But for any reasonable cause which shall not be sufficient ground of impeachment, the president shall remove any of them on the address of — of each house of congress: Provided, however, that the cause or causes for which such removal may be required, shall be stated in such address, or on the journal of each house. They shall at stated times receive for their services an adequate compensation to be fixed by law.

DECEMBER 5, 1809.

MR. GILES, from the committee appointed on the bill reported in part the following resolution, which was read the first time, and passed to the second reading:—

RESOLVED, by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That the expressions contained in the official letter of Francis James Jackson, minister plenipotentiary of his Britannic Majesty near the United States, dated the 23d day of Oct. 1809, and addressed to Mr. Smith, secretary of state, conveying the idea, that the executive government of the United States had a knowledge that the arrangement lately made by Mr. E. Kine, his predecessor, on behalf of his government, with the government of the U. S. was made with a view to the compromise of the part of Mr. E. Kine for that purpose, were highly indecorous and insolent; that the repetition of the same intimation in his official letter, dated the 4th of Nov. 1809, after he was apprized by the asseveration of the secretary of state that the executive government had no such knowledge, and that if it had possessed such knowledge, such arrangements would not have been entered into on the part of the United States; and after also being officially apprized that such intimation was inadmissible, was still more insolent and affronting; and that in refusing to receive any further communications from him in consequence of these outrageous and premeditated insults, the executive government has manifested a just regard to its own dignity and honour, as well as to the character and interest of the American people.

That the letter signed Francis James Jackson, headed "Circular," dated the 13th of Nov. 1809, and published and circulated throughout the country, is a still more direct and aggravated insult and affront to the American people and their government, as it is evidently an insidious attempt to excite their resentments and distrusts against their own government by appealing to them, through false or malicious disguises, against some of its acts, and to excite resentments and divisions amongst the people themselves, which can only be dishonourable to their own characters and ruinous to their own interests—and that congress of the U. S. do hereby solemnly pledge themselves to the American people and to the world, to stand by and support the executive government, in its refusal to receive any further communications from the said Francis James Jackson, and to call into action the whole force of the nation, if it should become necessary, in consequence of the conduct of the executive government in this respect, to repel such insults, and to assert and maintain the rights, the honour, and the interests of the United States.

MR. GILES, from the same committee, all reported the following bill, which was read, and passed to a second reading:

Bill to prevent the abuse of the privileges and immunities enjoyed by foreign ministers within the United States.
Be it enacted, &c. That if any foreign ambassador, minister or other person, entitled to enjoy within the U. S. the privileges and immunities of a foreign minister, shall have committed, or may hereafter commit, any such offence as by the laws and usages of nations would justify the president of the United States in ordering such offending ambassador, minister, or other person aforesaid out of the district of Columbia, or out of the territories of the U. States; or in sending him to his sovereign, or to some place or territory within his sovereign's jurisdiction; in every such case where the president of the U. S. shall deem it proper and expedient to exercise his constitutional authority, in either of these respects he shall be, and is hereby authorized and empowered to cause a warrant to be issued and signed by the secretary of state, directed to any civil officer of the U. States, authorized to serve process, or any military officer under the authority of the U. States, commanding him to provide for and enforce the departure of such ambassador, minister or other person offending as aforesaid, taking due precautions to avoid improper or unnecessary violence in executing such warrant. And all officers, civil and military, under the authority of the U. S. are hereby required and enjoined to be obedient to such warrant. And in case any officer civil or military, to whom such warrant shall be directed, shall fail, refuse or unreasonably delay to execute the same, every officer so offending, shall be deemed guilty of a high misdemeanor, and shall be punished by fine and imprisonment: before any court of the U. S. having cognizance of the offence—provided, That the fine shall not exceed — dollars, nor the imprisonment be for a longer time than — years.

Mr. Giles gave notice, that he should call for the consideration of this subject on Thursday next.

FRIDAY, DEC. 8, 1809.

THE resolution of Mr. Giles, in relation to the conduct of Mr. Jackson, the late British minister, was taken up, and, after a speech of some length from its mover, was adopted with only two or three dissentient voices.

SENATE.

On Thursday last James Fenwick, Esq. of Charles county, was elected a senator in the senate of this state, in the room of William Somersell, Esq. resigned.

