Claggett's, near Queen-Anne, and has been seen by some of Major Brogden's negroes within a few days, and may now be lurking thereabouts. I will pay the above reward to any person who may detect the said fellow, and deliver him to me, or confine him in any gaol so that I can get him again.

GASSAWAY RAWLINGS,
 The Ridge, Oct. 9, 1809. 3 if

Thirty Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber, on the 30th day of August, a negro boy named JACOB, about 18 years of age, five feet 8 or 10 inches high, tolerably well made, who spoken to answers very quick; he speaks the Dutch language pretty well; his great toes have been frost-bitten; he reads tolerable well. Had on a tow linen shirt and trousers, and old black coat, split down the back, a cross-barred swan-down vest, much worn, and old felt hat. It is presumed that this fellow is now lurking in the city of Baltimore, as he has a sister living there. He was raised in Washington county, near Hagar's-town, on Antietam, Maryland; professes to be a methodist. It is probable he has procured, or will endeavour to procure, a pass. Masters of vessels, and others, are warned against harbouring said negro at their peril. Whoever secures the above negro, so that I get him again, shall receive the above reward, and reasonable expenses if brought home.

One Hundred Dollars REWARD.

RAN AWAY, on Sunday, the 9th of July last, from the subscriber's farm, on the north side of Severn river, a negro man named GRIG, but among the people of colour, more generally was called GRIG SMUTHERS, he is about twenty-eight years of age, five feet seven or eight inches high, very black, has rather a sulky look, and kind of lisp in his speech, which may be easily discovered in an affirmative answer, as he always replies with a yeth Sir, instead of yes; he took with him two shirts of white ticklenburg, two pair of trousers of brown hempen linen, a long coat of bottle green cloth much worn, a short coat of red and white crossbarred gingham, he may perhaps have other cloaths with him or have changed them as well as his name, and may have procured a pass, as he is a very artful shrewd villain: this fellow is a remarkable good ploughman, and may perhaps have engaged himself on some farm in the neighbourhood of Baltimore, if not secreted in the city, where he has many acquaintances, and a brother by the name of Dick, who lives with Mr. Dennis A. Smith, cashier of the Mechanics Bank. Whoever takes up and secures the said fellow in any gaol in this state, so that I get him again, shall have the above reward, and if brought home or lodged in the Annapolis gaol, independent of the reward of One Hundred Dollars, all reasonable charges paid by

An Overseer Wanted.

THE subscriber will give liberal wages to a man who can come well recommended for sobriety, honesty and industry, with a good constitution and study habits. None need apply but such as can substantiate the above character.
