

BOSTON, JUNE 20.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

By an arrival yesterday we received London papers to the 14th May. They are not fruitful of events.

Excepting that the appointment of Mr. Morier, as secretary of legation to the U. States, had been gazetted, we had nothing on the subject of our relations with England.

Every thing remained quiet in England;—Burdett was in the tower, and his friends did not increase in Parliament. The great oppositionists, lords Grey and Grenville, had declared in favour of parliamentary privileges. The speaker of the commons had obtained leave to defend against Burdett's action.

A singular attempt had been made by the British government to induce Ferdinand the 7th to escape from his prison in France:—but he had refused to accede to it—had given information to his prison-keeper of the attempt, and had obtained the arrest of the agent; and had requested to be adopted as Napoleon's son.—So say the French papers. Circumstances tender the account of the attempt probable.

The English accounts from Cadiz are to the 1st May. They state the French approaches against it to be forward; and that they had taken fort Malagorda, on the N. E. side of the harbour. The city was well fortified, and had a strong garrison. An incessant cannonade was kept up by the besiegers & besieged. Their Lisbon accounts are not so late as ours. Massena was to command the invaders of Portugal, with Ney, Junot and Regnier under him.

Napoleon was making tours in company with his lovely empress, who was said to have acquired a commanding influence over him. They were visiting Antwerp. The Archduke Charles was becoming a favourite with Buonaparte; who had advanced him to the highest dignity in his legion of honour, & it was said, would make him king of Spain.

There were no indications of peace. A British fleet had arrived in the Baltic.

From papers by the schooner Resolution, Bates, from Plymouth, Eng.

Paris, April 29, 1810.

The minister of police, [Fouche,] has announced to the Emperor, that the commandant of the castle of Valantay has given information of the introduction into that castle of a Baron de Kelli, calling himself a Minister of England to Prince Ferdinand, [the legitimate king of Spain, a prisoner in that castle.] Kelli is now a prisoner in Vincennes. The diamonds, &c. of which he was the bearer, are deposited at the police office. [Here follows a letter from Ferdinand approving the Frenal Governor of the conduct of Kelli—Also a certificate of the Marquis Wellesley, as a credential for Kelli—Also a letter from the British king to Ferdinand, assuring the latter of his friendship and alliance, of the means employed to rescue Spain from her invaders, and exhorting him to escape from his sermitade. Then follows a letter from the governor of Valantay, giving an account of the celebration of the 1st April, in honour of the Emperor's marriage; at which the Spanish princes testified their joy on the event, and when Ferdinand 7th gave as a toast—"Our august sovereigns Napoleon the great, and Maria Louisa his august spouse"—and also a letter from Prince Ferdinand, declaring his wish to become the adopted son of Napoleon.]

On the examination of Kelli, he said he was Charles Leopold, Baron de Kelli, aged 32, a native of Ireland, and minister to Ferdinand 7th:—That he came to France with proper credentials and letters to Ferdinand; that he had funds with him to the amount of 800,000 francs; that his project was to effect the escape of Ferdinand from his confinement; by stationing relays of horses and carriages to the coast, where a squadron of 1 fail of the line, a frigate, a brig and a galliot, under Commodore Cockburne, were stationed to receive them:—That he was accompanied by M. de St. Donnel; that under pretence of having some curious articles [diamonds] to sell, he attempted to obtain an interview with Prince Ferdinand, in order to put into his hand the letters he was intrusted with; but that the Prince refused either to hear or see him; and he had reason to believe that he sent information of his proposals to the Governor of the castle, which occasioned his arrest.

London, May 14, 1810.

The Gazette contains gen. Graham's and capt. Maclaine's official account of the evacuation of the fort of Matagorda, situated on the main land opposite to Port Punta, in the inner harbour of Cadiz. It was garrisoned by 142 British soldiers and seamen, under capt. Maclaine. It stood a two months investment, and was a heap of ruins when left. The gallant defence cost us the lives of maj. Lefevre, of the engineers, and 15 privates; we also had a lieutenant, 2 midshipmen and 53 privates wounded.

The French papers are full of official accounts of actions and skirmishes in Spain; in at least half of which the Spaniards were the assailants; but who, as is always the case in the French accounts, were dispersed and cut to pieces.

Letters from Gibraltar state, that colonel Tilley and a French spy, had been sent from that garrison, to Cadiz to be tried. The reports of victory over the French in Catalonia, by general O'Donnel, are corroborated.

Our Squadron under sir James Saumarez, has safely arrived in the Baltic.

The emperor Napoleon is on a visit to Holland. On the 4th May king Louis set out to meet him.

We learn from Malta, that the sublime porte had given Mr. Adair the most positive assurances of the grand seignor's determination to maintain inviolate his alliance with G. Britain.

NORFOLK, JUNE 22.

A small French privateer of 4 guns and 50 men, anchored in Hampton Roads on Wednesday evening. It is said she is in distress, and that she landed upwards of 40,000 dollars in this place before she was boarded. Yesterday the Revenue Cutter brought her along side one of our frigates, where she is anchored. We also learn that she has many packages of dry goods on board.

THE ENSUING YEAR.

THE Farm now occupied by Mr. Baruch Fowler, called MILLER'S PLACE on SEVERN, within a few miles of Annapolis. For terms apply to Nicholas Swormstedt, living near the Lower Ferry on Patapsco.