Yesterday evening arrived in the river the U. S. brig Stren, capt. Gordon. On anchoring she fired a salute, which was returned from Fort Severn.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

By the bog Robert 33 days from Tonnin-gen, arrived at Baltimore, the editor of the American has received a letter from the 27th Oct. from which it appears—That each between the two empires was signed on the 14th Oct. the next day Napoleon left schoolroom; he is expected to reside at Fontenabland in the middle of Dec when he will set out for Spain. The French evacuated Moravia, leaving 100,000 men in Austria until a general peace.—The Rulinans in Iceland had gained some advantages over the Turks. The latter had refused permission to the British fleets to pass through the Black Sea; and the British ambassador (Mr. Adair) was about to leave Constantinople.—The British retain possession of Walcheren.—The English having seized the tea and spices belonging to the East-India Company, and to individuals, the inhabitants resolved not to purchase of them. Tea is very high in Holland; at Copenhagen it fell since the peace between Russia and Sweden, from 21 to 17 marks.—J. Q. Adams, Esq. our minister to Russia, is said to be charged with a special mission to Denmark.

An arrival at Bost'n announces, that the British will not permit the trade to Tonnin-gen.

A Duel took place last week between Mr. John G. Jackson, of Virginia, and Mr. Pearson, of North Carolina, both of whom are members of the House of Representatives of the U. S. in consequence of a difference which arose between them during the late extra session of Congress whilst the subject relative to Miranda's men (who have since effected their escape from their confinement in Carthage) was under consideration. They exchanged 2 fires—Mr. Jackson received the second ball of his antagonist in or near the hip bone. It is supposed it will prove mortal. Mr. Pearson is in no way injured so far as we have been informed. Mr. Howard of Kentucky, avowed as Mr. Jackson's second, and Mr. Stephenson, of Virginia, as Mr. Pearson's. [Spirit of '76.]

A RACE OF PIGMIES.

On the 20th of April, Dr. Chisholm, laid before the Royal Society, London, some particulars respecting a race of pigmies, said to exist as a nation in the centre of the island of Madagascar. A M. Bardin, who had visited that island and spent 50 days among them, and who was in the French West Indies, had one of these beings preserved; it was a man, about 33 years of age, measuring only 32 inches, but perfectly proportionate in all his parts. A child of a year old was also preserved in spirits and measured one foot. These people are represented as being much fairer than the other natives, and of a bright copper colour; they are also said to be very ingenious, to be expert with bows and arrows, or javelins; and to be hospitable, humane and generous. One account states them to have long hair, and another short and woolly. They are also very numerous, M. Bardin having seen above 8000 in one town. The women are said to have little breasts, and almost to that the children are fed with cows milk. Dr. Chisholm who personally inspected and measured these preserved bodies concludes, that a pigmy race should no longer be considered as fabulous, and that such has now been discovered in Madagascar. Some other French voyagers have likewise mentioned the existence of these singular people.

Anne-Arundel County, sc.

ON application to me the subscriber, in the records of the court, as one of the associate judges for the third judicial district of Maryland, by petition, in writing, of William Wootton, of Anne-Arundel county, praying for the benefit of the act for the relief of sundry insolvent debtors, and the several supplements thereto, on the terms mentioned in the said acts, a schedule of his property, and list of his creditors, on oath, as far as he can ascertain them, being annexed to his petition; and the said William Wootton having satisfied me, by competent testimony, that he has resided in the state of Maryland two years immediately preceding the time of his application, I do hereby order and adjudge that the said William Wootton, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in the Maryland Gazette for three months successively before the first Monday in April next, to give notice to his creditors to appear before the county court on the third Monday in April next, for the purpose of recommending a trustee for their benefit, on the said William Wootton's then and there taking the oath by the said act prescribed for delivering up his property, and to show cause if any they have, why he, the said William Wootton, should not have the benefit of the several acts of assembly for the relief of insolvent debtors. Given under my hand this eleventh day of December, 1809. 1 1/2 3w

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN off from the subscriber, living on the north side of Severn river, Anne-Arundel county, (Maryland,) on the 28th day of Oct ber last, a negro man named ANTHONY, about 30 years of age, very tall & slim, has uncommonly long slim legs and feet, scarcely any beard, which he generally lets grow about his chin. The clothing he went off in is but light; to wit, a pair of linen trousers, a shirt, swan-down under jacket, an over jacket of London brown cloth, the remains of an old coat, he also had on a pair of half boots, I believe sharp toed, the whole nearly worn out, he went off bare headed, but it is probable he may thirt his cloaths and get a pass, as he has abundance of acquaintance in the neighbourhood of Annapolis and the south side of the river Severn, where he was seen lurking last week. He shows, hangs his head, and swings one of his hands much when walking; he is fond of strong drink, and a small quantity intoxicates him; when drunk he looks very wild, and shows the white of his eyes. He has a very long neck and is apt to wear his collar and breast open.
Whoever takes up and secures said fellow in any safe gaol, so that I get him again, if taken within ten miles of Annapolis, fifteen dollars will be given; if twenty-five miles, twenty-five dollars, and if further or in any adjacent county, thirty-five dollars will be given, and if taken out of the state the above reward and all reasonable charges paid if brought to Annapolis or Baltimore gaols, and lodged safe there.