NICHOLAS SWORMSTEDT: June 27th, 1810.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

ABSCONDED from the subscriber, on yesterday morning, a negro man named SOLOMON RODGERS, 22 years old, 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, black smooth skin, fine set of teeth, and round face; had on when he went away a blue cloth coat, thin cotton waistcoat, and dimity trousers, a tolerable good hat, and shoes and stockings; he also took other cloths with him that are not recollected. I am informed he went up to Baltimore in one of the Annapolis packets. He has two brothers living in Baltimore, who call themselves James and John Richardson, they are freemen, the former is employed in a lumber yard, and the latter as waiter to some gentleman in the city. Solomon is also well acquainted with a free black man named Ben Williams, who keeps a dray, and with the family of a mulatto man named Jerry Wats; with some or other of these people I am certain he may be found. I am inclined to believe that when interrogated he will say that I gave him permission to look out for another master, but the fact is not so, he went off entirely without my knowledge or consent; and I will give the above reward to any person who will apprehend and lodge him in Baltimore gaol, so that I get him again, and all legal expenses if brought home.

MORATIO RIDOUT:

Whitehall, near Annapolis, June 26, 1810.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, living on South River, near London-Town, on Saturday night, the 10th instant, a Negro Lad named JOHN; he is about five feet six or seven inches high, and about twenty years of age; his cloathing a top jacket and trousers of home made cloth, two ornabrig shirts, one white cotton do. a blue top jacket, and an old pair of shoes; he may have other cloths unknown to the subscriber. It is probable he will make for Montgomery county, where he has relations living; or to the City of Washington. Whoever takes up said Negro; and secures him in gaol, if within twenty miles shall receive Ten Dollars Reward; if over that distance the above Reward, and all reasonable charges paid if brought home.

Treasury Department.

May 23d, 1810.

WHEREAS in conformity with the provisions made by law for the reimbursement of the Exchanged Six Per Cent. Stock, created by the second section of the act, entitled, "An act, supplementary to the act, entitled, an act, making provision for the redemption of the whole of the public debt of the United States," passed on the 11th day of February, 1807, it has been determined by the commissioners of the sinking fund, that the residue of the principal of said stock should be reimbursed on the first day of January next; PUBLIC NOTICE is therefore given to the proprietors of the certificates of Exchanged Six Per Cent. Stock, created by the act aforesaid, that the principal of the whole amount of said stock, not heretofore reimbursed, will, on surrender of the certificates, be paid on the first day of January, 1811, to the respective stockholders, or their legal representatives, or attorneys duly constituted, either at the treasury or at the loan office where the stock thus to be reimbursed, may then stand credited to the proprietors thereof.

It is farther made known for the information of the parties concerned, that no transfers of certificates of Exchanged Six Per Cent. Stock from the books of the treasury, or of any commissioner of loans, will be allowed after the first day of December next; and that the interest of the whole amount of said stock will cease and determine on the day preceding the day hereby fixed for the reimbursement thereof. ALBERT GALLATIN, Secretary of the Treasury.

Capt. Dashiwood's observation to lady Peshall has been, that the foregoing chain of evidence must be founded in fact, as La France did not fall in with any vessel to make communication of the loss of her people, nor the event known but in his own ship, till she arrived at Jamaica in March; and the defence annexed was received by the persons quoted from between January and March. Again, therefore, this distressed and afflicted mother, conjures the individuals who may be attracted by this statement, to use exertion and aid inquiry in her unhappy cause; & should Heaven crown their humane efforts with success, they will communicate all that might be gained, with minute exactness, immediately, and send duplicates of their letters, to provide for loss of vessels and other contingencies.

Cure for the Toothach.

An eminent apothecary in the vicinity of London, has lately recommended, as an effectual cure for the toothach, the following remedy, which he has been in the habits of using for many years, and out of the number of cases eight-tenths have succeeded, viz. to take three table spoonfuls of Brandy; adding to it one drachm of camphor, with thirty or forty drops of laudanum, and then dropping a little upon some lint & applying it to the tooth affected, keeping the lint moist for five minutes only on the tooth and gum.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Holstein, to another in Baltimore, dated Tonningen, April 20.

"The insecurity of American property here, as well as the depression of prices, is every day greater; owing to the number of ships originally destined for this port, and now bound to St. Sebastian's warned off, the greater part of which must come here, afford most melancholy prospect indeed—and I cannot too much discourage any adventure in this market at present. The only exportation now permitted from this place, is by way of Kiel; and even there, it is said, the mouth of the harbour is blockaded by French privateers."

More British Friendship.

His Britannic majesty's sloop of war Atalanta, about the 1st of May, in the vicinity of the Western Islands, brought to the sch'r Mary of Boston, James Percival master, and after the schooner's gub and mainmast were hauled down the English officer, in a most unbecoming manner, run his vessel foul of said sch'r and stove in her broadside. The officer and crew of the sch'r after getting on board the sloop of war, requested the use of a boat to save their cloaths and a considerable amount of specie, from on board the schooner. They were insolently refused; at the same time their boat was ordered on board of a frigate then in company, with the news of this their most gallant and humane exploit!

Remarkable interference of Providence.

During the gulf on Sunday the 27th ult. a singular circumstance of Providential mercy took place in Halifax township, adjoining the plantation of Major William Moorhead. Mr. Francis Hunt, his wife, and five children, were seated in his house between the stove and fire-places. The lightning struck the house. The electric fluid descended through the stove-pipe, the shock of which immediately prostrated the whole family. They remained in that situation for some time; but have all recovered, except one of the girls, who is yet unable to walk, being considerably scorched.

What renders this circumstance remarkable, is, that two cats lying under the stove, and a hen that was in the room within a short distance of the family, were instantaneously killed. In this circumstance is most strikingly depicted the merciful interference of Divine Providence. How many of our fellow-citizens annually fall a sacrifice to this devouring element? And yet how many are miraculously rescued from its dangerous effects?
